MISSION STATEMENT

"We, the members of the Catholic Community, are called by God and empowered by the Holy Spirit to continue the Mission of Jesus. We are called to worship, to teach, to preach the Gospel message, and to extend concern and compassion to all in need."

Sr. Pat Eeckhout,
Sisters of Divine Providence Serving

Postscripts from Sr. Pat

Whenever we speak about the parents of Jesus, we almost always focus our attention on Mary and leave Joseph out of the picture unless the discussion centers on the circumstances surrounding Jesus’ birth. Because the Gospels say little about Joseph, it is easy to think of him as playing only a minor role in Jesus’ life. However, the fact that Jesus preferred to address God as Abba, an Aramaic word which means “my father,” suggests that Joseph influenced Jesus more than we usually think. Tell a little child today that God is our heavenly Father, and that child will immediately picture his or her earthly father. If that father is often drunk or abusive, the child might think of God in the same way and will probably grow up fearing God instead of loving him. On the other hand, if the father comes home from work and gives his child a big hug and then later tucks the child into bed, the child will probably picture God as being gentle and caring.

The Gospels make it clear that Jesus thought of his heavenly Father as kind, loving, and concerned about the poor. Jesus probably developed this image of God because he observed these same qualities in Joseph, his earthly father.

By their example, parents teach their children how to love and how to forgive. They also teach them values like honesty, compassion, fairness, and respect for others. Therefore, Joseph could not have taught Jesus how to be loving and patient unless he, too, was compassionate and forgiving. Likewise, Joseph could not have taught Jesus the importance of prayer unless prayer was important in his own life.

Although the Gospels do not say much about what Joseph was like, all evidence indicates he was a major influence during Jesus’ psychological and religious development. Indeed, he played a much greater role than we usually attribute to him.(J.J.Sabatowich)

Think about this: While we have the gift of life, it seems to me the only tragedy is to allow part of us to die—whether it is our spirit, our creativity, or our glorious uniqueness.

Sr. Pat

The Nativity of the Lord

Our hearts are aglow with the joy of Christmas! Our senses are alive with the season, from the rich smells of evergreen and gingerbread to the feel of crisp air on our skin and the warmth of a loved one's embrace. At some point in the holiday hustle and bustle, take a few moments of quiet. In the silence, reflect on the other senses of the season. Imagine the cool damp of an animal stable, the earthy smell of hay and feed, and the crisp night air blowing softly. Imagine kneeling beside an exhausted, joyful mother and a relieved, protective father. Imagine an infant wrapped in cloth scraps held out to your open arms. Imagine holding the infant Jesus. As his eyes meet yours, welcome into your heart the greatest gift of Christmas.

Christmas Intentions on next page

CSA 2021

I would like to take this time to thank our family parishioners who have given to our CSA campaign, especially those who have stepped up to the thousand dollar pledge and MORE. We have had 218 of the 307 families we had last year give. We still have until the end of the year to reach our goal. In doing so, it makes us look strong as a parish in the view of the AOD and in the Family of Parishes when we start our journey.

If you have not already pledged, please consider doing so. Just another $15,074 to reach our goal, all money over stays in the family. Join the thousand dollar group, the five hundred, or whatever you can give. Every little bit helps. Please consider.

God Bless

Deacon Stan

Stewardship Ties

There is a lot of imagery around Christmas that has to do with adoption — or, more specifically, with a child being loved by another as if they belonged to that person and loved in such a profound way that in time, they do come to belong to that person.

We see this with Joseph and the infant Jesus. Joseph is not Jesus' biological father. But through a series of actions, and through his faithfulness in small, everyday matters, Joseph becomes the foster father of Jesus.

Perhaps we are parents who have adopted children, or we ourselves were adopted. We have also seen how, through a series of actions of love and sacrifice, someone can become the parent of a person who is not their "blood." A lot of times these families celebrate the day of the adoption. I've heard it called a "gotcha day," and it's marked joyously, like a birthday.

Most of us are not descended from the Israelites, God's Chosen People. But through a series of extraordinary actions of love and sacrifice, God has made Himself our parent, too. And through our own actions, and through faithfulness in small and everyday matters, we are His children.

But in this family, instead of blood ties, we have stewardship ties. It's not about who we look like, it's about how we treat one another. How we take care of one another.

So this Christmas, let's think about how we will celebrate our adoption. As much as it is Jesus' birthday, it's also our "gotcha day" — the day we received the gift of eternal family.

Sharing the Gospel

Imagine how the Christmas story may have happened today. Joseph drove Mary in their jeep through the sleet and snow to the city of his birth to be counted. No motels had rooms. A homeless shelter attendant said, "We have no beds, but you can sleep in the broom closet." Jesus was born the next day in a sleeping bag in a closet with three mice, a couple cats and a dog. God and his angels were happy.

Prayer

Lord, thank you for my bed. Give others a place to sleep.

Mission for the Week

I will give canned food, sheets, blankets, or money to help a homeless shelter.

It will reopen Monday, January 3rd.

ST. JOHN, APOSTLE

St. Thomas Becket | Feast Day December 29

Not many saints can be relatable to our times, but St. Thomas Becket (December 21, 1118 – December 29, 1170) is one of the few. King Henry II, a good friend, made him chancellor of England at the age of 36. Then, despite St. Thomas Becket warning the king that he would not blindly follow his wishes, he was appointed Archbishop of Canterbury in 1162.

Soon after, King Henry insisted upon seizing Church rights. In the name of peace, St. Thomas Becket came close to a compromise, and momentarily approved the Constitutions of Clarendon, which would have denied the clergy the right of trial by a Church court. But he later rejected this, and for his safety fled to France where he remained in exile for seven years.

Although returning to England meant almost certain death, St. Thomas Becket came back. According to historical accounts, King Henry implored, "Who will free me from this troublesome priest!" St. Thomas Becket was later murdered by four knights in his Canterbury Cathedral as he was praying. For his part in the murder, King Henry performed public penance after St. Thomas Becket's canonization.
