Happy New Year!

God, thank you for a new year. May everyone in our family be willing to begin anew with a clean slate. We know that you are always ready to forgive us. Help us to be willing to forgive ourselves and to forgive one another.

As we begin a new year, remind us of our truest values and our deepest desires. Help us to live in the goodness that comes from doing what you want us to do. Help us to put aside anxiety about the future and the past, so that we might live in peace with you now, one day at a time.

Gospel Reflection

Reflecting on the Scriptures

Last week we celebrated the birth of Jesus. In today's gospel he is twelve years old. Along with the account of the flight into Egypt for safety, these are the only scriptural pictures we have of the whole family together...Mom, Dad and the Boy. I guess that's why scripture scholars refer to this time in Jesus's story as the Hidden Life. We have no other information about their life in Nazareth before Jesus's public ministry.

If our last picture of the Holy Family was the Bethlehem scene we would be missing some interesting details. We would be missing a possible, "No, he's not with me! I thought he was with you!" and "Son, why have you done this to us? Your father and I have been looking for you with great anxiety!" Ah, the real stuff of family life...Misunderstanding... failure to communicate...the curiosity and adventure of children in face of the protectiveness and anxiety of parents. Been there, done that...More than once.

Remember, our faith tells us that all three of these people, including the son, are fully human. Have you ever known any "tweens"? Leaving childhood behind they stretch toward adulthood, toward independence and their place in the world. And so it is with this young boy.

Yet, the gospel says, "He went down with them and came to Nazareth, and was obedient to them...and (Jesus) advanced in wisdom and age and favor before God and man." It is this holy, ordinary family which becomes the sacred ground in which Jesus is nurtured to adulthood.

Years ago when my parish staff responsibilities included some pre-confirmation interviews with eighth graders, I often asked the students how they would describe "holy" and if they knew anyone they saw as holy. Of course, they often cited a grandparent who attended Mass during the week, "even when they didn't have to!" But I was amazed at the number of times students said that they saw their parents as holy. Usually it was because of the way their parents cared daily for the family or the way they saw their parents reaching out to help others beyond the family circle. I think those kids were onto something.

For it is in the family that love is learned and first practiced. And it is in this practice of love that we most often see holiness in ordinary clothes, so ordinary that we may miss it. Let us pray that all families realize their potential to be sacred ground.

Pat Schnee

The Challenge & Spirituality of Catholic Social Teaching Book Study

Did you know that we, as Catholics, are called to put the poor and vulnerable first, to protect the dignity of workers, and to care for our planet? Many of us are familiar with Catholic teaching on human life, but that is not where our responsibilities end. Catholic social teaching provides a framework for building a just society and living a life of holiness in the modern world. Catholic social teaching is centered around seven principles: Life and dignity of the human person; Call to family, community, and participation; Rights and responsibilities; Option for the poor and vulnerable; The dignity of work and the rights of workers; Solidarity; Care for God's creation. Please join us for a book study of The Challenge and Spirituality of Catholic Social Teaching by Marvin L. Krier Mich on Wednesdays from 1:00 PM to 2:30 PM starting January 22, 2025. To register, contact Maureen Capellas at 330-867-1055, extension 217, or mcapellas@sthilarychurch.org.

Parents of Priests Seminary Calendar

The Parents of Priests Organization of our Cleveland Diocese works to support the needs of the seminarians at Borromeo and St. Mary Seminaries in many ways, including financial and spiritual support. One of the ways that members of the Diocese, and especially our parish can also assist these men is through their spiritual support. This week's bulletin contains an insert with a calendar for the next two months. Each day is designated for one of the 54 seminarians as well as our Pope, Bishops, Clergy, and other related intentions. Please use this insert and keep it in a place where you can see it each day and thoughtfully say a prayer of support for the name listed on that day. Pray also for those who are discerning a vocation.
