Prayer for Protection

O Mary, you always shine on our path as a sign of salvation and hope. We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick, who at the cross took part in Jesus' pain, keeping your faith firm. You, Salvation of the American People, and all people, know what we need, and we are sure you will provide so that, as in Cana of Galilee, we may return to joy and to feasting after this time of trial. Help us, Mother of Divine Love, to conform to the will of the Father and to do as we are told by Jesus, who has taken upon himself our sufferings and carried our sorrows to lead us, through the cross, to the joy of the resurrection. Amen. Under your protection, we seek refuge, Holy Mother of God. Do not disdain the entreaties of we who are in trial, but deliver us from every danger, O glorious and blessed Virgin. Hail Mary (x3) Adopted from Pope Francis

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from you. Amen.

ANNUAL DIOCESAN APPEAL

Christ desires to remove our doubts and to give us His peace. His peace helps us to follow Him more fully and freely in all areas of life—including our support of the Church and of our Annual Diocesan Appeal. Ask for Christ's peace and see how He moves you to give today. Contributions can be made at the Parish or by scanning the QR Code.

(Please make checks payable to Catholic Diocese of Richmond and include your address for proper credit.) We have met

64% of our $26,170 parish goal so far! Thank you!!

LITURGICAL NOTES

Entrance: As newborn babes, alleluia, long for pure spiritual milk, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Offertory: The Angel of the Lord came down from heaven and said to the women: "The One whom you seek has risen, as he said he would", alleluia.

Communion: Stretch forth your hand, and feel the place where the nails were, alleluia; and be not doubtful but believing, alleluia, alleluia.

Today is "Quasmodo Sunday" because the first two words of the Entrance Antiphon are...wait for it...Quasi modo ("in a similar way" to newborn babes...)! St. Peter, our first Holy Father, is exhorting us to long to be fed that we might grow in strength and maturity in our faith. We are brought back to the time of the Resurrection when the apostles and disciples were just beginning to understand everything Jesus taught them. The Church is presenting us the central mystery of our Faith anew and calling us to go back to the essentials. We sinned, Christ chose to die to save us, and now

He wants His saving message made known to the world. This begins with us turning to God like little children and encountering His infinite Mercy, letting it touch the deepest, darkest parts of our souls and transforming us. The Offertory and Communion Antiphons highlight the virtue of hope or trust, which, interestingly, is one of the central tenets of the Divine Mercy message, which we also commemorate today. Our Lord said to St. Faustina (the visionary recipient of the Divine Mercy messages) the degree of trust with which we approach the "fount of mercy" corresponds to the degree of mercy shown to us. The more we open ourselves to the Love of God, the greater the transformation that takes place in our souls. Come join us for the Holy Hour in honor of Divine Mercy today circa 3:15pm (after Latin Mass) to receive from the abundance of Sacred Heart. Jesus, I trust in You!

THE POWER IN HIS RESURRECTION Part II

Very Rev. Joseph Mary Lukyamuzi, V.F.

“And if Christ has not been raised, your faith is futile, and you are still in your sins. Then those also who have fallen asleep in Christ have perished. If in Christ we have hope in this life only, we are of all people most to be pitied.” 1 Corinthians 15:17-19

I want to know Christ. I want to know the power of his resurrection. This is Paul's primary desire; this is what Paul wants more than anything else in this life: To know the living, the resurrected Christ, and to know the power associated with that resurrection. If we agree with St. Paul that the life we live now is because of Christ and that the peace, freedom, and joy we hold on to is because of Christ's resurrection, then we need to join St. Paul in seeking the purpose for which Christ rose from the dead and the power made available to us through His resurrection.

It is therefore reasonable to think that if Christ is not raised from the dead, then he has no power today. He is dead. His words might have some influence -- but he himself has no power. As Catholic Christians, however, we hold the resurrection as central to a Christian's life. Christianity is not a religion based on abstract principles. Christianity is a relationship with a living Savior – a Savior we can know, a Savior who infuses our life and empowers us, a Savior who transforms us into his likeness.

Jeremiah 9:23-24 says: “Thus says the LORD: ‘Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, let not the mighty man boast in his might, let not the rich man boast in his riches, but let the one who boasts, boast about this: that they have the understanding to know me.” So, knowing God is more important than wisdom, or strength, or riches. Think about the people who are most admired in this world. They are admired for those three qualities. We tend to admire those who are bright, intelligent, and knowledgeable, or those who are physically gifted in strength, talent, or beauty, or those who have amassed great wealth. The Lord says through Jeremiah, though, that none of these things are of great importance. What matters more than anything else is understanding and knowing the Lord, the covenantal God who delights in kindness, justice, and righteousness. This prominence of knowing God even carries over into the gospels. Jesus himself, on the night prior to his death, prays for his followers, saying: “Now this is eternal life: that they may know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom you have sent.” John. 17:3

Peter also emphasizes this point, saying that “His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness.” 2 Peter 1:3. So, our knowledge of him leads to his empowering us with everything we need for life and godliness. St. John makes a similar point in his first letter, saying: “We know also that the Son of God has come and has given us understanding, so that we may know him who is true. And we are in him who is true – even in his Son Jesus Christ. He is the true God and eternal life.” 1 John 5:20. The very purpose of the Incarnation was to know him – Emmanuel, or God with us. So, both in the Old and New Testaments, all agree that knowing God, knowing Jesus, is central to the relationship we can have with him. But what does knowing Jesus mean? Surely, knowing God or Jesus is much more than knowing facts about God or Jesus.

We need to cultivate a deep, personal relationship with Him. The first step is putting your faith in him, believing that He is the Son of God, believing that the event we celebrate today, the resurrection, really did take place, and wanting Him to make you into a new creation. A second step is spending time in prayer. Pray alone, and with others. In prayer, you can share all your joys, frustrations, and sorrows with the God of the universe, the God who cares. Talking to God builds your relationship with him. The third step is following. Listen as you pray and read the Bible. Be willing to follow, even when his commands don't seem to make sense. Depend on God when his requirements seem unreasonable. When you do this – when you step out in faith – He will be there to support you, and you will see Jesus as a living, risen Savior and enjoy the power of his RESURRECTION.
