FIRST READING

Eli was the priest of the temple in Shiloh. He raised Samuel and helped Samuel to hear God's voice in his life. Who have you taught to hear God's voice?

SECOND READING

Paul taught the Corinthians that believers should "glorify God in your body" by avoiding immorality. What do you think is needed to live a good, moral life?

GOSPEL READING

In John's account of the call of the first disciples, Jesus poses the question, "What are you looking for?" In your own spiritual journey, how do you know you have found Jesus?

Lifestyles of the brave and mobile

Media coverage is thick concerning the lifestyles of the rich and famous. The lives of the truly heroic, on the other hand—faithful spouses, conscientious parents, the working poor, folks who turn their lives around after addiction or costly misdirection—are mostly hidden from view. Faithful discipleship requires effort, quiet persistence, and most of all, movement in the spirit. Followers don't stand still, unchangeable in opinions or behaviors. Growth is required. The terms of the deal are as follows: "Come—and see."

FULFILLED IN YOUR HEARING: HOW JESUS READ THE BIBLE

Presented by Ricky Shinall, M.D., Ph.D.
January 17, 24, & 31 @ 10:30am
<http://www.ctk.org/adult-formation>

Almost a quarter of the gospels consists in quotations from the Old Testament, many of them on the lips of Jesus. What can we learn about biblical interpretation from how Jesus interpreted and used these texts? How did the early Christians read the Old Testament? Do we read it in the same way? In this Sunday morning adult education Zoom series, CTK parishioner and biblical scholar Ricky Shinall will help us answer these questions over the course of three weeks by examining Jesus's own use of the Law, the Writings, and the Prophets.

WORD on FAITH

This past Christmas, a song played on repeat in my mind:

*Have yourself a merry little Christmas,
Let your heart be light,
From now on our troubles will be out of sight.
Have yourself a merry little Christmas,
Make the Yule-tide gay,
From now on our troubles will be far away.*

Yet even as I heard myself humming the tune, I knew it was not completely true. Our troubles run too deep, they will not disappear anytime soon.

I am thankful that we are moving toward a time when family and friends will be able to be “near to us once more.” I look forward to the long lines of people waiting to receive food boxes shortening. I pray the families separated at our border will be together next Christmas. Yet I know many of us will still be mourning loved ones who died, many of us will still be hungry, many of us will be dealing with the effects of traumatic experiences.

I don't write this to pile on more sadness. I write because I believe Charles Dickens was on to something—experiences and remembrance of them have the power to transform us. If we reflect on what we have experienced, we may find that our hearts open to the flow of grace—and we may change. Ebenezer Scrooge did not decide to live differently, he was led by spirits that showed him the goodness of living with kindness, generosity and grace. May we be so led by the spirit of Christmas Past.
