Prayer for Protection

O Mary, you always shine on our path as a sign of salvation and hope. We entrust ourselves to you, Health of the Sick, who at the cross took part in Jesus' pain, keeping your faith firm. You, Salvation of the American People, and all people, know what we need, and we are sure you will provide so that, as in Cana of Galilee, we may return to joy and to feasting after this time of trial. Help us, Mother of Divine Love, to conform to the will of the Father and to do as we are told by Jesus, who has taken upon himself our sufferings and carried our sorrows to lead us, through the cross, to the joy of the resurrection. Amen. Under your protection, we seek refuge, Holy Mother of God. Do not disdain the entreaties of we who are in trial, but deliver us from every danger, O glorious and blessed Virgin. Hail Mary (x3)
Adopted from Pope Francis

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

LITURGICAL NOTES

Entrance: Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given. Dominion is on his shoulder and his name shall be called the Angel of Great Counsel.

Offertory: Yours are the heavens, yours is the earth, the world and the fullness thereof have been founded by you. Righteousness and justice are the foundation of your throne.

Communion: All the ends of the earth have seen the salvation which comes from our God.

These Propers are one of four sets of Propers for Christmas. On Christmas Eve, the Antiphons have reached the climax of Advent expectation – "...tomorrow you will see his glory." At midnight (now "Mass in the night"), the Antiphons attest to the divinity of the Christ Child with several references to Him having been "begotten" before all creation. At dawn, the Antiphons speak of the Savior in terms of radiant light and joy, proclaiming that His coming is at hand as the rising of the sun heralds the arrival of day. At the day Mass (listed above), the Antiphons highlight Christ's kingly dominion and the orderliness it shall bring/restore to creation. The Communion Antiphon offers an elegant conclusion to the (more or less) 12-hour saga. At the Vigil, the Communion declared, "all flesh shall see the salvation which comes from our God"; today's Communion completes this thought: "all the ends of the earth have seen the salvation which comes from our God". Let us reflect this holy day on the humility of God, Who, for our sake, subjected Himself the laws of creation, to Whom belongs the very same "world and the fullness thereof".

Merry Christmas!

FROM THE PASTOR

A JOURNEY OF ADEVENT -TRAVELING FROM HOPE TO JOY Part IV

Very Rev. Joseph Mary Lukyamuzi, V.F.

"My soul proclaims the greatness of the Lord;
my spirit rejoices in God my savior."

Luke 1:46-47

As we reflect on the last week of Advent, which has now given way to the joy of Christmas, the focus shifts ever more directly upon the miracle that took place over 2,000 years ago. There is an age-old question that asks, "Which came first, the chicken or the egg?" Well, perhaps it's an age-old "question" because only God knows the answer to how He created the world and all the creatures within it.

The first line of the previous Sunday's gospel from the glorious song of praise of our Blessed Mother, the Magnificat, poses to us another question. "Which comes first, to praise God or to rejoice in Him?" Perhaps you've never asked yourself that question, but it's worth pondering both the question and the answer.

This first line of Mary's song of praise identifies two actions taking place within her. She "proclaims" and she "rejoices." Think about those two interior experiences. The question can be better phrased like this: Did Mary proclaim God's greatness because she was first filled with joy? Or was she filled with joy because she first proclaimed the greatness of God? Perhaps the answer is a bit of both, but the ordering of this line in Sacred Scripture implies that she first proclaimed and as a result was filled with joy.

This is not just a philosophical or theoretical reflection; rather, it is a very practical one that offers significant insight into our daily lives. Oftentimes in life we wait to be "inspired" by God before we thank and praise Him. We wait until God touches us, fills us with a joyful experience, answers our prayer and then we respond with gratitude. This is good. But why wait? Why wait to proclaim the greatness of God?

Should we proclaim the greatness of God when things are difficult in life? Yes. Should we proclaim the greatness of God when we do not feel His presence in our lives? Yes. Should we proclaim the greatness of God even when we encounter the heaviest of crosses in life? Most certainly yes.

Proclaiming the greatness of God should not only be done after some powerful inspiration or answer to prayer. It should not only be done after we experience the closeness of God. Proclaiming God's greatness is a duty of love and must always be done, every day, in every circumstance, no matter what. We proclaim God's greatness primarily because of Who He is. He is God, and He is worthy of all our praise for that fact alone.

Interestingly, however, the choice to proclaim the greatness of God, both in good times and in difficult times, often also leads to the experience of joy. It appears that Mary's spirit rejoiced in God her Savior primarily because she first proclaimed His greatness. Joy comes from first serving God, loving Him and giving Him the honor due His name.

As we begin the season of Christmas, proclaiming must always come first, even if we feel as though there is nothing to rejoice about. But if you can commit yourself to the proclamation of the greatness of God, you will suddenly find that you have discovered the deepest cause of joy in life: God Himself.

So, we pray: Mother Mary, you chose to proclaim the greatness of God. You acknowledged His glorious action in your life and in the world, and your proclamation of these truths filled you with joy. Pray for us that we may also seek to glorify God each and every day, no matter what challenges or blessings we receive. May we imitate you, dear Mother, and share also in your perfect joy. Mother Mary, pray for us.

A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL!
