From The Pastor

Greetings,

Last weekend must have been designated as the weekend for priests to come down with COVID. Fr. Bozek and I were asked to help cover at a couple of parishes where priests were out of commission for having tested positive.

I had the wonderful opportunity of celebrating Mass over at Sts. Peter and Paul in Doylestown where our former parochial vicar, Fr. Peter Morris, has recently taken over the reigns. As it turns out, Cameron Ferrel, the seminarian who lived at St. Sebastian for a spell and whose home parish just happens to be St. Peter and Paul, was serving. I saw that the next Mass that Sunday was to be celebrated by Fr. Cameron Popik from St. Hilary. Fr. Bozek drove north to St. John Neumann to fill in there for their 11:30 Mass. It puts one in mind of what things could look like if we don't do a better job of promoting vocations.

A priest who works with promoting vocations to the priesthood recently said, "The vocations are out there! Young men are not only asking questions but asking the right questions and see something desirable in the life. The biggest obstacle right now is lack of significant support. There is no doubt that our culture is not supportive of priestly vocations but that is easy to overcome. The big hurdle to get over is the lack of support from family, friends and other Catholics."

I was fortunate in that I had a lot of support to at least consider the priesthood growing up even when I wasn't seriously thinking about it. I remember as a very young server being stopped coming off of the altar by (what at least seemed to be at the time) women of a certain age who would give me a dollar and say that I would make a good priest. There were friends, among whom was Cathy Paparella who many of you remember, who supported my forays into thinking about the priesthood. And while I had one supportive parent, my father was at least not opposed to the idea. As it takes a village to raise a child, it takes a whole parish to form a priest (or religious.)

Please pray for vocations. Please support those who are discerning. Please mention the possibility to some young person that you think may have a Church vocation. It means more than you know for a young person to be told that someone thinks they are worthy (even if they seem cold to the idea!)

The best time to plant a tree is ten years ago. This past summer I finally went over to Forest Lodge Park and dug up some oak seedlings to plant on our property. If I had done that ten years ago, imagine what trees we would have now! It is the same thing with vocations. Let us begin now so that in ten years we may have mighty oaks in the making.

And if you are such a young person and are concerned that you are not worthy or talented enough. You are right! Nobody is! I'm not. But Jesus is. His Holy Spirit will act where you are deficient. He doesn't ask you to be great, just faithful. Let Him be great through you. Because if not you then who?

God bless,

Fr. Valencheck

Why Was Jesus Baptized?

Have you ever wondered, “Why did Jesus need to be baptized?” We know from Luke’s gospel that John’s baptism was a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins (Luke 3:3). Since Jesus had no sin, why does He go to John to be baptized? What does Jesus’ baptism reveal about his mission and identity? The Catechism of the Catholic Church comes to our aid as we wrestle with these questions.

In paragraph 536 of the Catechism we read, “The baptism of Jesus is on His part the acceptance and inauguration of His mission as God’s suffering Servant. He allows Himself to be numbered among sinners; He is already ‘the Lamb of God, who takes away the sin of the world.’” Jesus’ act of humble submission to John’s baptism is a sign of His submission and total acceptance of the Father’s mission. The Catechism is inviting us to view Jesus’ baptism in light of His passion and death.

The Catechism points us to the figure of the suffering Servant as an interpretive key to answer our second question, “What does Jesus’ baptism reveal about His mission and identity?” Jesus takes on the identity of the suffering Servant beginning in His baptism. He chooses to be associated with the wicked who come to John for baptism and to take upon Himself our guilt.

John the Baptist is the one who first makes this connection between Jesus and the suffering Servant.

The baptism of Jesus is commonly seen as the beginning of His public ministry in the synoptic gospels. It is in His baptism that Jesus assumes the mission of the suffering Servant who will heal His people through His suffering and death. Jesus’ baptism marks the beginning of a journey that will ultimately lead Him to the Cross. At His baptism, Jesus sets the tone for His entire ministry and mission.

If you feel stuck in sin, the messiness of life, or your own brokenness—do not lose hope! Jesus shows us in His baptism that He doesn’t stand aside and watch as sinners struggle toward healing and holiness. May the Holy Spirit give us the strength to welcome Jesus into the difficult places in our hearts and allow us to experience the transforming love of God as we celebrate the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord this Sunday.

Sharing Secrets

The Legion of Mary, Our Lady of Humility, shares from The Secret of the Rosary by St. Louis Marie de Montfort. The saint writes of 50 “Roses” or secrets of the Most Holy Rosary.

From the Thirty-Sixth Rose:

A woman from Anvers was freed from enslavement to Satan, after she sought out the Mercy of God and turned to Mary for assistance. The poor woman had lost her soul to the devil after she signed a contract with him. She then felt remorse immediately but struggled to confess to a priest as she was met by the devil in disguise several times along the way. By God’s Divine Providence, she did eventually meet with a priest and made a good confession. The Blessed Mother even had the devil return the contract to her. By the authority of Mary and devotion to the Most Holy Rosary she was made free.

Family Perspectives

When Jesus came to John to be baptized, John resisted because of his own unworthiness. Jesus insisted and John obeyed. We, too, must not let our unworthiness stand in the way of the Lord’s leading. False humility does not serve the Lord. Listen, obey and see what God will do.

Catechetical Corner

Today we celebrate the Baptism of the Lord. It is the official liturgical close to the Christmas season and serves to launch us into Ordinary Time where we will be considering the public ministry of our Lord. At His baptism, Jesus experienced the anointing of the Holy Spirit descending on Him as a dove and the voice of the Father proclaiming Him the beloved Son in whom He is pleased. As we reflect on our own baptisms we see something similar. The Holy Spirit comes into our lives and the Father makes us His own dear children. Because Christ blessed water at His baptism, blessed water now cleanses us from sin and makes us the sons and daughters of God in our baptisms. Use today's feast to be an opportunity to reflect on the blessings that flow from your baptism. Be sure to thank God for the amazing gifts He is still giving!

Have a question you would like to see addressed in the Catechetical Corner? Send to Keith Johnson at johnsonk@stsebastian.org.

COVID support from The Foundation

The Helen Barry Hamlin Library Fund supported remote learning with the purchase of audio/video equipment in the fall of 2020. The upgrades included new sound bars, XD microphones, and document cameras for each classroom. The new equipment provided significant and timely improvements for the learning environment for all of our students, especially those who chose the school's remote learning option during the pandemic.

The St. Gabriel Fund was established to fund the purchase of “live-streaming” equipment for masses, weddings, funerals, concerts and more. The fund also provides ongoing support for maintenance and purchases such as licensing fees. Initiated in 2020 during the pandemic, the St. Gabriel Fund provided crucial funding for the establishment of the parish's broadcasting systems, which helped the parish stay connected and minister to its parishioners.

Chalk the Walk 2020 #weGiveCatholic

The proceeds for this year's 2020 #weGiveCatholic effort, “Chalk the Walk,” were designated for the repair and restoration of the beautiful, original sandstone walkways around our school and rectory. Thanks also to the students who decorated the sandstone walkways with messages written in chalk and starred in special video messages for the project.
