A special Thank You to all 18 people, including some of our Youth Group members, who came out last Saturday morning to help clean up Holy Angels Cemetery. Many hands make light work and we were able to get lots of branches and winter debris picked up and now the cemetery is in great shape for the warmer weather and mowing season.

Jesus' commandment is that His disciples love one another, even to the point of laying down their lives, if necessary. What gifts of myself — my skills and talents, my time and resources — will demonstrate my love for God's people?

Dear Friends

Dear Friends,

To all of our mothers, stepmothers, grandmothers, foster mothers, godmothers and mother figures in our lives a very Happy Mother's Day!

It was 34 years ago today that I was ordained to the priesthood. Prior to ordination you are required to take a retreat to spiritually prepare yourself for the receiving of the Sacrament of Holy Orders.

My retreat was at Stella Maris Retreat Center on Skaneateles Lake, which if I understand correctly, is now closed. My retreat director was a wonderful nun from Hawaii. The spiritual exercise she gave me for the week I was there, was to contemplate my journey of faith that had brought me to the priesthood.

During that time of reflection, I thought of the many people in my life who were examples of faith to me. A number of them were the women in my life, not the least of which being my mother. Her life could be read as something from a Charles Dickens novel. She lost her parents and youngest brother within the span of nine months when she was only 13. I will not go into all the details, but her life that followed was not an easy one. What amazed me was that she had every opportunity to turn from God and be angry at the hand she was dealt, but instead she clung to her faith and drew strength from it.

As I grew in my own understanding of God in my life, I was aware that it was that strength that I wanted. I did not become a priest to please my mother – far from it. To be honest, it was a journey that I fought. The only way I can explain it is that sometimes the thing you fight the most becomes the thing you love the most.

When it was announced that my ordination was going to be on the same weekend as Mother's Day, there were a few women in the parish who made it known they were not happy that I was stealing their thunder. I had no control over who chose the date. I was simply told it would be that weekend.

So, in light of being mindful of my mother's journey, and several other women in my life whose faith impressed me, it was at my first Mass that before giving my final blessing, I called my mother forth and asked for her blessing, because of what I learned from her about having a relationship with God.

There were those who told me afterward that it was inappropriate, and I believe someone even said it looked "corny." Others commented that being Mother's Day weekend it was a nice thing to do. All I know is that I have no regrets that I was given the opportunity to honor my mother that way. God bless,

Fr. John

PS. Thanks to all the volunteers who helped clean up Holy Angels Cemetery, sorry I was unable to be there.

Father John
HAPPY ANNIVERSARY

on your 34 years of priesthood

Ministry Scheduler Pro

We have posted a new ministers schedule for June 1—Sept 5th. Please go in to the Ministry Scheduler Pro website or the app and make sure to update all of your preferences and sign up for any open services where you are able to help. We are currently scheduling only Communion Ministers, Lectors, Sacristans, Ushers/Greeters, Cleaners and Money Counters. We need people to sign up at all the Masses to help out where they can. We are very grateful for everyone's help and support. As always, if you have any questions or need help updating your profile, please call the church office.

Are You a Green Thumb?

We are looking for a few volunteers that can dedicate some time to the garden and flowers at St. Vincent's. This would include weeding on a regular basis, deadheading, and general clean up. If you are interested in learning more, please contact Allison at the office: 294-3085.
