LIVE THE LITURGY

When the greeting “Peace be with you” is sincerely offered to a person, it can resonate very deep within, bringing comfort and reassurance. When someone possesses the power to bring peace, it brings us to a place of safety and fills us with joy. The resurrected Christ has this power. God can open our minds so that we can more fully understand the meaning of Sacred Scripture and God’s compassionate, loving, tender, and untiring embrace constantly present and offered to people throughout history. Without the anchor of truth that only God can provide, we can easily become startled and terrified at the sight of what life brings us. Being open to God’s offer of peace, we can turn away from old habits and short-sighted vision and experience the gladness and joy of God’s gift. Only then can what is wounded and broken be mended and reconciliation achieved. We are the resurrection witnesses called to proclaim the Good News.

Eliza Rose Bellissimo, daughter of Nico Antony and Alaina Marie (Sosko) Bellissimo. May God Bless your family and friends.

PARISH SHARE UPDATE:

The 2021 Parish Share materials were recently mailed to all households. If you did not receive yours, please call the parish office at 724-758-4411 Ext. 110. Many of you have sent in your contribution to the Parish Share program and we thank you for your generosity. For your information, the small segment of the card is for your records and both of the other cards must be completed and returned to Parish Office. The balance of your pledge can be paid monthly up until January 2022. If you are making a payment, please make the check for the amount given. Do not add your other contributions in the same check. The Diocese will send monthly reminders of the balance due. Any amount of money we collect over our assessment of $118,930.00 remains in our parish. This money is not subject to the 17.6% assessment by the Diocese. For that reason, giving to the Parish Share Program is a wonderful way to keep our Parish programs flourishing. Prayer For Our Seminarians

Dearest Heavenly Father, the Church founded upon the faith of the apostles, the blood of the holy martyrs and the courage of the saints, leads all believers from our earthly pilgrimage to our heavenly home.

Through the Priesthood of your Son, the faithful participate in the mysteries of salvation by Word and Sacrament. You call some men to serve the Church as priests, to be teachers of the Faith, proclaimers of the Word, and celebrants of the Holy Eucharist.

We pray for the seminarians of the Diocese of Pittsburgh who, by a great act of faith, are discerning your Providential Call to the Priesthood of Jesus Christ. May they be open to your will and respond graciously and generously to the needs of the Church.

May our diocesan family continue to receive your blessings as we advance the cause of the Gospel and manifest your Kingdom in all we say and do.

We ask this through Christ our Lord. Amen.

How to Fail Your Way to Heaven

You know what are some of my favorite moments in Scripture? The little "Easter eggs" of Jesus' humanity, things like Jesus falling asleep, Jesus drawing in the sand, Jesus playing with kids. And how about Jesus rising from the dead, appearing to his disciples and saying, "So, have you got anything to eat?" It's right for us to always keep in mind that Jesus is God. But we also have to remember that he was man. He got hungry. He cried when he felt sad and laughed when he felt happy. He got tired. He got bored. Because he was God, none of those feelings ever led him into sin, like they do us. He never spent a car ride trying to pass the hours by seeing how annoyed he could make his older sister. He never smacked Peter over the head for saying something really stupid. But he did unleash some Biblically righteous anger on those traders in the temple, didn't he? And he wasn't shy about calling Peter "a Satan" when his friend tempted him to take the easy way out. It's the tightrope walk we all try to balance every day, honoring our human emotions while still answering God's call to be better. Being perfect isn't the domain of the Christian — that's the domain of Christ only. Trying and failing, then trying again (and failing again) and again and again? That's the domain of the Christian.

Third Sunday of Easter

We often act out of ignorance. Armed with the best of intentions, we think we are seeing clearly and correctly, but we are not. We don't always understand the full meaning of things and only perceive part of the truth. Hence, our judgments and actions can be impaired by myopic, incomplete or erroneous perceptions. The meaning of life, understanding of human experience, and negotiating life's challenges can all become skewed without proper understanding and vision. The resurrection of Christ is the corrective to our incomplete and limited view of life. Looking at things with the eyes of faith brings a depth of clarity and understanding to how we see God, ourselves, others, and the world.

Even the disciples struggled with their limited understanding and ignorant perceptions. It was only when Jesus opened their minds to understand the Scriptures that their eyes were opened. It was their "aha" moment when everything clicked. We all want the substance of our lives to come together, make sense, and have meaning. This is easier to achieve when things are going positively and life is good. It is when suffering, disappointment, death, hardship, and injustice enter the picture that things can become unsettled and disoriented. Our faith in the goodness and love of God is tested. We tend to shift our focus on these difficult and challenging moments and do not see them within the greater picture of how God intends life to unfold. We can gain, from the passion and resurrection of Christ, the clear vision we need in order to move away from ignorance to enlightenment.

We need our "aha" moment when everything comes together and clicks. It can come in a fleeting instant when we feel totally connected with God, where we find ourselves, others and all of creation. It is a moment when all is right and good, regardless of how difficult our journey. Our "aha" moment assures us that God is here, right with us, in us and around us bringing us a gift and blessing we can receive nowhere else: peace. In those brief sacramental encounters when we are lifted up out of ourselves and centered, we can hear God say, "peace be with you," and we feel secure. It's all okay. The resurrected Christ has the power to bring this gift to us. Some people, as they are facing their deaths, remark about this peace. When looking into the window of eternity, they experience a depth of joy and are amazed at God's goodness and closeness. We are called to be witnesses to this Good News.

Confession & First Communion

Do children need to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation before their First Communion?

For centuries the Catholic Church has taught that a person needs to be in a state of grace (free from mortal sins) in order to worthily receive the Eucharist. To that end, Catholics should make an effort to celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation any time they recognize the need for the sacrament (and in keeping with the precept of the Church that asks that we celebrate this sacrament at least once each year).

In the case of children preparing for their First Communion, the Code of Canon Law is very clear that they should also celebrate the Sacrament of Reconciliation before receiving the Eucharist for the first time: "It is the responsibility, in the first place, of parents and those who take the place of parents as well as of the pastor to see that children who have reached the use of reason are correctly prepared and are nourished by the divine food as early as possible, preceded by sacramental confession" (Canon 914).

While some might question the significance of the Sacrament of Reconciliation — especially in the case of children who might not fully understand the reality of sin or the meaning of the sacrament itself — a child's "First Confession" can be a wonderful time for families to reflect together on the quality of their relationships, how they put their faith into practice, and, when it is possible, to celebrate the sacrament as a family. In the end, the celebration of these two sacraments marks important moments in the spiritual journeys of children and we hope their "First Confession" and "First Communion" help instill in them a love of the sacraments of the Church.

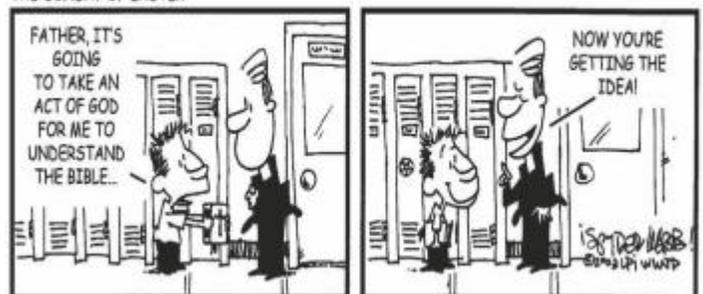

Lighter Side

Who was the greatest female financier in the Bible? Pharaoh's daughter. She went down to the bank of the Nile and drew out a little prophet.

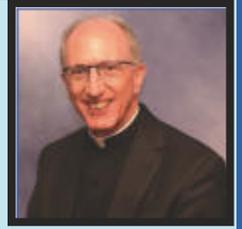

During his children's sermon, our assistant pastor asked the kids, "What is gray, has a bushy tail, and gathers nuts in the fall?"

One five-year-old raised his hand, "I know the answer should be Jesus," he began, "but it sounds like a squirrel to me."

3RD SUNDAY OF EASTER

A Plan or an Accident?
Fr. Philip N. Farrell

Every once in a while, something will happen in our lives outside of our control that just seems to be exactly what we needed, and all we can say is, "I couldn't have planned it better." Is it an accident? Is it a freak occurrence? Or is it something more? At other times, we can work really hard at something, and no matter how hard we try, it just doesn't come about. Is it an accident? Is it a freak occurrence? Or is it something more? When we look down the road to plan for the future, using all of our skills, talents, and abilities, are we willing to allow for something more? Are we willing to trust that God has a vision – a vision for us? God welcomes us into His plan. Are we ready to hand our plan over to Him?

In our passage this weekend from the Gospel of Luke, the Apostles in the Upper Room are doubly surprised on Easter Sunday evening. First, the two disciples who had encountered Jesus on the road to Emmaus recount to the Apostles how Jesus had appeared to them opening their hearts to the Scriptures and revealing Himself to them in the breaking of the bread. Then, Jesus Himself appears to all of those gathered and explains to them that all that had occurred to Him was a fulfillment of the Father's plan as laid out in the law of Moses, the prophets, and the psalms. This was all God's plan from the very beginning, and His followers were always meant to be a part of it, even if they didn't fully understand or recognize it. They did what they could, but ultimately God was/is in charge of it all. Are we willing to allow God to be in charge of His plan?

God has a plan that involves all of US, but WE can't just sit back idly to wait for it to unfold. WE all are gifted with varied skillsets in order to be contributors, and so WE all need to do what WE can to participate. WE all believe and know that God has a plan for OUR parishes. Even now WE can see where this is going, even if WE may not be able yet to recognize the finer points. That means that WE have to act responsibly and faithfully to cooperate. Recently (4/7), I met with the staffs of all three parishes to begin carving out an organizational path that will allow US to best serve the needs of OUR one new parish. A lot of planning has been going on for months with professionals from our three existing parishes to set out a structure that WE trust will meet OUR needs and OUR means. With one new parish will come all new jobs that will globally serve all of OUR faithful. I am working locally and with the Diocese to craft new job descriptions and devise an interviewing and hiring process. With the creation of OUR new parish on 1/1/2022, I would like to have all of these positions in place by then, which will mean that even some of them will start sooner to enable a smooth transition. I will continue to keep OUR staff informed but also to keep you informed. All of this is both critical and difficult for many reasons, but this appears to be the direction in which the Lord is leading US, and so WE need to follow Him with hope. The remainder of this year (and beyond) will be very busy, very exciting, and very hope-filled for US all. May WE all be On Mission for The Church Alive! to cooperate and follow in faith where the Lord leads US.
