"THE DISCIPLINE OF THE LORD"

Last weekend we heard how God had sent the prophet Jeremiah to the southern kingdom of Judea to bring His words of warning to surrender Jerusalem to the Babylonians that God may save Judea. This destruction of Jerusalem was an act of discipline by the Lord. King Zedekiah and the princes of Judea had rejected the Lord's words. They had turned their hearts away from God and offered to God worthless sacrifices, meaningless actions and empty words.

After Judea was led into exile in Babylon, God would send the prophet Isaiah to bring words of hope and encouragement to the faithful remnant. Followers, who even in exile, would offer to God heartfelt prayers and meaningful sacrifices, such as observing the dietary laws. God speaks through Isaiah and explains how this disciplining by God will bring about a renewal among God's chosen people. God will use the exile, the dispersion of the Northern Kingdom of Israel by the Assyrians and the Southern Kingdom of Judea by the Babylonians, to reveal His glory to the many nations. The small clusters of faithful children of Abraham would inspire others to come to know God and believe in Him. They would share the stories of how God worked wonders and signs among their ancestors and yes, they would also humbly admit that God used their enemies to discipline them when their leaders and nation had rejected God and placed their trust in other gods.

In today's gospel (Luke 13:22-30) Jesus is teaching the people and he includes a story about the judgment and salvation. Jesus speaks about being strong enough to enter through the narrow gate. Jesus also speaks about those who will stand knocking at the door and the master's comment from within; "I do not know where you are from. Depart from me, all you evildoers!" These comments by Jesus reveal the truth that salvation is not automatic. That we must avoid evil, the leaven that can affect the whole batch of dough and we must do good. Some of the people will object to being locked out and say to the master; "We ate and drank in your company and you taught in our streets." But the truth remains. While they were blessed by the master and given the opportunity to learn from him, they did not learn and follow the master's example of kindness, generosity, mercy and yes, even discipline?

The letter to the Hebrews reminds us that God our Father's discipline leads us to eternal life and we should embrace it's lessons with joy and peace.
