FROM OUR PASTOR

Dear Friends,

I spent Monday-Thursday of this week in Bismarck, ND at the FOCUS New Staff Training at the University of Mary. It was a great opportunity for me to learn more about best practices of evangelization on college campuses around the country, to meet chaplains from other Newman Centers from the Midwest, and also to meet our new missionaries—Brandon and Jeff—who will be joining Heather and Julia as part of our FOCUS team this fall.

A few weeks ago, I gave you an update on some of our summer projects around the St. Tom's campus, and there's one last one I promised to tell you about. The Fatima Room, formerly the music room, formerly the Fatima chapel, formerly... is currently sitting empty, since we moved the music room to a larger space to better accommodate all of our singers and instrumentalists. After consulting with the pastoral council, I've decided to turn the Fatima Room into a "Vesting Sacristy" with plenty of room for the clergy and servers to get ready for Mass. If you've been in our current sacristy, you know that it's an incredibly small space for a priest, a deacon, and a couple of tall servers to cram into, not to mention the sacristan, Mass coordinator, lectors, and other folks coming in and out.

The hope is to take down the wall in the current sacristy and expand that to one larger room to serve as the "Working Sacristy." That will give more space to work with as our mass coordinators and helpers prepare for Mass, but it will also provide more storage space so that those who decorate and otherwise care for the church do not have to crawl into the space underneath and behind the tabernacle quite so often. While we will have professionals install carpet and our YES volunteers will paint the Vesting Sacristy, I am looking for some handy volunteers who might wish to help with the renovation of the work sacristy. That probably wouldn't take place until later in the summer, closer to when the students return, but it would involve laying a tile floor, tearing down a wall and some cabinetry, and we'll also be installing some new counter space in there. Let me know if you'd like to help with this project! The ladies who call the work sacristy their home will certainly be very grateful!

I hope you're all enjoying your summer so far. Faith, Family, and Fun are a recipe for a happy, holy, and healthy life!

In His Sacred Heart,
Fr. Jeff

IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE

Archbishop Salvatore Cordileone issued a letter May 20 announcing that House Speaker Nancy Pelosi could not receive Holy Communion in the Archdiocese of San Francisco, where her family's primary residence is located. The formal notification marked a new chapter in the archbishop's dogged efforts to meet with Pelosi and encourage a conversion of heart that would lead to a repudiation of her decades-long defense of abortion rights.

Archbishop Cordileone said his actions have been pastoral, not political. Likewise, he defended the move as a last resort that followed years of patient pastoral engagement with the speaker, matched by mounting alarm at her increasingly extremist embrace of abortion rights. And while Pelosi's supporters in and out of the Church have defended the primacy of personal conscience in such matters, the archbishop emphasized that his own conscience established that this fateful step was absolutely necessary.

"I tremble," he wrote in a pastoral letter he issued a year ago, "that if I do not forthrightly challenge Catholics under my pastoral care who advocate for abortion, both they and I have to answer to God for innocent blood."

From our Tele-Health Counselor

Today we celebrate one of the great mysteries of our faith- the Trinity. As the Catechism puts it, "God is one but not solitary" (CCC 254). Though we worship one God, he is Father, Son, and Holy Spirit: a community of love. Jesus tells us that God is love- it is the heart of his nature. And this love shared between members of the Trinity burst forth to bring life to all creation! One of the first things Scripture tells us is that God created us in his image and likeness.

One of the many lessons we can pull from this, is that we were created to exist in a communion of love too, as the Trinity does. We are not meant to be alone. Surely one of the lessons we've all learned during the pandemic has been the importance of community and how difficult it can be to live without! If you find yourself struggling to find a good community, a few suggestions.

First, think about your interests and consider finding a group of like minded people in a book club, gardening group, bible study, or sports group. Many parishes have a variety of groups for both ministry, volunteering, and fellowship and are a good place to start your search. If you can't find a group that sparks your interest, consider starting one!

Second, if you are searching for a deeper community, consider the people that God has already put in your life. Consider taking to prayer how you can invest in those relationships to help them to grow and develop.

Finally, I'd like to invite everyone to consider reaching out to someone they feel can benefit from more love and friendship in their lives.

We all know people that are lonely. One concrete way that we can both experience and share the love of God would be to reach out this week to someone we know lacks community. It can be inconvenient or even scary to take that step, but it is one sure way of celebrating the love of the Trinity this week.
