FREE ADMISSION

FROM FATHER POGGEMEYER

Dear Parishioners,

+JMJ

Last week we had another St Wendelin Educational Foundation meeting. You remember that the mission of the Educational Foundation is to provide financial support for Catholic schooling for our parish children. Since the closing of our own schools, parents apply for scholarships to help their children attend a Catholic school in the vicinity. Most of our Catholic school children are attending either Fremont Bishop Hoffman or Tiffin Calvert.

One discussion item for us was what to do about those families that apply for and receive scholarship money, yet never attend weekend Mass or volunteer for anything at the parish. Should we police their Mass attendance and volunteerism more rigorously? Should we give partial scholarships to people we see only rarely at weekend Mass, or who volunteer very little? Should we refuse scholarships to families that never attend weekend Mass or volunteer for a ministry?

Before I go further, I should state that I understand some parents work all weekend, and there is literally no way for somebody with such a work schedule to get to weekend Mass. I also understand that some people's lives are so chaotic and full of trials that getting to Mass or volunteering at the parish is not even on the radar. Much has to happen to bring some stability to their life, before they would be able to accomplish a trip to Holy Mass or volunteer for something at the parish. But, what about those parents who don't have work or home conflicts that make weekend Mass and volunteerism impossible? They just choose not to attend Mass or serve the parish in any way.

Policing the capable-yet-not-participating families is very tedious, for many reasons. We stopped policing Mass attendance and parish service last year. Somebody might say that it's not fair that some scholarship families have to attend Mass and volunteer for a parish ministry, while other scholarship families get away with no Mass and no volunteerism.

I'd like to approach it from a totally different perspective. Those families who choose to attend Holy Mass and commit to some service/ministry at the parish are actually living the more blessed life! [I am thinking about Deuteronomy chapters 29-30, where the Lord explains how Israel suffered because they fell away from Him, and he is now laying before them a choice: blessing and life, or curse and death.] I am pretty sure that the Faith will be handed on to the children of participating families much more successfully than in non-participating families. So right away some generational blessing has begun. Those participating families are already living the great benefit of their commitment. When we attend Holy Mass, we are standing at Calvary and witnessing the greatest act of love the world has ever known! Amazing!! The reward, the blessing, is built right into attendance at Mass. Blessing is also built into a service taken on in thanksgiving. Such families are living a faith culture that actually supports all the effort they are putting into getting their children to Catholic school. Families that do not attend Mass or volunteer are already experiencing something of a curse. They are contradicting the Catholic schooling of their children. They are missing out on the Lord's presence in Mass! That's a huge negative! How blessed are those families who realize that the Eucharist is the source and summit of the Christian life! They are blessed beyond families who don't. And how blessed are those families who give back in thanksgiving! Again, they are blessed beyond families who don't. The abundant life is the life lived in Jesus Christ. Jesus Christ is life! He said so Himself. And to know Him (and live for Him) is life! Again, He said it Himself.

In light of the blessing inherent in attendance at Mass and gratefully taking on a service/ministry, we don't have to think it's unfair that some scholarship recipient families avoid Mass and parish service/ministry. Those families who opt out of Mass and service opt out of the blessing inherent in these expressions of faith and gratitude. We want to encourage such families as much as possible; but I am not sure that forcing them for the sake of scholarship money is the answer. Conversion in their lives probably will not happen this way. May the Lord give us wisdom for how best to bring such families back into the blessed life, especially back to Holy Mass!

Have a blessed week!

In cordibus Iesu et Mariae et Iosephus,

Father Poggemeyer

HAPPY CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK!

This coming week is an opportunity to celebrate the beautiful gift of Catholic education, made available through our parish and, in a particular way, through the Catholic schools in our area. These schools provide unique opportunities for young minds to be immersed in the truths of the Faith and for young hearts to be transformed through a relationship with Jesus Christ.

The Lord tells us in our first reading this weekend that He has appointed each of us - the members of the Church, the baptized- as "a prophet to the nations" (Jer 1:5). This is the vocation of our Catholic schools, and what an opportunity the Church has through our schools to be a prophetic voice in the midst of our society and culture today!

Let us each commit to praying for our Catholic school teachers, administrators, students, parents, and families this week, that they might embrace this vocation to be a prophet to the nations through their school culture which prepares students to go out into the world to be witnesses to the truth of Jesus Christ!

Come experience the real presence of Christ in the Eucharist!

MUSIC & LITURGY

The Feast of the Presentation of the Lord or Candlemas

This Wednesday, February 2, is the Feast of the Presentation of the Lord. In the Traditional Latin Mass, it is known as the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Celebrated since the fourth century beginning in Jerusalem, it is one of the oldest feasts in the Church this feast is the fortieth day after Christmas. Many countries throughout the world continue to celebrate this feast day with great joy as the end of the Christmas season. Saint John Paul II began a tradition of keeping the Vatican Nativity up until this date.

According to the Law of Moses, 33 days after a boy's circumcision—which was eight days after his birth—the boy was consecrated to the Lord and the mother was purified by offering a sacrifice in the temple. Mary and Joseph of course kept this custom and it is recounted in Luke 2:22-40. Simeon, a righteous and just man awaiting the coming of the Messiah, took the boy Jesus into his arms and blessed God, saying:

“Now, Master, you may let your servant go in peace, according to your word, for my eyes have seen the salvation, which you prepared in sight of all the peoples: a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and glory for your people Israel.” (Luke 2:29-32)

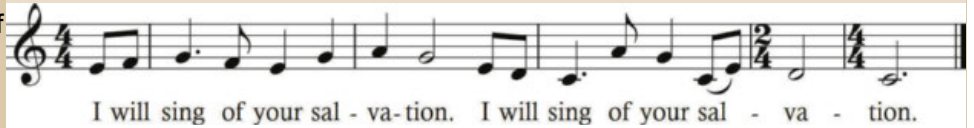

Simeon's great prayer announced that the Messiah had come and not just for the just, but for sinners; and not just for the Jews, but for Gentiles. Jesus, the light of the world (see John 8:12), comes to dispel darkness. For this reason, this day is also called The Feast of Lights. At the beginning of Mass, the priest blesses candles which will be used throughout the liturgical year. The faithful traditionally bring candles to be blessed for use in their homes to be lit during prayer or in difficult times. Those present hold lighted candles and move in procession, hence the term “Candlemas.”

This great feast is a reminder of the light we received at our baptism where we were instructed to “walk always as a child of the light” (Order of Baptism, 64).

The Diocesan and Saint Michael Prayers can be found in the back of the hymnal.
