and Nothing can Stop it.....

What Have You to Do with Me, Jesus of Nazareth?

Inevitably, when we read the story of the Garden of Eden, my children try to imagine what life would be like if Adam and Eve had not sinned against God.

“Would we have to go to school?” they ask me. “Would we get sick? Could we eat whatever we want? Would we get older?”

I tell them the only thing I know for sure about a world without sin is that we would be happier. I can see confusion in their faces — Why? How? — but I have none of the concrete answers they want. I don’t know how to describe a happiness untouched by sin.

The moment sin entered the world, a chasm erupted between God and mankind. There is now a space between humanity and the divine, a cavernous and seemingly impassable void into which God calls for us, unendingly. And because we are lost in the dark, and miserable, instead of following his voice when we hear it, instead we reply: “What do you want?”

“What have you to do with us, Jesus of Nazareth?”

Did the unclean spirit know, when he cried out all those thousands of years ago in Capernaum, that he was giving voice to a question which defined the human condition? They are the words of a demon, yes, but they are also my words. Far, far more often than I care to admit, when God is reaching for me, I look upon His hand with contempt and confusion. When I am grappling with a problem or a sin which overwhelms me, again and again I forget that I already know the solution.

The tragedy of original sin is not that we live in a world where we cannot eat what we want, where we age, and where we become sick and die. The tragedy of sin is that we have forgotten how to be happy. We look at happiness and we think: “What do you want with me?”

“If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts.” —

Psalm 95:7

MORNING OFFERING TO THE SACRED HEART

O Lord Jesus Christ, while on earth You gave praise to the Father through Your most Sacred Heart. Today, You continue to give praise to Him in the Sacrament of the Eucharist everywhere, even to the end of the world.

In union with Your divine offering, I offer to You during this whole day all my intentions and thoughts, all my affections and desires, all my words and actions. And I pledge not to withhold even the smallest part from You, O Lord.

Amen+

LIVE THE LITURGY -
INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

With one swift command, Jesus freed a man from the possession of evil spirits. He has that same power to banish the shadow of sin from our own lives. Let's invite him into our hearts, asking him to cleanse the darkness he finds there.

WHY DO WE DO THAT? - CATHOLIC LIFE EXPLAINED

Communion & Mortal Sin

Question:

I have a friend who receives communion, but who I know for a fact is in a state of mortal sin. Should I tell our priest? Is it my responsibility to say something?

Answer:

While we may always want to do what is best for our friends and family members, we have a responsibility to respect their privacy and their conscience. In its reflections on the Eighth Commandment ("You shall not bear false witness against your neighbor"), the Catechism of the Catholic Church states, "Respect for the reputation of persons forbids every attitude and word likely to cause them unjust injury. [One] becomes guilty: -of rash judgment who, even tacitly, assumes as true, without sufficient foundation, the moral fault of a neighbor; -of detraction who, without objectively valid reason, discloses another's faults and failings to persons who do not know them; of calumny who, by remarks contrary to the truth, harms the reputation of others and gives occasion for false judgments concerning them" (no. 2477).

We will never truly know what is in a person's mind, heart, and soul; only God knows those things. We should, of course, take our concerns to God and entrust the person about whom we are concerned to God's grace and mercy. If we have concerns about the spiritual wellbeing of someone with whom we are close, we should go to the person themselves and talk about our fears and concerns. Unless it is a case of abuse or endangerment (which we have a moral and even legal responsibility to report to the appropriate authorities), we ultimately do not have the freedom to share another's persons faults or sins, however good we think our intentions might be.

Prayer for the Youth
Dear Lord,
Be with our young people
this week and always –
keep them in Your care.
Help them to form godly friendships, speak the truth, and know You in the personal way that will challenge, shape, and guide them. Amen.

A Light to My Path~ Remembering Fr. Montavon

Dear Fr. Montavon,

Our 8am usher group has shared several remembrances of you. How you told us about helping to design the stained glass above the altar and the many symbols displayed in there.

If you didn't realize it, Father had a slightly dry sense of humor, but managed to tell jokes to us sometimes after Mass. As a matter of fact, as he was preparing to retire, he told someone in full view of us that he was not allowed to retire until he comes back and works on his failures, while gesturing to us ushers. We joked to him about when he retires to Florida, will he wear his collar and speedos on the beach.....he just gave us that look (another failure on us).

Occasionally, we ushers would meet for dinner at Timber Lodge with Fr. Montavon, sometimes with Tony Pytel, Elmer Dubs and George Toneff. He loved spending time with friends, a few drinks and good food (especially since we were buying)!

He really pushed for reverence at Church, coming in before Mass starts, not leaving until the final procession and not wearing shorts or torn clothing. Whispering when socializing prior to Mass for respect, although not always possible with our aging 8AM crowd.

We will toast you at our next usher "meeting" coming up soon. Until then, GOD speed you on your trip. As a matter of fact, we already know your in GOD's loving arms!

Sincerely,

The 8am Ushers

A few smiles involving Fr. Montavon:

- When Father's residence (rectory) was on Nancy Circle, being neighbors, my young children referred to Father as "God" coming or going down the street.
- One of his early birthdays as Pastor here at St. Colette, my oldest son made him a birthday card with an elderly gentleman bent over with a walking cane. Father enjoyed the card with many laughs. In fact, he framed it and talked about it often. The last time, commenting was the summer of 2023.
- First rectory was on Nancy Circle, where my children could frequently be found. They were there because Farther gave them candy and pop (which Mom and Dad did not).
- On a serious note, a huge thanks to Father because he was the celebrant for my children's sacraments.
- From Crestview to Nancy Circle, to church basement hall, to our Church... very appreciative of Fr. Montavon.

Saint of the Week~ St. John Bosco!

1815-1888 | Feast Day: January 31st | Patron saint of boys, editors, educators/teachers, and youth

St. John Bosco lived a life worthy of the call he received! A tender heart for underprivileged children, St. John Bosco led children to Christ and away from sinful lives. He opened oratories for boys and other various organizations for boys and girls alike, teaching them trades, inspiring them to do mission work, and most importantly, leading them to Jesus in the sacraments. He's a perfect model of encouragement for all of us that when nurtured with and through the love of Christ, all are empowered to live lives worthy of the call they've received as well, no matter their situation or shortcomings. St. John Bosco, pray for our all of our teachers and youth to be open to this very same way of living the Gospel message. St. John Bosco, pray for us!

"Whatever you do, think of the Glory of God as your main goal." St. JB
