GOSPEL MEDITATION -
ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE
December 27, 2020

The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph

Tragedy and disappointment are inevitable. What sees you through this? There will be challenges, changes, unexpected circumstances, interrupted plans, hurts, and injustices experienced by every human being at some point in their lives. We will be asked to adjust our plans, change course, and even encounter suffering and death. Where do we learn all of the lessons we need to live life well? Some of them we learn along the way but much of what we bring to life, positive and negative, comes from our early beginnings, our families. This is our early world and provides the blueprint for how we see the bigger, more inclusive world, which unfolds before us.

Our families of origin can be sources of grace, heartache or a combination of both. Families are intended to be pivotal in providing us with proper social structure and understanding, a support system, lessons about relationships and communication, and the unconditional acceptance and love we so desperately crave. They can also determine whether we have an accessible and healthy relationship with God. Many of life's challenges can literally bring us to our knees and require that we possess a strength of character that resides well beyond the superficialities of our world. At some point we will all need three coping gifts that can be given to us only by God: faith, hope, and love. Our families help us learn that we are not the ones responsible for their creation, but God!

Our experience of early family life colors all of our relationships and what we expect to achieve from life in general. Resolving conflicts, dealing with difficulty and suffering, celebrating accomplishments, prioritizing our needs, listening to God's call, understanding relationships, understanding disappointment, learning about the virtues and living a centered focused life are all lessons our families either succeed in teaching or do not. To succeed, as God has designed and ordered our world, is to discover his presence and then trust that Presence. The Holy Family can teach even the most dysfunctional family how to best use God's gifts of faith, hope, and love to find him and do his will. Their simple humble example is always before us, showing us the way. Jesus, Mary and Joseph, pray for us!

WHAT DOES THE HOLY FAMILY TEACH US?

They Follow God's Lead

The Scriptures paint the early life of the Holy Family as God calls them to a special mission. With the angel Gabriel, we greet Mary and learn of her calling to become the Mother of God. Our introduction to St. Joseph consists of him deciding to divorce Mary quietly, believing she brought shame and dishonor upon him and his family. But an angel invites Joseph to change his mind and take Mary into his home, to become the guardian of Mary and Jesus, the husband of Mary and foster-father of Jesus. In that home at Nazareth we meet a couple who shows an openness to allowing God to lead their life together. Mary surely had other plans for her life; as many believe, she took a vow of virginity at an early age, so becoming a physical mother was something she did not anticipate. Yet, she heard God's invitation, and knew that His plans were better for her life; therefore, she gives her fiat — that is, her “yes” to God. St. Joseph opens his heart to the messenger sent by God and takes Mary into his home. This would not be the first or last time that St. Joseph followed God's lead in his life as he protected the Holy Family. After Jesus' birth in Bethlehem, they follow the prompting of an angel to flee into Egypt for safety and wait there until another angelic message leads them back home. The Holy Family is a great example for families everywhere to always be open to whatever God's will might be and to always be listening for God to speak. He might speak his will in prayer or through another person. By our own prayer and discernment, we too can follow God's lead for our life.

A Teacher of Virtue

The home should be the principal place of catechesis. Unfortunately, many families today allow the Church to fill that role alone. The home of Nazareth, in addition to the local synagogue, would have been the place of instruction for the Christ Child. The Holy Family taught Jesus how to read, and at the start of his public ministry Jesus would read from the scroll and declare the passage to be fulfilled in their hearing (see Lk 4:21). Mary and Joseph would have taught the Christ Child how to pray, especially the Shema, and years later Jesus would teach his disciples how to pray with the Our Father. Joseph would have handed on his trade to his son, who later would die on the wood of a cross. Jesus had a great concern for the poor and the marginalized. In the home of Nazareth he learned generosity and kindness. The home of Nazareth reminds us that families have the responsibility of teaching their children the Faith and to model the virtues. Jesus had most excellent parents; Mary was without sin and Joseph is described as a just and prudent man. Parents today can learn from Joseph and Mary on how to teach their children.

A Call to Chastity

The Catholic tradition upholds the belief that Mary remained ever-virgin. St. Joseph often is referred to as Mary's most chaste spouse, and in the Litany of St. Joseph is recognized as the chaste guardian of the Virgin. Perhaps this is yet another way the Holy Family provides an example to our modern world, often assaulted by sexual promiscuity and fleeting lustful thoughts. The chaste relationship of Joseph and Mary reminds all Christian faithful that, even in marriage, chastity is to be observed. The practice of natural family planning (NFP) is one way a couple observes chastity in their marriage. The fidelity of Joseph and Mary to each other also gives great example and encourages couples in their fidelity to one another, even in difficult circumstances. The chaste relationship between Joseph and Mary means they experienced intimacy in different ways through their common life together. Their purity of mind and heart of mutual love for each other and the Son of God is indeed worthy of imitation by all families.

Devotion to the Holy Family

Devotion to the Holy Family of Nazareth emerges in times when the family becomes weakened because of political and societal pressures. In the medieval period, Jean Gerson, theologian at the Council of Constance (1414-18), encouraged devotion to the Holy Family, and Pope Leo XIII said that imitation of the Holy Family would be a means to revitalize and strengthen family life. In the third millennium the institution of the family once again suffers attacks politically and socially. Perhaps now is the time for us to knock on the door of the Holy Family's home in Nazareth and move from being an onlooker peering into a guest in their home. From them we will learn many virtues for Christian family life and, through their inspiration, to practice them in our homes and among our own families.

A Message from our Principal

"This has definitely been a different Christmas!" We have heard those words spoken so many times lately...I have used them myself in planning for our family celebration. And it IS different in how we gather and where we go. But the most important part of the season did not change...and never will change. December 25 will always be the birth of the Child Jesus, the day when God became man to live and grow amongst us and show us the way to salvation.

We were unable to share the Christmas story at the Christmas Eve Mass this year, however, if you want a bit of Christmas cheer, filled with the faces and voices of our children, please tune into the Saint Peter RC School webpage (www.stpeterrc.org) where each of our classes performed as if the "real live event" was happening. You can tell by the looks on their faces that THEY felt they were performing on the altar in front of a Church filled with hundreds of happy faces. Some of the classes began practicing as early as October as they were unsure what the status of school being open would be, and their hard work certainly paid off as you will see when you watch...from our littlest angels to the traditional Nativity scene...God bless them all!

From all of us at Saint Peter RC School, we send our warmest wishes for good things over this Christmas break, and we, like all, pray that 2021 is filled with the blessings of good health and peace for all.

The school office is closed until January 4, 2021, but if you need anything you can reach me through my email at mingham@stpeterrc.org. I will be in and out of the office most days over the break as we prepare for the new year. If there is anything you need...just give me a holler.

Also please note that our 2021-2022 re-registration packets went home with our current school families on December 15, 2020. Students currently enrolled in Saint Peter School will be given the first opportunity to re-enroll. Open registration, for all who are interested in SPS for September 2021 begins on January 19, 2021, and will be added to the class lists on a first come, first served basis. Registration forms can be accessed on our website or by calling the school office at (716) 754-4470.

Imagine. You're a young virgin bride who has yet to intimately know your husband, and you're told by an angel that you have been chosen to carry the Savior of the world within your womb. Mary didn't plan this. But her consent triggered events that would radically change her life, her husband's life, and...the world. How would she explain this miraculous conception to her husband? How could she even accept that something like this was possible? Mary could have chosen to reject it all. She could have justified it because the timing wasn't "ideal" or felt that their material poverty was sufficient reason not to bring a child into the world. But she decided to be stronger than her circumstances. And Joseph could have chosen abandonment over fatherhood, but he chose adoption instead. What an incredible illustration of how fathers matter even when the bond isn't biological. Courage unleashes miracles. This Christmas, may we be reminded of the faith and vulnerability that is required in our own journeys.

A Vocation View

The Holy Family– Jesus, Mary and Joseph– always supported each other in doing God's will, even when it involved hardship. As the family of God's children, we must help each other follow God's will. Let us not stand in the way of those whom God has called to a Church vocation. Invite them to contact Fr. Dave Baker at 716-847-5535 or visit buffalovocations.org
