FAITH LIFE

“ASK FR. FARNAN”

Q: The date of Easter Sunday is determined by “the first Sunday after the first full moon after the vernal equinox.” Sometimes that means a month difference in the date from one year to the next. The celebration of Christ’s birth was established by the Church as December 25. Why can’t Easter be established as the second or third Sunday in April?

A: I’m going to answer this question in three parts. First, I’ll explain the Hebrew calendar and its relation to Easter. Second, I’ll explain the Gregorian calendar and its relationship to the Julian calendar. And third, I’ll explain why we celebrate the nativity of Jesus as a fixed date, December 25th.

First, this question can also be asked as, “Why can we celebrate Sunday Mass on Saturday evening?” Or, “If Jesus died on Friday, and rose from the dead on Sunday, that’s only two days in the tomb, not three.” What we have to realize is that in Israel they kept time by the moon, whereas we keep time in our culture by the sun. So, the Hebrew calendar functions differently than the Gregorian calendar. For the Hebrew calendar, the day begins at moon rise, not sun rise. Jesus died at 3:00 on Friday, and Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus received permission from Pilate to bury Jesus immediately. They buried him right away so he would not hang on the cross over the Sabbath. So, the first day in the tomb for Jesus was only a few hours, then the Sabbath, and Sunday began at the moon rising Saturday evening. Three days.

The Jewish calendar year begins in late September or early October with the celebration of Rosh Hashana. Unlike our calendar which is based on the solar year, the Jewish calendar uses twelve lunar months of 29 to 30 days in length. The new moon marks the beginning of each month with the full moon occurring halfway through the month. The seventh month in a normal Jewish calendar year is the month of Nisan (also called Abib in the Old Testament). Passover is celebrated on the 14th day of Nisan at the time of the full moon.

Easter is observed on the first Sunday following the full moon that comes on or after the vernal equinox (March 21). Thus Easter can take place as early as March 22 but no later than April 25. This full moon is normally the full moon which takes place on the 14th day of Nisan. Thus in most years Easter is celebrated on the Sunday following Passover.

Every two or three years the Jewish calendar requires the adjustment of a leap year. During a Jewish leap year an additional month of 29 days is inserted before the month of Nisan. The additional month is needed because the Jewish calendar year has less days than the solar year and begins to slip out of gear with the seasons. The extra month thus realigns the Jewish calendar year with the seasons of the solar year. This is important because the Jewish holidays are closely related to the seasons. For example, the Torah commands that Passover be celebrated in the spring.

Every so often the Jewish leap year will push Passover so far into April that a second full moon following the vernal equinox would appear before the Sunday following Passover. This happens anytime the Sunday following Passover falls later than April 25th on our calendar. On those rare occasions Easter is celebrated the month before Passover rather than the Sunday following Passover.

The early church was faced with the following conflict in dates: Jesus rose on a Sunday, but Passover can fall on various days of the week. So the early church saw two options:

- Celebrate Easter in strict relation to the 14th of Nisan without regard for the day of the week, or
- Determine a system whereby Easter could always be celebrated on a Sunday.

Although the issue was hotly debated and variously practiced during the first centuries of the church, the Council of Nicea in 325 A.D. eventually adopted the current system of celebrating Easter on the Sunday following the full moon after the vernal equinox.

Since the Second Vatican Council in 1963 there has been new discussion about fixing the date of Easter on a set Sunday such as the first or second Sunday in April. However, no progress has been made thus far towards such a change.

The Western Church (eg Catholic; Protestant) celebrates Easter based on the Gregorian Calendar, while the Eastern Church (eg Orthodox) follows the Julian Calendar. As a result, in most years the Orthodox Easter follows the Western Easter by one or more weeks, although in some years the dates coincide.

INFANT NEEDS DRIVE

In support of Catholic Charities Infant Needs drive, St. Matthias Parish invites you to encourage family, friends, CCD Classmates, parishioners and neighbors to contribute most need items.

The most needed items are:

- ⇒ Diapers and Pull-ups (all sizes needed)
Name brands such as Huggies and Pampers are preferred due to rash allergies from discount brands.
- ⇒ Baby Wipes
- ⇒ Similac Formula preferred - Advanced or best Alimentum would be great, but any similac formula would help tremendously. Similac is the brand used for WIC and in an effort not to change a Baby's formula, similac is most preferred.

You may drop off your donations at any of St. Matthias' churches — before or after their scheduled Masses. Collections of baby items will continue through January 31st. Thank you for the most precious gift of all — LIFE!!
God bless you!

GOSPEL

Jesus says, "Tell the words of God to those who have never heard it." Tell others that God loves and forgives them. The best way to tell is to show the word of the Lord by your actions. Hand a Band-Aid to your injured brother. Talk instead of hitting someone when you get angry. Say "I forgive you," when your sister hurts you. Let others play with your toys. Share your favorite candy bar.

PRAYER

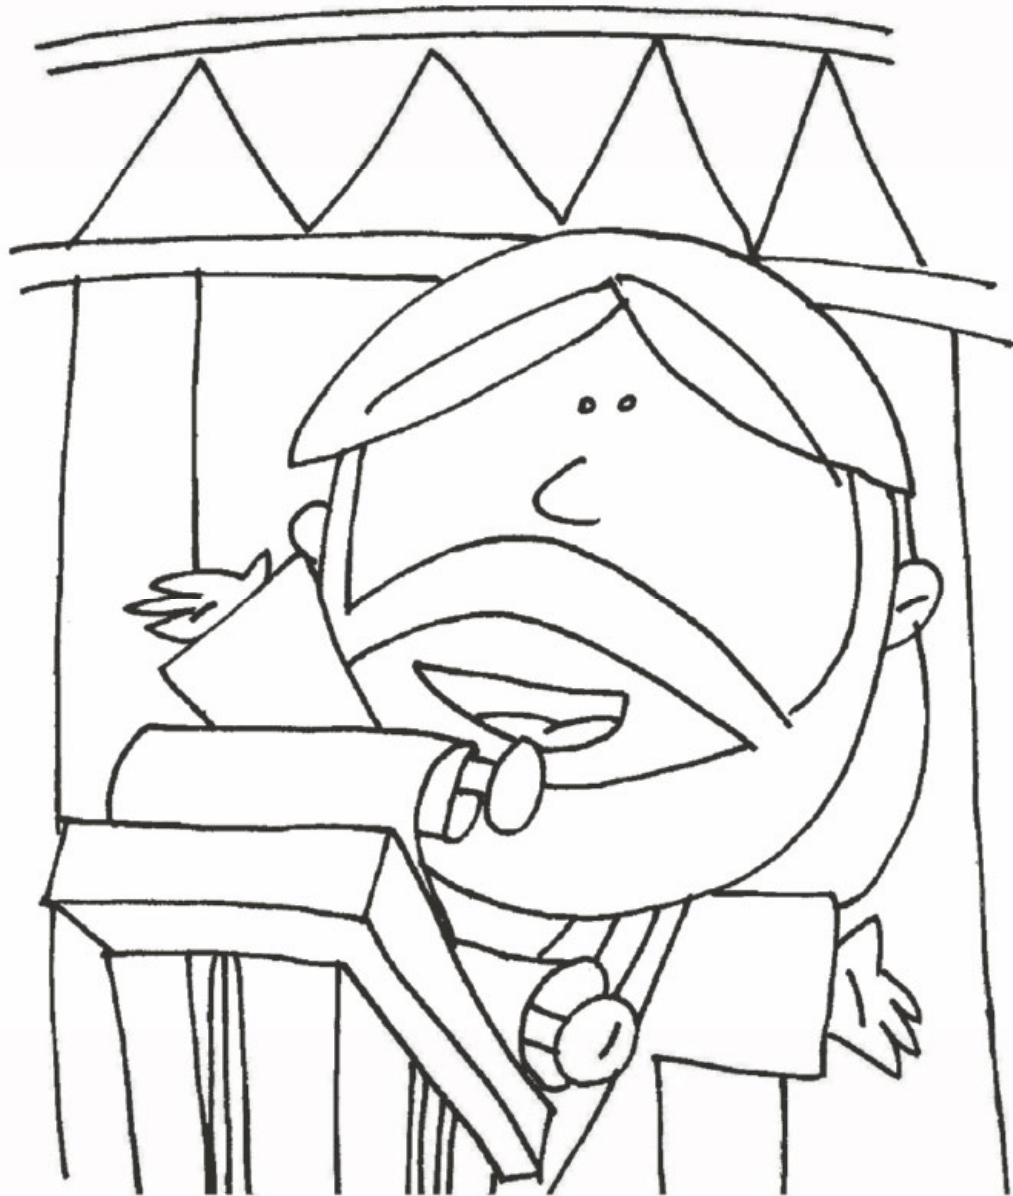

Open the eyes of others to your love and forgiveness, Lord.
