When God forgives a sinner who humbly confesses his sin, the devil loses his dominion over the heart he had taken.”

–St. Bernard

Director of Religious Education
Alyssa Choraszewski
dre@saintpriscilla.org

There are three body parts we hear Jesus telling us to get rid of if they lead us to sin: your hand, your foot, and your eye. We should pay attention to what body parts are not mentioned: our ears and our lips. I find this very interesting since so much sin can “begin” with our words and how we perceive the words of others through our ears. I put the word “begin” in quotations because sin, as we know, does not actually start from our lips but from our hearts.

Last year, I listened to the Audiobook “Exorcist Explains the Demonic: The Antics of Satan and His Army of Fallen Angels” by Fr. Gabriele Amorth. I could write for several weeks about all the different topics that were discussed in the text, but the most important takeaway was that Satan works quietly. When we think of exorcisms, we picture what we see in movies, heads spinning, screaming, climbing up walls, etc. But Satan doesn’t like that kind of attention because then you know he is there. Instead, Satan begins small...a little voice in your head that justifies why skipping Mass is okay. Your feet then lead you right to the couch to watch some football. So, when taking this week’s Gospel literally, we should cut off our feet that caused us to sin!

But if we look at Christ’s words again, we see that he tells us to cripple ourselves instead of falling into sin again. Not to literally cripple ourselves, but to adjust our lives so radically that it becomes challenging for us to sin. Think about it this way, if we were to lose a hand, we would have to relearn how to do nearly everything in our lives. Depending on which hand, we would have to relearn how to write, how to cook food, how to feed ourselves, how to drive, how to get dressed. The list is nearly endless! Now instead of visualizing a lost hand, picture yourself doing that one sin you always seem to fall into. What leads you to that sin? Whatever leads you to that sin is what you need to get rid of. And eliminating that temptation may require an entire restructure of how to live your day to day, or maybe who you talk to at work, or maybe not watching TV at a certain time, or maybe it will require you to RETHINK something! It will be hard work to eliminate that temptation, but Jesus tells us that it must be done! There is simply no way around it. He isn’t saying to cut off your feet that took you to the couch instead of the car to go to Mass. He is telling you rid yourself of the tiny and quiet workings of Satan within you.

I will admit that while listening the audiobook, I was concerned that I needed an exorcism! I didn’t, but it was still concerning when I heard all the various ways that Satan and his demons torture people so slowly. But Fr. Gabriele Amorth echoed what Jesus says in this Gospel, other people can do the works of Christ. You know one of those people—his name is Fr. Joe! He can hear your confession and he is available to do so every Saturday at 3:30pm. But to really make a difference and to really rid yourself of Satan and his demons, you will have to dig deep and do a thorough examination of conscience. You can find one on our website under the “Confession Times” tab on the homepage. Once you leave that confessional you will feel like a whole new person—even if you had to “cripple” yourself to get there.

Women’s Bible Study

Walking With Purpose: Opening Your Heart

Begins this Monday, September 27th
Time: 7:15-8:45pm

Join us for this 22 week study as we explore the core questions that we need to wrestle with if we want to experience all that God has for us.

- How can I conquer my fears?
- What is the role of the Holy Spirit in my life?
- What does the Eucharist have to do with my friendship with Christ?
- What are the limits of Christ’s forgiveness?
- Why and how should I pray?
- What is the role of suffering in my life?
- What challenges will I face in my efforts to follow Jesus more closely?

FIRST READING Nm 11:25-29

The LORD came down in the cloud and spoke to Moses. Taking some of the spirit that was on Moses, the LORD bestowed it on the seventy elders; and as the spirit came to rest on them, they prophesied. Now two men, one named Eldad and the other edad, were not in the gathering but had been left in the camp. They too had been on the list, but had not gone out to the tent; yet the spirit came to rest on them also, and they prophesied in the camp. So, when a young man quickly told Moses, "Eldad and Medad are prophesying in the camp," Joshua, son of Nun, who from his youth had been Moses' aide, said, "Moses, my lord, stop them." But Moses answered him, "Are you jealous for my sake? Would that all the people of the LORD were prophets! Would that the LORD might bestow his spirit on them all!"

RESPONSORIAL PSALM Ps 19:8, 10, 12-14

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The law of the LORD is perfect, refreshing the soul; the decree of the LORD is trustworthy, giving wisdom to the simple.

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

The fear of the LORD is pure, enduring forever; the ordinances of the LORD are true, all of them just.

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

Though your servant is careful of them, very diligent in keeping them, Yet who can detect failings? Cleanse me from my unknown faults!

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

From wanton sin especially, restrain your servant; let it not rule over me. Then shall I be blameless and innocent of serious sin.

R. The precepts of the Lord give joy to the heart.

SECOND READING Jas 5:1-6

Come now, you rich, weep and wail over your impending miseries. Your wealth has rotted away, your clothes have become moth-eaten, your gold and silver have corroded, and that corrosion will be a testimony against you; it will devour your flesh like a fire. You have stored up treasure for the last days. Behold, the wages you withheld from the workers who harvested your fields are crying aloud; and the cries of the harvesters have reached the ears of the Lord of hosts. You have lived on earth in luxury and pleasure; you have fattened your hearts for the day of slaughter. You have condemned; you have murdered the righteous one; he offers you no resistance.

ALLELUIA

R. Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

Your word, O Lord, is truth; consecrate us in the truth.

R. Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.

GOSPEL Mk 9:38-43, 45, 47-48

At that time, John said to Jesus, "Teacher, we saw someone driving out demons in your name, and we tried to prevent him because he does not follow us." Jesus replied, "Do not prevent him. There is no one who performs a mighty deed in my name who can at the same time speak ill of me. For whoever is not against us is for us. Anyone who gives you a cup of water to drink because you belong to Christ, amen, I say to you, will surely not lose his reward. "Whoever causes one of these little ones who believe in me to sin, it would be better for him if a great millstone were put around his neck and he were thrown into the sea. If your hand causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life maimed than with two hands to go into Gehenna, into the unquenchable fire. And if your foot causes you to sin, cut it off. It is better for you to enter into life crippled than with two feet to be thrown into Gehenna. And if your eye causes you to sin, pluck it out. Better for you to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye than with two eyes to be thrown into Gehenna, where 'their worm does not die, and the fire is not quenched.'"

THE WORD OF GOD AS THE BREATH OF LIFE

by Mary Rice

All the Israelites twenty years or more were counted...The total number was 603,550...The families of the tribe of Levi were not counted (Num. 2:45,47).

Moses was just plain tired! He came to Egypt when he was in his eighties. After the events of the Passover, the Pharaoh not only agreed to the freedom of the Israelites; he insisted that they leave—and now they had arrived at Mount Sinai.

He still remembered when the Spirit of God came upon him (what a wonder-filled moment that was!). He was chosen to be the leader for all of God's people, but the time had come to admit that he was overwhelmed by their needs.

He pleaded with God for relief: I am not able to carry this people alone, the burden is too heavy for me (Num. 11:14) and his prayers were answered. The Lord said Bring me seventy of Israel's elders... I will take of the Spirit that is on you and put the Spirit on them...(Num.11:16a,17).

There were two men missing who stayed in the camp and prophesied. As you heard in the reading, Joshua was upset: *My Lord, Moses, forbid them...*and Moses (not the least bit perturbed) replied: Would that all the Lord's people were prophets and that he would put his Spirit upon them (Num. 11:29 !

Are you reminded of Jesus in today's Gospel when John dutifully reported that... someone is driving away demons in your name ...prevent him (Mark9:38,39). Jesus is quick to answer with a simple reply: Do not prevent him!

He continues with the simple standard that if someone gives a cup of water in my name, he will not lose his reward. (Matthew put it this way...gives a cup of cold water.) I can't forget cold water, that extra touch in a land where it was not easy to have cold water at hand.

Never underestimate your role as a lay apostle, bringing the Good News of Jesus by your example and your kindness.

(Even Moses and Jesus welcomed a little help!) His Spirit is in you too, shining as you give a cup of water—cold water!

September is Healthy Aging Month

- 1. Check Your Diet. If you are forced to stay home more than you used to, it's easy to throw your more structured diet plan out the window. You know what you are supposed to eat, but often it's hard to stick to a plan. Get a buddy for help.
- 2. Get fit. Stay fit. Don't make it just like the "Freshman 15." The existence of Covid-19 doesn't have to include 19 extra pounds for you. Do something about it! Make it a goal to exercise at least 45 minutes a day. Walk, run, cycle – Get outdoors.
- 3. Track Your Activity to Help You Meet Your Goal. Some people use the "walk 10,000 steps a day" guideline to get them going. An easy way to calculate your steps is to download a fitness tracker app on your smartphone. Or, you can invest in an activity tracker, a wearable that keeps track of how far you go and calories burned. Some measure heart rate and the quality of your sleep. Some models have GPS, play music, and are a phone all rolled into one.
- 4. Go Online for Fitness. Get back to your gym if you feel comfortable. If your gym is closed or you would feel less stressed working out from home, go online for classes or programs to get your heart rate up and build muscle mass. Many are free, some have subscriptions.
- 5. Look for Free Classes. Check your local community center for free classes or go to the national YMCA website. Choose from yoga, Pilates, weightlifting, tai chi, and a variety of active older adult classes.
- 6. Virtual Running Races. Virtual online running races. There are many websites offering virtual runs. You sign up and are given a course that you can do on your own time. Some of these sites even offer medals.
- 7. Mental Wellness. During these often-stressful times, it is important and sometimes hard to keep spirits up. Of course, it is easy to say, "think positively," but it's not always easy to do. One resource is MentalHealth.gov which provides one-stop access to U.S. government mental health and mental health problems information.
- 8. Build Your Support System. Find someone - such as a parent, family member, teacher, health care provider, faith leader or other trusted individual, who:
 - Gives good advice when you want and ask for it; assists you in taking action that will help
 - Listens to you and shares with you, both the good and bad times
 - Respects your need for confidentiality so you can tell him or her anything
 - Lets you freely express your feelings and emotions without judging, teasing, or criticizing
- 9. Find a Peer Group. Find a group of people with mental health problems similar to yours. Peer support relationships can positively affect individual recovery because:
 - People who have common life experiences have a unique ability to help each other based on a shared history and a deep understanding that may go beyond what exists in other relationships
 - Peers can be very supportive since they have "been there" and serve as living examples that individuals can and do recover from mental health problems
 - Peers also serve as advocates and support others who may experience discrimination and prejudice
- 10. Be Social. Learn how to make Zoom calls if you haven't already. Skype is another easy free app for video and telephone calls. Make it a point to reconnect with old friends using these apps if you feel more comfortable with this style of social distancing.
