Despite the difficulties, we are looking ahead to the exciting trips planned for the upcoming year. When signing up for these trips, please ensure that payment is made promptly to secure your spot. If payment is not received, kindly add your name to the waiting list until arrangements are made.

It is important to remember that the Senior Center is a place of community and camaraderie, not a platform for political debates. We all hold diverse beliefs and opinions, and it is our right to do so. Let us embrace our differences without engaging in unnecessary arguments.

AARP is currently offering free tax preparation services at the Center. If you require assistance with your taxes, please reach out to us to schedule an appointment. We have additional openings available, and it is important to note that all individuals assisting with tax preparation are volunteers. ROSIE THE RIVETER

The true identity of Rosie the Riveter has been the subject of considerable debate. For years, the inspiration for the woman in the Westinghouse poster was believed to be Geraldine Hoff Doyle of Michigan, who worked in the Navy machine shop during World War II.

Other sources claim that Rosie was actually Rose Will Monroe, who worked as a riveter at the Willow Run Bomber Plant near Detroit. Monroe also was featured in a promotional film for war bonds.

And Rosalind P. Walter from Long Island, New York, is known to be the Rosie from the popular song by Evans and Loeb. Walter was, in fact, on Corsair fighter planes.

But the most credible claim on Rosie’s legacy came from Naomi Parker Fraley, who was photographed working in the machine shop at the Naval Air Station in Alameda, California. In the 1942 photo, she is sporting a telltale polka-dotted bandana. Fraley passed away in January 2018.
