Thoughts from Fr. Adam

June is my favorite month of the year! I love how it gets light so early in the morning and stays light so long into the night. I love the weather in June and how the world around us seems so alive! I also celebrate my birthday in June (it's the 41st one if you believe it,) and I celebrate the anniversary of my ordination to the priesthood (11 years for that occasion.) So, as you can see, there is a lot that happens for me and for the Church during this beautiful month.

As I do enter now firmly into a new decade of my life, I find myself being very nostalgic as of late. I find myself reflecting on my past; I have been thinking about friends that have come and gone, memories of growing up in the 1990's and thinking about people I have loved so dearly all through my life. I was chatting with a very, very close friend a few days back and was sharing how grateful I am to God for the people I have met in my life. When I look back, our Lord has blessed me with so many opportunities to meet and get to know people from, literally, all over the world.

As I reflect on people and places, I am so grateful for the gift of the individuals God has placed in my life. Sometimes I think that when God places people in our life they are people we are called to love and to be loved by them. Sometimes these relationships last a lifetime and sometimes maybe some only last for brief time, yet whatever amount of time we have with others, it is a true gift from God.

One of the beautiful aspects of our faith is that our Lord Jesus was fully human. Our Lord loved others, He helped His friends, He would lend a listening heart and ear to those people who needed His help or advice, in short, our Lord Himself truly valued friendships with others. What are some of the big relationships in your life? Who are the most important people that you love? Have you told these people how much they mean to you? One thing I am a firm believer of is that we can never say "I love you" too much and express that to those individuals that God has placed in our life.

I hope that you and the ones you love can enjoy this beautiful month of June! I pray that you can make even more memories with the people you love!

God Bless You All!

Fr. Adam
