FATHER BROWN'S SUNDAY NOTES...

As we continue to navigate the waters regarding the Traditional Latin Mass and the desires of our Holy Father, I continue to be in communication with Bishop Malesic and the Moderator of the Curia. If you look across the United States, you will see various levels of implementation of Traditionis Custodes, the Motu Proprio issued by Pope Francis on 16 July 2021. I continue to be uncertain of what the future may hold for us here at Mary Queen of Peace regarding the Traditional Latin Mass. The priests that offer the Mass and those that are pastors of parishes that host the Mass met this past week and continue the discussions about a proposal to present to Bishop Malesic. Please remember that if you are seeking the Traditional Rite for Sacraments such as Matrimony and Baptism, prior approval must be obtained. I ask for your continued prayers as to what is best for us as a parish and as a Diocese. In recognition of the importance of prayer, we are hosting All-Night Eucharistic Adoration beginning on Friday, February 4th at 8 pm and continuing until Saturday, February 5th at 8 am. The intention for these hours of prayer is for the Preservation of the Traditional Latin Mass as well as Reverence for the Holy Eucharist. Consider signing up for an hour. The easiest way to do so is to visit our Facebook page at Mary Queen of Peace Cleveland or call the Rectory for more information. As I have often said, prayer is the best way to address any situation that may disturb our peace. Thanks in advance for your prayers because I know just how powerful they can be!

- Stop downstairs TODAY...for our After Mass Sunday Social from 7 am to 1 pm! Our team spends a lot of time in planning for these Socials and determining what would be appropriate in accord with the ecclesial calendar. Please go down to the Marian Lounge today and support their great efforts!
- After Masses next weekend...there will be the Blessing of Throats in honor of Saint Blaise. The Blessing of Throats is a simple prayer said while two blessed candles are held crossed at the throat. Some have said that the candles were often lit in the past, but rest assured, they are not lit today. You remember that Saint Blaise is the Bishop that saved a young child from choking; thus, his intercession is called upon to protect our throats.
- While not officially...the end of the Christmas season, Candlemas is the traditional end as we celebrate that moment when the infant Jesus is brought into the temple. As Jesus was carried into the temple, we carry lighted candles on this day. A special blessing of candles is offered. Masses for Candlemas on Wednesday, February 2nd will be at 6:15 am (Latin Low Mass); 8 am (English); and 7 pm (Latin High Mass).
- The Sunday Bible Study...continues to provide a morning of learning and edification every Sunday at approximately 9:30 am. The location has moved recently to the Parish Center Upper Hall in order to accommodate larger numbers and allow for physical distancing for those who prefer it.

- Have you purchased your tickets...for the Cornhole Raffle yet? These are beautiful boards and you have a great chance of winning them as we are giving away multiple sets! Tickets are only $10 each and know that two of the sets will include a special bonus prize! While the drawing has been set for January 29th, we may extend the time for you to buy tickets as the weather has not been especially conducive to cornhole!
- It was a big hit last year...when we were forced to offer the annual Marriage Retreat in a "take-home" version. Plan to attend the Vigil Mass on Saturday, February 12th and afterwards, you will receive all that you need to make a delicious dinner together as well as other activities specially prepared for married couples (and those soon-to-be married). Please call the Parish Office to sign up.
- While the obvious connection between heart and blood...seems to be an easy way to promote the next Vitalant Blood Drive, the most important thing is that you will have the satisfaction of helping another! There are severe blood emergencies, and I don't think there is a better way to prepare for Saint Valentine's Day than by giving blood. The Vitalant Blood Drive will be on Sunday, February 13th from 9 am to 1 pm.
- We had a great turn-out on a snowy night...for our last Catholic Movie Night. You will want to attend the next one on Sunday, February 20th when we show the little-seen Heaven Knows Mr. Allison" a popular movie from 1957 starring Deborah Kerr and Robert Mitchum. The plot involves a Navy Captain and a Nun that are stranded together on a Japanese-occupied island in the Pacific Ocean. It is an entertaining movie that I think you will enjoy. Do not forget that there are always dollar concessions available!

While we have not even finished the month of January, I am already looking forward to Ash Wednesday and the beginning of Lent on March 2nd. Do not wait until Shrove Tuesday to begin thinking about what you want to do for Lent. Plan ahead so that you may maximize this most holy time. A beautiful prayer to pray often, even daily, is Psalm 51, one of the Penitential Psalms.

Psalm 51

Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions.

Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.

For I acknowledge my transgressions: and my sin is ever before me.

Against thee, thee only, have I sinned, and done this evil in thy sight: that thou mightest be justified when thou speakest, and be clear when thou judgest.

Behold, I was shapen in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me.

Behold, thou desirest truth in the inward parts: and in the hidden part thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean: wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which thou hast broken may rejoice.

Hide thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

Cast me not away from thy presence; and take not thy holy spirit from me.

Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation; and uphold me with thy free spirit.

Then will I teach transgressors thy ways; and sinners shall be converted unto thee.

Deliver me from blood guiltiness, O God, thou God of my salvation: and my tongue shall sing aloud of thy righteousness.

O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise.

For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering.

The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit: a broken and a contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise.

Do good in thy good pleasure unto Zion: build thou the walls of Jerusalem.

Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifices of righteousness, with burnt offering and whole burnt offering: then shall they offer bullocks upon thine altar.

Yours in Christ,

Father Brown

Charity and forgiveness begin in us.

As people redeemed in the Blood of Christ, we know that our sins are forgiven if we sacramentally confess these and are truly contrite. Once cleansed, we must take the lessons of our failures and help others who have fallen to avoid sin and return to a life of grace. The message of Fatima demands that we do so. Every sin ever committed - past, present or future - was accounted for at Calvary. No sin, other than to reject the gift of redemption, is unforgivable.

Forgiveness is the most obvious trait of a Christian. Jesus healed the afflicted through forgiveness and called for the forgiveness of mankind from the Cross. We find forgiving to be difficult at times. Perhaps we need to ponder seriously why this is. They say that charity begins at home. Before we can forgive others or teach them to forgive, we must first forgive ourselves. We cannot give to others what we do not have. We cannot bring people to love God properly if we do not love ourselves enough to move beyond our failures and seek the future. The past is a ball and chain for those who cannot forgive themselves, and our enemies will always try to use our past imperfections to discredit us and derail our work. To thine own self be true. To truly believe in forgiveness, one must forgive themselves first.

Many great saints came from the ranks of the greatest sinners. God does not call perfect people; He calls imperfect people to become perfect through laboring with the guidance of His grace, so that they can teach others the path to salvation. The only thing that disqualifies us from good work is unwillingness to pick up and go forward. If we fail to first forgive ourselves fully, we deny Christ and His salvific work. We fail to truly hear His words from the cross, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." These words were not meant only for the Roman executioners, but for all of us, because our sins put Him there. We, too, must say, "Father forgive us," and then, "Jesus, I trust in You."

This is how St. Paul, a persecutor of Christians, became the Apostle to the Gentiles. And how Blessed Bartolo Longo, an occultist, became a champion of the Rosary. He consecrated the world to Our Blessed Mother and offered her a golden rose. St. Pope John Paul II called him "the man of the Madonna" and the "Apostle of the Rosary." St. Augustine responded to the constant prayers of his mother, St. Monica, and turned to the Faith. He became a great bishop and a doctor of the Church, a model for religious life. The list is endless.

I have struggled myself with the idea that I could not best fulfill my duties, due to past imperfections and betrayals of God. Like St. Peter, who overcame his failure on Holy Thursday and forgave himself, so that he could ask the forgiveness of Our Lord, we all must truly believe in the salvation purchased from the Cross and be worthy of it by looking forward. No vehicle has ever reached its destination while the driver was looking backwards.

Today our Faith is under tremendous attack by forces aimed at eradicating Christian history and reconstructing a new order fashioned after a demonic foundation. Perhaps guilty of evil actions in our past, we shy away from working to thwart the evils that we encounter today due to our feelings of unworthiness. Those who have fallen, however, can be the best ambassadors for reform, knowing the pitfalls of sin and understanding the danger to souls who embrace a redefinition of morals. Never believe that you are unworthy to represent the truth. It is only in our humility that we become worthy.

The condition of our steadily declining world today does not have to meet a difficult end. We have the power to level the descent and climb to new heights. Like an airplane with a sputtering engine, we can regain power and rise beyond imagination. Not only is this possible, but it is attainable if we are focused on the future and are not stuck in the quagmire of past imperfections.

The work of evangelization and re-evangelization is the task at hand. Like St. John Paul II during the Solidarity movement, we must stand up to attacks against our Christian culture and history and demand the rights and dignity of the human person, which come from God. We must work with all our might to re-establish the missionary spirit, which brought the Faith to all parts of the world, and extend our efforts even farther to where we have not succeeded in evangelization. Sitting on the sidelines is not an option now. It never actually was.

Many of the greatest saints longed to have lived in these times, when carrying the countercultural banner for Christ makes us stand out. St. Augustine instructs us: "Trust the past to the mercy of God, the present to His love and the future to His providence." Now is the time to live our Christian heritage to the fullest, with our goal focused on the future - a future we may not get to see.

God bless you and Mary keep you in her Immaculate Heart.
