Gospel Reflection

Ezekiel, Paul, Jesus. Today's Scriptures set before us these three prophetic voices. The spirit sends Ezekiel to preach a challenging word to the rebellious Israelites, that they might know "a prophet has been among them." The Apostle Paul reflects on the suffering he endures in preaching Christ to the world, but concludes he is content with the hardships, "for when I am weak, then I am strong." Jesus goes home to his "native place" to teach in the synagogue.

We are told the folks there took "offense" at his preaching. The Greek word here means "stumbling block." They could not imagine someone who grew up poor, like them, having such knowledge, such wisdom. Mark's gospel doesn't tell us what Jesus had to say, but Luke's gospel reports that Jesus preached liberation for the oppressed, for people like themselves. And so they took "offense" at him because they could not envision another way to live.

When was the last time you heard someone speak with a "prophetic voice," especially about difficult and challenging issues? On those rare occasions when it happens, you know you need to pay attention. You are hearing someone who is imagining a different way to solve one of the many problems facing our world... whether the issue be climate change or racism, poverty or immigration, mass incarceration, gun violence, or poverty.

Prophetic voices are not always welcome, for many reasons. They make us uncomfortable. Many issues of justice boil down to this: what do I or my group have to give up, by way of power or money or influence, to make this change happen? The answer to this question can be a non starter for many. Prophetic voices can be dangerous to the status quo. Many are silenced. Abraham Lincoln, Martin Luther King Jr., the Kennedys, the El Salvatore martyrs, Bishop Oscar Romero, Jesus, to name just a few.

Perhaps today's Scriptures will inspire us to pray for such voices during this season of political discourse. That might take an act of God, but we can only hope. In the meantime, perhaps we should dare to find our own voice on matters that could touch on the liberation of the oppressed. We know who they are.

They are in our midst, in our city, in our neighborhoods, in our schools, in our prisons. Let us pray for a prophetic imagination that will help us all envision and work for another way—God's way—to live.

Journey Together for Justice

The seven principles of Catholic Social Teaching are often called the best kept secret of our church. It's not that we Catholics don't do lots of things in terms of outreach and advocacy. It's just that we are not as familiar with what the American Bishops have had to say about our what our priorities should be when working for a just world. To that end, a newly re-forming "Journey Together for Justice" committee has sent out a survey based on the above seven principles. Its purpose is two-fold: to discover your understanding and interest in Catholic Social Teaching, and to invite a younger generation of Catholic Christians to get involved in doing God's work of justice in our world. To that end, PLEASE respond to the questionnaire when it comes your way! For more information, please email Maureen Capellas at mcapellas@sthilarychurch.org.

Social Action

SVDP Collection July 6 & 7

We will be accepting donations at the masses on July 6 and 7. Look for the bins at the church entrances. Thanks to all those who donated earlier in the year. We are happy to take any donation, but this month the items we are most in need of are canned fruit, canned vegetables, pasta and pasta sauce, pancake syrup and peanut butter. Please check the expiration dates since dispose of anything that is expired. Our neighbors in need really appreciate your generosity.

Donate your Sports Equipment!

Not sure what to do with outgrown or unwanted sports items? Fully Equipped is a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization based in Akron, Ohio. They partner with underfunded local schools to better equip young men and women for success in classrooms, extra curricular activities and life. High School and Elementary student athletes participation is often hindered in many lower income communities due to inadequate resources, lack of funding and disbelief in the value of sports. The current needs include new or clean, gently used athletic gear (shorts, tshirts, cleats, shoes, sock, etc.) and monetary donations for equipment (wrestling mat, weight room equipment, etc.). Please place donations in the bin in the Donation Hallway in the Spiritual Center. Any questions, please contact: Pam—330-323-4865; Mark—330-323-8449

Donations needed for Emergency Foster Care Diaper Bags

Please consider donating much needed baby items to be placed in 50 diaper bags that will be filled and donated to Summit County Children Services. Items needed: Diapers, wipes, swaddle blankets, baby bottles, baby shampoo and lotion, baby wash clothes, pacifiers, board books or teething toy. Items may be placed in the pack and plays in the front entrance and Spiritual Center. This is a service project organized by Katie Mostoller toward her Girl Scout Gold Award. Please call Katie with any questions at 330-634-4456.

St. Hilary Safety Team

St. Hilary's Safety Team is currently looking to increase our ranks as we are running out of volunteers to cover all weekend Masses. You do not need to be hands on or even be trained if you choose not to. We simply would like those who are willing to join us to be aware of their surroundings, make a phone call, direct help, or retrieve a First Aid bag. If interested or if you have any questions, please contact Joan Heegan at 330-867-1055, ext. 200 or jheegan@sthilarychurch.org; or Knute Galbraith at 330-472-3577 or kwg270@gmail.com. Together we can make a difference!

(PRACTICING) CATHOLIC

A Prophet and His Native Place

"A prophet is not without honor except in his native place." It could be the slogan of high school reunions everywhere.

I speak from experience — I didn't go to my high school reunion, but I do live in the same area in which I grew up. Ghosts from the past lurk in every grocery aisle and gas station. Former classmates fill my prescriptions at the pharmacy. I am always sure to see an old teacher or two at the Fourth of July parade.

If my teenage self knew that this was her future, she would be horrified. She wanted to grow up and move away, not because she didn't like living in this town, but because she wanted to reinvent herself. And you can't reinvent yourself in your native place. In your hometown, you'll always be exactly what you are — no more, no less.

The same was true for Jesus, who was probably the only person actually worthy of admiration at his high school reunion. When he returned to his native place, he was what he had always been — God and man, Messiah, miracle-worker. This is not something he became, it was always within him.

But the people of Nazareth cannot accept it. Why?

Well, probably for the same reason that I wanted to reinvent myself when I was 16. We don't often see anything worth venerating in the "right now" of our lives. We think happiness is a promotion or a pay bump away. We think we'll finally be holy when we find the time to take that silent retreat. We think we will be beautiful when we lose ten pounds.

The Nazarenes lived with God right under their noses, and they didn't realize it. So, when he came in all his greatness, the dissonance was too much to bear, and they rejected him. They didn't want that God — the one they had dismissed or overlooked or ignored. They wanted a different one. A shinier one. One that didn't look like the "right now" of their lives.

But that's where God is, folks. He's in the right now, and nowhere else. He's waiting there for you, with all the happiness, holiness, and beauty your life needs.

*Jesus said to them, "A prophet is not without honor except in his native place and among his own kin and in his own house."
— Mark 6:4*

Why do we do that?

Catholic Life Explained

Question:

In Year B, we hear primarily from the Gospel of Mark. Since each Evangelist has a unique perspective, what are the key issues that Mark addresses in his Gospel?

Answer:

Gospels are a particular faith community's reflection on Jesus. Each Gospel's author reflected that community's faith in Jesus. Jesus' message is made relevant to the community's situation and context. Mark was the first Gospel to be written. When Matthew and Luke wrote theirs, they imitated and adapted Mark for their communities.

Mark's Gospel seems to be addressed to a faith community undergoing turmoil, rejection, and persecution—forces that threaten to overwhelm them. This provides the context around which Mark fashions the story of Jesus. He presents Jesus as the One sent by God to confront the forces of evil. That is the good news of Jesus.

Jesus' struggle with the demonic forces leads to confrontation, rejection, outright opposition, and a conspiracy to do away with him. Realizing this, Jesus is not deterred. Rather Jesus calls for total faith in God who helps us to overcome the forces of evil. Suffering and even death seem to be the consequences of this struggle. Yet, that is not the end. The one who suffers for the sake of others, the suffering servant, will be the one through whom redemption and salvation will come to all. For Mark, this is what discipleship demands and what true faith in God can and will accomplish. See if you can detect these themes as you read Mark's Gospel.
