STEWARDSHIP MOMENT: THE TWENTY-SECOND SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

In the Gospel & the first reading this week, there is an emphasis on humility. Sirach writes, "conduct your affairs with humility." In Psalm 68, the psalmist proclaims, "God gives a home to the forsaken." In the Gospel, Jesus reminds us that we should not seek the best seat at the banquet table. This is not merely a lesson in manners, but a challenge to check our egos at the door. A good steward lives and serves as if he or she serves Jesus. Serving with humility does not require payback or recognition. Good stewards are humbly aware of the source of their gifts and share generously without counting the cost. In this parable Jesus challenges us to see ourselves differently. You might reflect on whether you see yourself as better than those who are in need.

ENTER THE MYSTERY OF THE CATHOLIC FAITH
 Adults who desire to explore Catholicism, whether baptized or not, whether confirmed or not, are welcome to participate in RCIA, the Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults. We will gather on Tuesday evenings at St Pat's 7-8:30PM beginning on September 17th. Please contact Stephanie at the rectory for more information for yourself or a friend.

"Rather, when you hold a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, the blind; blessed indeed will you be because of their inability to repay you. For you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous." - Lk 14:13-14
