The Way to Fitness - Liturgical Aerobics!

Not long ago I attended a Chapter Meeting of the American Guild of Organists (I've been a member for well over 30 years). The group is comprised of musicians from a variety of Christian denominations. I was sitting at a table with some of my colleagues. During a break, we traded a few jokes and humorous anecdotes. One of them said, "I'm thinking of becoming Catholic so I can get in better physical condition." I inquired, "Why would your physique improve by becoming Catholic?" He answered, "Catholics do aerobics every Sunday in Church. Stand, sit, kneel, stand, sit, kneel..." I let out a little chuckle – and made some kind of a wise-crack. However, as I thought about it, to someone on the outside looking in, "stand, sit, kneel..." may seem a bit bizarre. But, unlike many other denominations, the Catholic Mass calls us to a number of postures, all reflective of particular moments in the prayer – the purpose of which being twofold: (1) Physical response helps us to enter more deeply into the celebration by using all of our senses and (2) it increases our sense of unity in that we're all engaging in similar actions together.

Now that we're in the process of re-introducing kneelers into our Church, this is a good time to talk about "stand, sit, kneel." I've included a chart in this bulletin from our Diocesan Office for Worship. It shows all the postures that the Church requires of us during Mass. If you're a liturgy nerd like me, you can check out more info at: <https://www.dioceseofcleveland.org/files/resources/cdcposturechartduringmasswdocumentation.pdf>

For now, let's look particularly at kneeling and standing. Kneeling takes place during the Eucharistic Prayer (after the Holy, Holy, Holy until the end of the Great Amen). After the Great Amen, we stand and remain standing (including "Lord I am not worthy...") until the last person has received Holy Communion. Once the Communion distribution has ended, each person may sit or kneel as they choose for personal reflection and thanksgiving.

So, you may be thinking, "What if I can't kneel either because of a physical limitation, or in the case of the front rows where there are no kneelers?" Fr. Breck is permitted to make pastoral decisions for the best practice in our particular parish. Where there are kneelers, if you are unable to kneel, you may "sneel," which is sitting on the edge of your seat and leaning forward. Where there are no kneelers, you may be seated. Because of the physical layout of the Church, standing (especially in the front rows) while others are kneeling would greatly hamper the view of the sanctuary for those behind them. In addition, the drastic differences in posture (between kneeling and standing) would more illustrate disunity than unity.

So as we forge ahead to engage in "Liturgical Aerobics," may we all continue to grow as a parish family – in the body, mind and spirit that is St. Mary Magdalene Church!

Godspeed,

Bob Soeder
