Journal

HOMILY 5th Sunday Ordinary Time February 5-6, 2022

I want to ask all of the single boys and men in the congregation to stand. These are the potential priests in our congregation today. The Gospel Reading today is about Jesus calling three of the apostles: Peter, James and John. I want to take this opportunity to talk about vocations to the diocesan priesthood, and I want to start by talking a little about my own vocation. I grew up in an all white Catholic neighborhood, and I lived a half a block from the church. It was a new neighborhood and a new parish and a new school; and that is why the majority of the people bought houses there. I went through 12 years of Catholic school. The majority of the teachers were religious sisters and brothers. I had a lot of contact with priests as well, and they were all positive experiences. They were all good role models. I was an altar server, and I sang in the choir. I was at church a lot growing up. People used to say, "You are going to be a priest some day." At that young age, I never thought much about it. When I got into high school, my world was looking pretty small. When I was 15, I got a job at a movie theatre and had non-Catholic friends for the first time in my life. I went to college at Wayne State University where the student population was very diverse, and I took a wide variety of classes. When I got my degree in psychology, I took a job working at a state agency with disabled people, and my service area was downtown Detroit. Again my world opened up to the poor and the disabled and I loved it; but I knew I would not be doing this for the rest of my life. Getting married and having a family did not seem quite right to me at that point. I was more interested in education and work. I got a masters degree in guidance and counseling, and then I went to law school. When I passed the bar, I took a job at one of the largest law firms in Michigan. For the first time in my life, I hated my job. I did not like the competitive environment. I had the potential to make a lot of money and did not care. I was doing medical malpractice defense representing the hospital's interests. My clients were hospital attorneys, and I did not feel I was helping anybody. One of the partners found out I was Catholic and continuously made fun of Catholics. For the first time in my life, I felt that I had to defend my faith. I worked at that firm for six months, and it was a terrible experience; but it clarified all of my values. It was at this point that I started thinking about the priesthood; and it took me several years, but here I am.

Now, I would like to talk to all of the single men in the congregation between the ages of 25 and 40. These are the individuals who are about the age that men start seminary. Most of the men I was in seminary with that went on to ordination had at least a bachelor degree and had worked several years. We have to get our young adults back to church if we are going to have vocations to the priesthood. No one is going to go to seminary if they are not even coming to church.

We are going to start feeling the priest shortage now. I am spread pretty thin; and, at this point, if I am going to start doing anything new, I have to stop doing something that I am doing now. In one and a half years, one of the pastors in our Family of Parishes is going to retire. A priest may or may not be assigned to our Family of Parishes; but for that to happen; another parish will lose their priest. There are no extra priests. If I have to take over running another parish, I will be much less present at St. Edith. I have talked to a number of parents who have told me that they will not encourage their sons to be priests because they want their sons to give them grandchildren. Maybe you need to rethink that. Your children are listening to you when you make career suggestions whether you know that or not.

In order to be a diocesan priest, you have to be a follower of Jesus Christ, you have to be spiritual and you have to like working in a parish. The ministry of a priest is so diverse that you can use any charisms that you have. You hire people to do the things that you are not very good at. Administration is not one of my charisms, so I hired a fabulous building and maintenance manager, a great bookkeeper and I have great volunteers on my Finance Council that I depend upon. I have never made less money or worked as hard in my life, but I have never been more fulfilled or had more joy in my life. I have come to realize that happiness, joy and fulfillment do not come from material possessions or personal achievements. It only comes from how we love and serve others, and you can certainly do that in the diocesan priesthood. I have never been sorry that I did not get married and have children. I have thousands of people who call me father. I am not lonely, in fact, I sometimes do not get enough alone time. Being a priest is what gets me out of bed every morning, most mornings looking forward to my day. I have never been sorry that I became a priest, not even for a minute.

Love & Peace,
Fr. Jim

GOSPEL OF LIFE

Every Life is Worth Living From Conception to Natural Death

HAPPY ST. VALENTINE'S DAY!

"St. Valentine taught us about the importance of love and the Sacrament of Marriage. He believed in these things so deeply that he was martyred for them. Although we live in easier times, remember that things weren't always this way. We must remind ourselves that all we have is precious. And St. Valentine's Day is the perfect opportunity to reflect on what we have been given. Celebrating St. Valentine's Day is a tribute to St. Valentine, later titled Patron Saint of Lovers. His devotion to God and his commitment to supporting love and marriage set a wonderful example for us." Author Unknown

ALMSGIVING THANK YOU'S:

Another Day Resource Center: Thank you for your financial gift to our ministry Another Day Resource Center. Thank you for your kindness in your letter. It truly touched my heart. Thank you for your encouragement and prayers for this ministry that is so greatly needed. It is very important to us that the Gospel of Jesus is shared with everyone we encounter. We can't do this alone so thank you for believing and having faith in us to spread the Gospel. May the Lord continue to bless you all so that you can be a blessing to others.

Archdiocese of Detroit Chapter of Red Bird Ministries: I write today to express my profound gratitude for your generous donation to the Archdiocese of Detroit Chapter of Red Bird Ministries. The goal of this ministry is to provide support for struggling families from within their own faith communities in a way that invites them into personal relationship with the Lord. We hosted the first Loving through Loss grief workshop for parents of child loss. It was a day of comfort and healing for all in attendance. Bringing bereaved parents together to share their pain and seek healing in the Sacraments of the Church was a profoundly beautiful experience, and I look forward to expanding this ministry across the Archdiocese going forward. Thank you again for your donation and for your prayers.

Humble Design: Thank you for donating $1,360 to Humble Design! We are humbled by your generosity and consider you a valued partner in coming together with us to end homelessness. We serve families emerging from homelessness by transferring their empty house or apartment into a true home ... Many of the people we serve work minimum wage jobs, and saving to furnish and decorate their spaces would take a long time. By listening, furnishing and designing their spaces in just three days, we show them that people care. Every day when they wake up, when they come home and when they climb into bed, they are powerfully reminded that the larger community cares. With your help, we are able to furnish and decorate three homes a week in the greater Detroit area. Thank you ... for inspiring this gift and for being an incredible partner in our work.

Mr. Anthony S. Riley, Assistant College Sacristan; Pre-Theology I Seminarian in the Archdiocese of Detroit: I am sincerely honored to have received your generous gift. Thank you! It truly means so much to me that St. Edith Parish has overwhelmingly supported my vocation, as well as the vocations of my fellow aspirants, through the Labouré Society. Answering the Lord's call to enter the seminary was the best decision I've made in my life. It's amazing how much I've grown in holiness paying attention to the inner movements of the Holy Spirit. When we abandon ourselves to God's providence, we experience His full peace. May God continue to bless the St. Edith Community. Thank you again for your gift and know of my prayers!

St. Elizabeth Catholic Church-Detroit: A special thank you for your generous gift to St. Elizabeth's Church in Detroit. It is an inspiration to me and St. Elizabeth Parish Family to be part of something "Good" -- Love God, love your neighbor. Thanks for being that inspiration.
