TWENTY-SIXTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The life of following Jesus is often expressed not in big gestures, but in small acts that reveal him to those around us.

“Woe to the complacent in Zion!” warns Amos. We could say, “Woe to the complacent,” period. To be complacent is to be pleased with the status quo, focused on self, without any regard for others. When an election does not go as we expect, we blame complacency. When change in an organization does not occur, complacency. When we are complacent, we are full of ourselves, too lazy to get up and do something, period.

The rich man ignored Lazarus. He was complacent. He was the center of his life and isn't even named. He asked Abraham to send someone to his brothers to motivate them. Abraham states that they have what they need and won't “be persuaded if someone should rise from the dead.” Those words are still true. We have Jesus yet resist calls from Pope Francis to welcome immigrants and refugees and to care for people living in poverty or prison. We resist calls to care for the unborn, provide equal treatment to all, regardless of our differences, or discuss what might stem violence.

What is the antidote to complacency? “Pursue righteousness, devotion, faith, love, patience, and gentleness” (1 Timothy 6:11). St. Francis de Sales calls these the “little virtues.” When we pursue them, we look up to God and out beyond ourselves. The “little virtues” call us to pay attention to details. So does Pope Francis: “A community that cherishes the little details of love, whose members care for one another and create an open and evangelizing environment, is a place where the risen Lord is present, sanctifying it in accordance with the Father’s plan.” (Evangelii Gaudium, 144) Live the “little virtues,” avoid complacency, and love as Jesus loved. 2019 World Library Publications

The Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts have been a part of our parish history for many years. The programs help to guide boys in a positive direction. The cubs have helped with yard clean up here at OLMC and also have an annual project to beautify neglected graves in our cemetery-with special emphasis on the veterans' graves. The Cub pack is currently looking for caring and responsible adults who will give a few hours to be part of the advisory and leadership teams. A committee chairperson is needed as well as a treasurer and committee members. These roles do not require attendance at weekly pack meetings, but are more behind the scenes. We are also in need of den leaders or assistant den leaders. These positions would help lead and plan den activities and require attendance at our weekly meetings (Thursday nights) . For job descriptions or additional information please contact Shari Mullen at cubscoutpack252bsa@gmail.com. Thank you for your consideration.

THANK YOU to all who baked and bought for our annual Grape Festival Bake Sale. We made $1304.00!! All proceeds will benefit the youth attending the National Youth Convention in November. Thank you!

Dear Parishioners, There are moments in our lives in which we might say "I'm living the good life." There is nothing wrong with having a time when that is true, however, those experiences do not last forever. While we might think that the times when life is good are long-lasting, but there are always moments in our own lives and in the lives of others when life can be bad, very bad. The parable of the rich man and Lazarus paints a powerful teaching about the need to help those who suffer. Lazarus begged everyday outside the door of the rich man, so the man must have seen the suffering of Lazarus. He decides that he will live the good life, while Lazarus was suffering. would find relief and healing in eternal life. May we always recognize the Lazarus' in our lives, and find ways to alleviate their suffering.

The Festival of Grapes was, as always, a great event. We began the celebration with the blessing of grape farmers and grapes at the Tuesday morning Mass. Our youth held a bake sale on Saturday, and we had volunteers working at the bake sale on Sunday. All of the proceeds of the Saturday and Sunday bake sales will go to our youth for the National Youth Convention at Indianapolis, Indiana. Thank you for all the donations of baked goods, especially the grape pies and other grape desserts. We sold out of baked goods earlier than last year.

I met with my surgeon on Monday the 23rd of September. I will be having robotic surgery to remove my cancer. I have to go for an MRI first, and then they can schedule the operation. They said that I can have the surgery as early at mid-November. The timing is not great for a couple of reasons. First, it's an important time of year with Advent and Christmas, and second, finding a priest to replace me is quite a challenge. I will keep you posted, Fr. Dan.

Thank you for your support of your Parish.
