Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, October 11, 2020

“Then the king said to his servants,
‘The feast is ready, but those who were invited were not worthy to come.

Go out, therefore, into the main roads and invite to the feast whomever you find.’”

The Gospel passage for today and the past several Sundays have been parables that Jesus used to create images to teach his disciples and challenge the Pharisees, Sadducees and scribes.

Jesus used parables because of all of them, including Jesus himself, the scribes were, by definition, the ones who could read and write.

Some parables, such as today’s Gospel, had rather harsh sounding messages. Many parables were about the consequences we face if we do not understand and acknowledge God as the source of all that we have and fail to be all that God created us to be.

The parable in today’s Gospel is addressed to the leaders and elders of Jesus’ day. They may or may not have been able to read and write, but they were intelligent enough to understand that Jesus was challenging them to be responsible leaders and elders.

Do we understand Jesus is challenging us to be all that God created us to be?
