Prayer for Protection

O Mary, you always shine on our path as a sign of salvation and hope. We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick, who at the cross took part in Jesus' pain, keeping your faith firm. You, Salvation of the American People, and all people, know what we need, and we are sure you will provide so that, as in Cana of Galilee, we may return to joy and to feasting after this time of trial. Help us, Mother of Divine Love, to conform to the will of the Father and to do as we are told by Jesus, who has taken upon himself our sufferings and carried our sorrows to lead us, through the cross, to the joy of the resurrection. Amen. Under your protection, we seek refuge, Holy Mother of God. Do not disdain the entreaties of we who are in trial, but deliver us from every danger, O glorious and blessed Virgin. Hail Mary (x3) Adopted from Pope Francis

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from you. Amen.

LITURGICAL NOTES

Entrance: Vindicate me, O God, and defend my cause against an ungodly nation; from wicked and deceitful men deliver me, for you are my God and my strength.

Offertory: I will praise you, O Lord, with my whole heart; deal bountifully with your servant, that I may live and observe your word; revive me according to your word, O Lord.

Communion: Woman, has no one condemned you? – No one, Lord. – Neither do I condemn you; go and do not sin again.

As so beautifully foreshadowed in Isaiah today, the love and mercy of Jesus Christ flows like a river in the parched desert of humanity, bringing life to what was once dead. This dual imagery of life and death traditionally becomes quite pronounced starting with the fifth Sunday of Lent, the beginning of "Passiontide". The Pharisees are now actively conspiring to have our Lord killed, and He in turn begins speaking plainly in condemnation of the prevailing hardness of hearts in those days. We sense both the impending doom of the crucifixion and the saving action of God being at hand: "Vindicate me, O God, and defend my cause against an ungodly nation". Life and death prepare for decisive warfare; what is the response of the Church? Faith in God: "I will praise you, O Lord, with my whole heart; deal bountifully with your servant". When all seems humanly impossible, the Psalmist exhorts us to turn to God. Christ himself would have prayed these words, modeling for us the steadfastness required to navigate the stormy waters of this life, especially our days where self-serving indifference and angry resentment against "oppressive religion" prevail, creating an environment of – at best – distrust towards people of faith and – at worst – outright persecution. May we find strength in the patient suffering of our Savior, who endured all things for all of us. I am all yours! Totus tuus!

FROM THE PASTOR

THE JOURNEY OF RENEWAL—LENT 2022

Part V

Very Rev. Joseph Mary Lukyamuzi, V.F.

“Create in me a pure heart, O God, and renew a steadfast spirit within me.” Psalm 51:10

Lent in this year of 2022 is not about worshipping from home. We are wanted and expected to come back and be part of the Church, worshipping and praising the Lord together and renewing our community spirit. Pope Francis reminds us that it is “a favorable time to prepare to celebrate with renewed hearts the great mystery of the death and resurrection of Jesus, the cornerstone of our personal and communal Christian life. We must continually return to this mystery in mind and heart, for it will continue to grow within us in the measure that we are open to its spiritual power and respond with freedom and generosity.”

This is a season in which we are called to stop whatever we are doing, no matter how important it might be, and do some spring cleaning of the soul. We are invited to enter more intentionally into the disciplines of prayer, self-examination, and repentance for the purpose of renewal and restoration. We cannot be willing to sit in our messy house and be settled in it; we have to be honest about the fact that we are in chaos. To the best of our ability, we must search and acknowledge what got us into the mess we are in, feel remorse, and say, “I wish I hadn’t done that.” This is truth in the inward being and a step towards renewal.

Many of us have a hard time admitting that our house is messy. We have many ways of distracting ourselves from knowing the truth in the inward being and seeing ourselves and our lives as they truly are; that is why you find a number of people who fear silence! The renewal of our hearts and souls begins with a willingness to be honest about the ways in which we have given ourselves over to distraction, to half-truths, and to sin. It is the willingness to be honest about the ways in which we feel distant from God and to tell as much truth as possible about how we got there. The psalmist says: “...You desired faithfulness even in the womb; you taught me wisdom in that secret place” (Ps. 51: 6). Oftentimes, the practice of entering into the Lenten season has been reduced to the question: “What are you giving up for Lent?” This is a fine question, but it can only take us so far. The real question of the Lenten season is: *how will I clear out the junk and garbage in my life so that I can be restored to God in some fresh way? What are the disciplines that will open space for God to create a clean heart and new spirit in me?

To begin, we might consider disciplines of abstinence that help us clear out the clutter of things we distract ourselves with and depend upon that are not God. These can include fasting from foods that comfort our emptiness, from caffeine or alcohol that keeps us stimulated, from certain forms of media or technology that keep us distracted from proper introspection, from mindless spending that keeps us numb, or from addiction to the spotlight that keeps us dependent on other people’s praise. Disciplines of fasting and other kinds of abstinence help us to clear the decks for spiritual action. As we clear out the clutter in our souls, we become more finely attuned to what is spiritually going on in our lives and the invitations that God extends to us. As we experience a broken and contrite heart in the face of what we are seeing, the way is opened for God to “teach us wisdom in our secret heart”.
