

ALL SAINTS CATHOLIC CHURCH

May 2, 2021
Fifth Sunday of Easter

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Congratulations to our Second Graders who received their First Holy Communion last Sunday. This is always one of my favorite moments of the entire year. They are always so excited to take this next step in their faith, and this year didn't disappoint. What a gift we have in the Holy Eucharist, where we receive the Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of our Lord Jesus.

In my homily last week, I mentioned that the First Reading from the Acts of the Apostles was a bit controversial. In it, St. Peter proclaims boldly to the Sanhedrin: "There is no salvation through anyone else (than Jesus Christ), nor is there any other name under heaven given to the human race by which we are saved." I explained that Jesus is indeed the only way to heaven. No one else can save us. No other religious leader in the history of mankind was the Son of God, the second Person of the Trinity, who took on human flesh to heal the intrinsic wound of sin within us by His saving sacrifice. We believe this to be an objective reality and it is an article of our faith.

As expected, this prompted questions from those who heard my preaching. One individual noted via email: "we know that in the world there may be people who never heard of the Lord Jesus. Hard for us to believe but it is true. I've actually met some. Jesus said many will say "Lord, Lord we cast out demons in your name...etc." And He tells them He never knew them...leave. In other words, they do not get into His kingdom. Then in Matthew 25 or so He separates sheep and goats. He does not say those who believe in Him but those who were compassionate. On the surface it seems we have a paradox. If I am not mistaken, I believe the Church teaches that if one follows the lead of the Holy Spirit and truly, even if they don't recognize they are being led by the Holy Spirit, loves that they are saved."

I got another question from another individual via email: "As Jesus is the way to eternal life, what about the people who are born into religions such as Hinduism, Buddhism, etc. With so little exposure and probably many times no exposure to a Christian lifestyle what are their chances of embracing Christianity?"

I admit this is a bit of a paradox. On the one hand we say that Jesus is the only way to heaven, and on the other hand we must admit that it would be unjust for Jesus to cast out those who didn't know the Gospel through no fault of their own. The Catechism of the Catholic Church outlines Church teaching on this matter in paragraphs 825-828. Here is a synopsis of what it says: We believe that Jesus instituted the Church to reunite all His children who are affected by sin. The Church is thus the normative way for human beings to accept the salvation offered to them by God through Jesus Christ, the One and only Savior. (Fr's letter is continued inside)

PARISH MISSION STATEMENT

Rooted in one baptism and many ethnic traditions, All Saints Parish celebrates, cultivates, and grows knowledge and faith to love and serve both God and neighbor.

Pastoral Council 2013

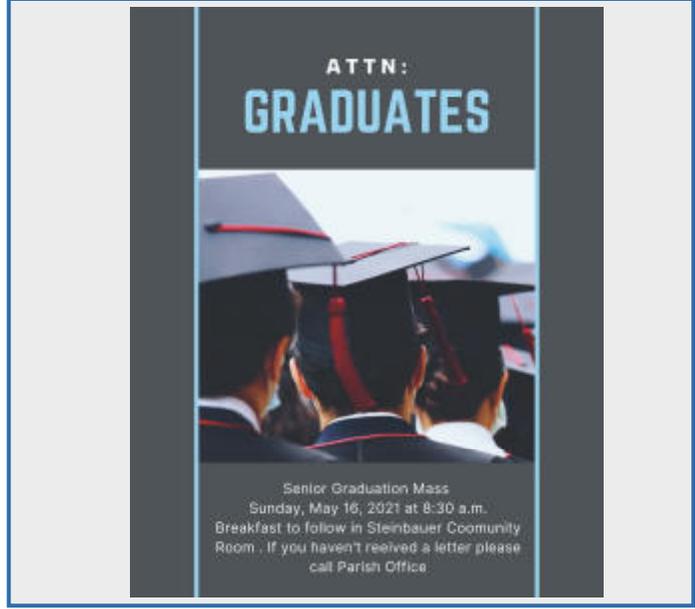

(Fr. Recker's letter Continued)

In the history of our Church, it has thus often been said that "outside the Church there is no salvation." It is helpful to state this as a positive statement: "all salvation comes from Christ the Head through the Church which is His Body." Jesus Himself often asserted the necessity of faith and Baptism, which necessitates the Church, in which people enter when they are baptized. The Church is the necessary vehicle through which the teachings of Christ are held constant and affirmed in a world that is constantly changing. This is visibly held true through the leadership of our bishops in communion with our Pope, who are the successors of the Apostles and especially of Peter, the Prince of the Apostles and of whom the Pope succeeds, who was given special authority by Jesus Christ Himself.

There are, however, many people who do not know of Jesus and His teachings. Can they be saved? Jesus revealed that the Church would be the primary instrument of salvation. This is not to say, however, that God cannot save those who, through no fault of their own, do not know or understand our faith. We certainly believe in God who is both just and merciful. We know that God speaks to every human being in their heart through their conscience. This is the voice of God who commands us to do good and to avoid evil. God alone knows the conscience and how we respond to the promptings of His grace; thus, He alone can judge souls. It is certainly possible that God can offer salvation to good souls who are not visible members of the Church on earth during their lifetimes. The particulars of how this happens is known to God alone.

This truth comes with certain caveats. It is not meant to lead those who know of Jesus and His teachings to be complacent in their own faith and their fidelity to His teachings. As Catholics we are bound to be faithful to Jesus and His Church, which in its fullest sense, is the Catholic Church. It is also not meant to lead us to be lazy in our proclamation of the Gospel to those who do not know Christ. The fullness of life is meant to begin now when we accept the Gospel and are transformed through the power of the Holy Spirit. The power of the human conscience alone cannot attain salvation or sacramental graces. While the sacraments do not limit the grace of God, they do remain the best ways for us to experience the life of God and His saving grace in this world. In other words, we need God, and we have at our disposal the best ways to experience Him in this life; it is our responsibility to make this known to everyone so that they too can experience His love. To be a Christian means that we are missionaries, sent out to bring Jesus to others.

God bless you,
Fr. Recker

PASTORAL COUNCIL UPDATE

After having some time off during Lent, Pastoral Council met on Tuesday, April 13, 2021. We heard an update on the rectory, and the basement and finishing touches are coming along nicely! There will be a retired Priest and a Seminarian staying with Father this summer. He also has a mailing address now for the rectory, that is, 638 Lime City Road (although we still need to install a mailbox for that address). We discussed Holy Week and the Easter Masses, and everyone agreed how beautiful all the services were and how nice it was to see so many people back in church! We are going to keep our Mass schedule the same for now, but we are adding an extra Communion Distributor at all Masses. We are not meeting in May, and in June we will elect a new chairperson to serve in that role for the upcoming year. We are sad to see Nancy Mayo will be stepping down from Council and is going to become a full-time member of St. Joe's Sylvania after having moved from the area a while back. She will be greatly missed! Thank you, Nancy, for all you did for our Parish all these years! Sadly, there will be no festival again this year, but we are going to have another Ethnic Food Drive! The date for that will be July 24, 2021. Be sure to see the bulletin for details and information on volunteering to help get things ready. Something that will be a huge help in our fundraisers is our new stoves! We thank everyone who donated to our Giving Tuesday to make this possible, and a special thanks to Lorena for helping us achieve our goal! Next time we meet, summer will be upon us. As always, we continue to pray for all of you and we hope you have a wonderful springtime filled with all of God's blessings! Mary Tammarine, Reporter

GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

Fifth Sunday of Easter

"Spiraling out of control," is a phrase that can easily describe the current display of human existence. In addition to the violence, unrest, uneasiness and turmoil that are common elements of our daily news, other essential pieces are misplaced or missing. Many lack an objective center around which to order and structure their lives or a clear set of definable goals or morals to act as guideposts and life directives. It appears that "feelings" have become a "new god" and traditional structures and ideals set aside. It is almost as if history only shows that we got this whole thing wrong and many are determined to finally set things right. The real truth, however, is that while wrongs and errors are certainly a part of our often-checked past, it is hardly the case that all was wrong. It is not our task to rewrite the history of our lives, but to learn from mistakes that were made, and preserve the perennial wisdom at the root of our successes. Learning is an essential part of being human.

The question becomes, however, from whom do we learn? Some have such a hard time placing God in that position, but that is precisely where God needs to be. God is the Master Teacher from whom all of humanity learns and gets its cues. It is in and through this relationship with the Gardener of Life that we are fashioned and pruned into the people we are intended to be and can be. It is only in God that we are able to find our best selves. Sadly, many think that religion too, as well as history in general, has also gotten all this wrong. Yet, our resurrection faith tells us differently. We are reminded, today especially, that we are meant to remain in Christ as Christ remains in us. We are also reminded that Jesus, the Incarnate God, is the vine upon which we grow, the branches that flow from the source of God's life.

Giving up our will to God's can be a painful endeavor. It is not easy to set our own desires and wants aside and allow God to step in and direct and guide our growth. But this is the only way to prevent deadly weeds from overtaking us and bringing us to a place of self-destruction. God's commandments are the very guideposts and benchmarks we need, yet many seek to remove them from all public view because they appear to limit self-expression and suppress what is considered by many to be "human freedom." They are the only way we can find freedom, however. And, until we learn this fundamental lesson, we will continue to spiral out of control, never really knowing who we are, what our potential can be or how life really can be lived. We will not know peace. ©LPI

PARISH RELIGION EDUCATION PROGRAM (PREP)

CATECHESIS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD (CGS)

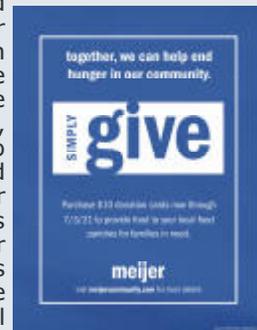

It is time to register for the 2021 - 2022 religious education programs for our children not in Catholic schools. PREP (Grades K-8) meets on Sunday mornings beginning with 8:30 a.m. Mass followed by a time of learning from 9:30 until 10:45 a.m. Children in K through 2nd grades experience a particular method of Religious Education called the Catechesis of the Good Shepherd. You can find out more about this method by checking the Book rack in the Narthex or by following the link - <https://www.cgsusa.org/>

To register your child/ren please fill out the blue registration form that can be found in the magazine rack, and return to the Parish Office. Deadline for early registration is May 31, 2021.

SIMPLY GIVE FOOD PANTRY PROGRAM

Meijer created the Simply Give food pantry donation program as a grass-roots effort to help replenish local food pantries in the communities they serve. The Winter Simply Give local food drive has been extended to run until Saturday, July 3, 2021. We need parishioners to take a Meijer donation card, which are available in the narthex, Parish Office or at the customer service counter at the Rossford Meijer. Once purchased, these cards can then be turned into Meijer gift cards that All Saints food pantry will use to restock our shelves. For All Saints to receive this donation it is important to make your purchase at the Rossford Meijer. As in past Simply Give programs, the Meijer Family will make an additional donation at the conclusion of the program to help the families we serve. If you have any questions please call the Parish Office at 419-666-1393.

LIVE THE LITURGY - INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

Anyone familiar with gardening knows that proper and timely pruning is essential. The health of the plant depends upon it. An unpruned tree can quickly produce suckers that zap many of the essential nutrients from its body. Pruning requires patience and vision. Studies reveal that plants often respond defensively to being pruned, displaying reactions that are similar to hurt or discomfort. Pruning is not easy but necessary. A hard lesson for us to learn is that we also need to be pruned. We become far healthier when we allow God to stretch, refine, and form us into the best version of ourselves. The fruit that then comes from our vines will be more abundant, nutritious, and robust. Left to our own devices we can easily find ourselves running amuck and spiraling out of control. Without a proper vision and trust in the Master Pruner, we will never find the contentment we desperately desire. Nor will the work of the Gospel stand a chance of succeeding. ©LPI

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK TO REFLECT ON HOW DO WE RESPOND?

First Reading:

Luke tells us how the conversion of Saul (Paul) and the acceptance by the disciples of him helped facilitate peace in the Church throughout Judea, Galilee, and Samaria. What do you think is needed to bring about peace in our Church today?

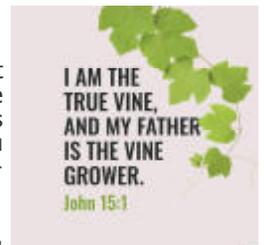

Second Reading:

John teaches his community that believing in Jesus and loving one another is the heart of God's commandment. How would you assess yourself in following this two-fold command?

Gospel:

Using the metaphor of a vine and branches, Jesus urges his disciples to "remain in me" in order to bear good fruit and thereby glorify God. What would be some examples of "good fruit" that you have produced?

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP - RECOGNIZE GOD IN YOUR ORDINARY MOMENTS

Branching Out Isn't Always What It's Cracked Up to Be

"That's a really beautiful tree branch. Man, would you look at the bark on that thing? The others are real duds, but that low-hanging branch has really got it all together."

I've never heard anyone say this. Maybe I just need to hang out with more arborists, but I can't recall ever hearing someone admire the particular beauty of a single branch. When someone comments on a tree, it's usually the whole tree — perhaps a visual element of it, like the color of the leaves or its height. But people don't usually zero in on one branch.

Maybe that's because usually, if one branch is looking a little weak, chances are every other branch is, too.

The Bible tells us that when we bear fruit as good everyday stewards, it is for the Father's glory. We are the branch on His magnificent tree. What we have is from Him, and what we do likewise points back to Him. We also tend to reflect how well the other branches around us are incorporating the nutrients coming their way. That's all fine and good in theory. In practice, it can be an arduous exercise in humility.

When I do something virtuous or charitable or kind, there is a part of me that wants to stand out for it. I think that's true for all of us. We've given of ourselves in some way or overcome some human temptation to accomplish a little bit of good in this world, and even though we know God sees us, we'd really love for everyone else to see it, too.

It's a struggle, for sure. But we need to remember that our fruit belongs to the whole tree.
