My Sisters and Brothers,

Lots of grumbling going on with the Israelites in the first reading. The circumstances may change, but people for the most part seldom do. Keep focused on what really matters. Look to the benefit of others and not just yourself. Be overwhelmed and grateful for the goodness of God, which is beyond measure and transcends circumstances of the time. St. Paul tells us in his letter to the Ephesians, ". . .you should put away the old self of your former way of life. . .and be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and put on the new self, created in God's way in righteousness and holiness and truth". Certainly this pandemic time, which is not quite over yet, has challenged us with changes that we never might have imagined, and called us to sacrifice to often go beyond our own comfort zone, and look to the good of each other. In the Gospel, Jesus gives the greatest gift, the Eucharist, and says, "I am the Bread of Life; whoever comes to me will never hunger, and whoever believes in me will never thirst". My prayer is that we will always cling to that promise as our greatest gift, source of life and strength, and center of our lives. Circumstances change—not receiving the Precious Blood, being respectfully asked to receive on the hand, not putting emphasis on "who" distributes the great Gift—but the reality of WHO we receive—the Lord, the Savior, the Bread of Life, Jesus our Savior—is the only thing that really matters. Believing that Liturgy, Eucharist, is the most important thing we do as a community, I want to share with you some Liturgical Updates, as we continue moving ahead with Concern, Caution and Care.

As we continue as a community to navigate through the challenges of the Covid 19 pandemic, we are all certainly grateful for the progress that has been made and the steps we have been able to take to live our lives and celebrate our faith more fully and without restrictions. Thank you for all who have cooperated so well, worked so hard, and cared so much about the needs of others. We are especially grateful for the effect of the vaccine, and encourage everyone possible to be vaccinated. However, all of us are aware that we are not fully finished with this pandemic and its variants, and we must continue to do the kinds of things that will help keep one another safe, and at the same time, take positive steps forward. Here are a few of these "next steps" and reminders.

We have decided that for now, all our weekday Masses will be celebrated in the main church. The good news is that we have more and more people coming, and we want to make sure everyone feels comfortable, and that we are not having to make last minute changes due to lack of space. The chapel remains a very special place of prayer for individuals or groups who wish to pray together. For now, we will continue livestreaming Mass each day in the church. We do encourage people to sit in the center sections and toward the front of the church. Also, we will continue the practice of people bringing up the gifts of bread and wine, and ask people to either sign up or volunteer to bring the gifts at the proper time.

Aware that we continue to practice safe health habits and that there are still legitimate concerns with Covid and its variants, the Church strongly, highly, and respectfully requests that people receive Holy Communion on their hands. This is for the protection of both the Minister of Communion, who often is still not comfortable with giving Communion on the tongue, as well as the next person who is receiving Eucharist. If a person insists on receiving Communion on the tongue, they are asked to receive last and to come up the center aisle of the church. The minister of Holy Communion is obligated to sanitize his or her hands after each person who receives on the tongue, and often this could be somewhat challenging.

We continue to ask everyone to be mindful and respectful of one another. Those who have not been vaccinated are asked to continue wearing facemasks, and we respect all who choose to wear them for any reason. We continue to keep the church as clean as possible, and to sanitize regularly. Primarily, we ask everyone to be conscious of the needs of one another, to monitor their own health symptoms, and to stay home if there is any concern of compromising their own health or that of others. Reverence and common sense remain essential elements of healthy living and authentic worship.

Again, we sincerely thank you for your cooperation and understanding. These are challenging times, but we are making great progress. As a community called to follow Christ, we must always focus on the good of all our brothers and sisters, and how we can work together to meet the challenges that lie ahead and grow as a true family of faith. May God continue to fill us with His Spirit of love and compassion. Peace and blessings upon you.

In God's love,

LITURGY CORNER

Most of us all like bread. During the pandemic, many people took up baking bread as a hobby. Stores reported huge increases in the sale of flour and yeast. There's also many kinds of bread – sourdough, rye, wheat, pumpernickel and so on. We all know that bread is a basic food staple which many people depend on for life. Of course, in our society, while people may bake bread as a hobby, we also have people who can't eat it due to gluten intolerances or an aversion to carbohydrates. But it's an essential element to life nonetheless. It's hard to think of life without bread. In this week's readings, we hear lots of talk about bread. We hear the Lord tell Moses in Exodus that He'll feed the Israelites manna from heaven, as that would be the bread that will sustain them. But manna will only sustain them physically, much like common bread does for us. It fills us up, but then we're hungry again. What our Gospel reading tells us is that Jesus gives us bread that will remove our spiritual hunger. Jesus is the Bread of Life – of eternal life. When we receive the Eucharist, we need to remember that it is the source and summit of our faith. The Eucharist is, in fact, the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Christ himself. That is the Bread we consume every time we go to Mass. So it is with this Bread in mind that St. Paul tells us in his letter to the Ephesians in our Second Reading that truth resides in Jesus, and it is through Him that we must put away our old selves and be renewed, putting on a new self that is created in God's way of righteousness, holiness, and truth. So the next time you receive the Eucharist, ask yourself if you are renewed in Jesus or are you continuing with your old self?

DO YOU KNOW SOMEONE WHO HAS THOUGHT ABOUT BECOMING CATHOLIC?

Probably all of us know someone who has thought about the Catholic Church. Many times, it is a simple invitation that gets them to inquire. If you know of someone who has thought about it, please encourage that person to contact Maureen Dowd at 352-8282 or mdowd@st-gabriel.org . We evangelize one person at a time. Give that little nudge of encouragement to someone!

Thank you!

Music Notes

"I am the bread of life." With these words in the Gospel, Jesus seeks to tell His disciples and the people that He is the living bread come down from Heaven. The differences between human "hunger" and spiritual hunger are exposed in this weekend's readings. God fed the Israelites in the desert with manna; Jesus is the living bread and He feeds us with His very being. How are we being fed? "Bread of life, bread of life. He who eats this bread will never die."

Help meet the memorial scholarship fund goal!

Our good and generous friends, Kim and Mark Pohovey, started a memorial scholarship in their son's name, Matthew J. Pohovey. Many St. Gabriel School students have benefited from this scholarship through the years. Mark is running a full marathon this fall and is making the scholarship fund his cause! Sponsor Mark and make a difference! We can double this effort by raising $2000 as Mark and Kim will generously match that amount! May God bless you abundantly for your generosity! Here's a fun way to visit with Fr. Joe!

Mosquito Season Mosquitos are considered a public health nuisance and can transmit diseases of encephalitis and West Nile Virus. The Lake County General Health District is finishing up mosquito treatment fogging in the densely populated areas of Lake County. Individuals can do their part to minimize exposure and potential mosquito bites by applying EPA registered bug repellants, wearing light colored clothing, keeping skin surfaces covered and avoiding being outside during peak activity time of dusk to dawn. If bit by mosquitos, be alert for possible symptoms of stiff neck, body aches, fever, confusion and see a doctor if they occur. There are many treatment options on the market for the itching and swelling associated with a mosquito bite. Some include a heat application, suction device to remove the venom, natural herbal/ essential oil relief, over the counter Benadryl spray/cortisone creams and physician prescribed cortisones. The website Healthline has an interesting article on Bug Bite Relief: What Works (and What Doesn't) at www.healthline.com/health/beauty-skin-care/bug-bite-products. *Here's to our health!
