FAMILY PERSPECTIVES

Third Sunday of Easter

Jesus's work is not complete even after he has risen from the dead. At the time of his dying and rising, his disciples had scattered, their faith crushed and their spirits despairing. In Jesus's resurrection, he conquered death in his own being, but his great desire was not to keep this life for himself but to share it with all. This past year, in the middle of COVID-19, it has been easy for us to have "faith crushed and our spirits shattered," due to the hardships our family life may have experienced. How have you as a family continued to be a "witness of the Good News" in the midst of hardship during the pandemic?

Rosary Repairs and Donations

Bring your broken, discarded or damaged rosaries to the Parish Rectory to be repaired or donated. Rosaries are meant to be prayed. These gifts from heaven are meant to be held in the hands of the faithful sending holy intentions for ourselves, those we love, and others in need to Jesus through his Mother.

Did you know you can give to St. Joseph Parish online via our website?

Set up ongoing donations on a weekly or monthly basis so that your generosity can continue even if you don't happen to be attending Mass at the parish on a given Sunday. Visit saintjoe.org/giving. If you need help setting it up, please call the Rectory at 330-928-2173.

From the Pastor's Desk

Dear Parishioners,

First, it's official! I am excited to announce that this summer, St. Joseph Parish will be hosting a Vacation Bible School (VBS) July 19-23, 2021! It will be open to students entering grades K-4.

For those who are not familiar, VBS is a fun-filled program offered during the summer to connect children with their faith. In 1894, in Illinois, a Sunday school teacher named D. T. Miles felt limited by time constraints in teaching the Bible to children. So she started a daily Bible school to teach children during the summer. Over time, it has grown to a standard program used by many churches in the United States today.

We call it Vacation Bible School, but it's really more like a camp than school. VBS is not about tests or worksheets. At its core, VBS is about planting seeds of faith in those that participate. We do that with decorations, crafts, music, dancing, snacks, bubbles, and lots of jumping around in God's Love. VBS is an excellent opportunity for children to learn about God while hanging out with their friends and parish family!

Our Parish Catechetical Leader Jessica Plaspohl has been designing a VBS special for St. Joseph Parish. Our theme is going to be centered around the Olympics, called "Go For Gold, Go for God!" Just like all Olympians heading to Tokyo this summer, we too are "training" for a great prize - heaven! We run the "race" of life with faith, love, and the help of Christ. Just as the Olympics are a world wide competition, our Catholic Church is a worldwide "team" of believers. This will be an opportunity to learn about and appreciate different communities all over the world. We are called to support our team with love, mercy, and encouragement as God does for us.

Something we need for this to be successful is volunteers - both adults and teens. We need adults to facilitate the prepared lessons and activities for the campers; and teens to assist and guide the children from station to station. We will also need help in the "kitchen" to prepare snacks for the entire group. If you are unable to help during the day, we could still use assistance with decor and decorating during the weeks leading up to VBS. Please consider lending a hand! You can sign up online at www.saintjoe.org/VBS2021, or contact Jessica Plaspohl at the rectory at 330-928-2173.

Second, I found an article published in the Archdiocese of New York newspaper written by New York Cardinal Timothy M. Dolan. In the article, Dolan urges Catholics to return to Mass, saying that if Catholics feel free to shop or go to sporting events, they should also be in Church. He strongly encourages parishioners who might still be hesitant to go to church during a pandemic to put fears aside and begin to attend in-person services again. His appeal came shortly after the bishops of Nebraska announced plans to restore the obligation to attend Mass on Sundays and holy days. The obligation will be restored May 23 in the Archdiocese of Omaha and the Dioceses of Lincoln and Grand Island. "The reason all Catholics have a grave obligation of being physically present for Mass on Sundays and holy days is because the Eucharist is at the heart of what it is to be a Christian," Bishop James Conley of Lincoln wrote in a March 31 announcement.

Unlike many dioceses and archdioceses, the Archdiocese of New York never lifted the Sunday obligation, although, there was a period when public Mass was not being celebrated and people could not attend.

It has always been the case that a person could, for grave reason — age, illness, infirmity, for instance — legitimately miss Mass; that was particularly true during the pandemic, and remains the case now. But, now that more and more people are being vaccinated, and participating in other events (going to the mall, attending sporting events, eating out at a restaurant, etc.) they should also be returning to Mass. Attending Sunday Mass is a divine obligation, and we cannot dispense from it.

In his Catholic New York column, Cardinal Dolan acknowledged that out of an abundance of caution, churches were closed for public worship at the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic and that even when they began to reopen, people were excused from attendance if they still had concerns about contagion.

But now, he said, it's becoming more and more apparent that many of those same people have little hesitation to frequent secular venues, even as they continue to skip Sunday Mass. "For the majority of us — are we going to restaurants? To the kids' soccer and little league games? To the store? To the beauty parlor? To gatherings with family and friends?" Dolan asked. "Well, then, it's time to get back to Mass."

He said that a pastor in the archdiocese told him that while shopping in local supermarkets, he kept meeting parishioners who "told him how they missed Sunday Mass and wanted to get back." The pastor said to them, "Here you are in a crowded store shopping, taking your time, in contact with items touched by hundreds of people. Church is a lot safer! Come back to get food for your soul!"

Dolan said that parishes have been able to welcome worshipers by engaging in "scrupulous cleaning, sanitation, ventilation, distancing, and restrictions — masks, no holy water or sign of peace, no contact or Communion from the chalice."

"It's time to get back to Sunday Mass," the cardinal urged. "Wear masks, yes! Get tested, you bet! Wash hands, please! Get vaccinated as soon as you can, sure! Keep social distancing, of course! Don't go if you're sick, elderly or your health is shaky, obviously! Don't shake hands! Be grateful good folks carefully sanitize the Church after each Mass. But, for God's sake, get back to Sunday Mass!"

"We need medicine," he concluded. "We need food for the soul! We need vaccination from sin, Satan and eternal death! We need herd immunity as sheep under Christ our Good Shepherd. All this we behold at Mass! How can we stay away? Easter blessings! See you at Mass!"
