MISSION STATEMENT

We are an open and welcoming Catholic community celebrating God's gift of diversity. We are grateful for the Irish and other immigrants who built our parish and for those who continue to renew it.

We are a family, bringing God's love to one another and supporting one another in responding to the challenge of living the Gospel. We strive to deepen the participation and ownership of all parishioners in the whole life of the church, including worship, community life, the building of a just society, and service to all God's people.

Please pray for all those who have died.

We also pray for those who are sick, including the following:

Laird Adamic	The Goersmeyer Family	Tracy Pavlic
Phyllis Bambeck	Matt Gould & Family	Samantha Petrak

Reflection.

The people in Jesus’ hometown refused to accept Jesus as the anointed Son of God. His closest relatives, friends, and religious leaders were furious and threatened to kill him. Jesus was left with no option than to say, “ Truly I tell you, no prophet is accepted in his hometown....” The people were not at peace with Jesus partly because He was healing foreigners and performing mighty miracles in different towns. The Lord challenged this wrong attitude which tended to limit God’s saving love to few people. He took the side of the Gentiles who accepted the old prophets and were rewarded. He said that in time of famine, the prophet Elijah brought blessing to a widow in Sidon not in Israel and at the time of Elisha there were many lepers in Israel, but a Syrian Naaman was healed. The message of Jesus to his followers is that they should do the Will of God to love and preach the Good News to all people. In time of opposition and persecution, we should learn from the rejection and hatred he received from the people of his own town.

Fr. Ben Koka, AJ

Reflection

I cut out the second reading and taped it to my refrigerator to remind myself every day that love (which is another name for God) is the most powerful force in the world. That when we embrace love and make it the driving force of all that we think, say, and do, then we will heal a broken world and bring God’s kingdom to earth.
