From the Desk of Deacon Dave

Isn't it great not to be wearing masks? Isn't it great to be able to talk with friends and family in person! As we come out from underneath the darkness of the pandemic, it seems we appreciate being with people now more than ever before. It is wonderful and I thank God every day for having brought us safely to this point.

This past Saturday we held our first Bingo in more than sixteen months! Everyone was so happy to see each other. There were greetings and high fives all around as friends reunited, sharing stories of the past months as they begin moving forward and creating new ones. Congratulations to Charles Lambert and the entire Bingo staff who have made it possible for Bingo to start up once again! In addition to being a place where our extended family of Bingo players and volunteers come together, Bingo is a vital part of meeting our financial needs as a parish.

We are looking for more volunteers to help at Bingo so that we can continue Saturday Bingo and open up Tuesday as well. If you have never done it before, think about starting now. Just one evening a month or once a week, whichever you choose, all our volunteers enjoy being a part of this extended family. Please call me at 353-3752 if you are interested or contact the rectory.

Have you ever been in a situation where things seemed so bad, and you just wanted someone to stop and notice your great difficulty? Imagine if someone did exactly that. And imagine if that person then gave you all the answers you needed. This is what our Gospel this week is all about. The people have heard that Jesus has an extremely good message and they want to hear it. Jesus loves his work of teaching, but he and his apostles are tired after a long days work. They decide to be alone for a bit to rest. But the people find them! Even though tired, Jesus sees the great need of these people; "for they were like sheep without a shepherd." We are told that Jesus' "heart was moved with pity for them." Jesus acted on his heart, gave up on taking a break, and began teaching right away.

Isn't it wonderful to know that when our lives become difficult and we turn to Jesus for help, he is not only moved with pity for us, but immediately comes to provide what we need?

This week maybe we can take a few moments to think about difficulties we might have in our lives and turn to Jesus for help, knowing that he will be there for us.

God's Peace,

Deacon Dave
