PASTOR'S LETTER

Dear friends of St. Philip,

Mid-February is probably the duller time of the year. Maybe that's why they put St. Valentine's day on February 14th. You know, the early Christian martyr who died around the year 270. In addition to being the patron of compulsory dates, jewelry, and boxes of chocolates with God-knows-what is in them (does dark chocolate really go with Orange cream?) St. Valentine is the patron saint of beekeepers and epilepsy.

Mid February is also prime time for checking in with the couples who are planning weddings at St. Philip this coming summer and fall. Despite having no air-conditioning (we're working on it, keep saving your pennies), Our parish church is a beautiful setting for a wedding. In the lull before Lent and Easter, I try to connect with our couples on their road to the altar. Marriage prep is a big deal to me. I try to meet with couples a number of times to walk with them to their new life together.

In talking to couples, there are a number of challenges to living Christian marriage, as the world has some very different ideas about love and marriage that aren't really the biblical view. Once in a while, however, worlds intersect and the Christian view bears out in secular experience. Two weeks ago, the Wall Street Journal printed a story that announced what Christians, and indeed most traditional cultures, knew. The headline read:

"Too Risky to Wed in Your 20s? Not if You Avoid Cohabiting First." Research shows that marrying young without ever having lived together with a partner makes for some of the lowest divorce rates"

Conversations about these things can be a little uncomfortable, and it does seem like everyone else has taken a different path, but sometimes we have to have the confidence that to live the life of the Gospel does indeed lead to greater happiness and human fulfillment. When I meet with couples I tell them that my view of marriage preparation is about helping them get to their wedding day in the best possible state to enter into the joy and beauty of a life together. That is certainly worth a few awkward conversations. It also brings light in the dull days of winter to consider what God can do in hearts that are open to His plan.

Please pray for young couples, especially those whom God is calling to share in His love in married life. May God bless their love and help it to be free, full, faithful, and fruitful.

Rev. James Richardson

By the way, who is Russel Stover, anyway, and did the martyrdom of St. Valentine involve Roman Nougat in any way?

What is one of the benefits of Catholic education?

Our students say: "Practice of Faith".

One of our families shared: "Last week when we asked our son why he was sitting quietly in his room, he told us we were interrupting the rosary he was praying for his grandma. Unprompted prayer. That's why I love our Catholic Schools!"

Consider the gift of Catholic education for your children. Go to bcacs.org for more information.

Can you help us reach our goal for the 2021-2022 Annual Fund Drive?

Funds provided through this campaign offset the cost of operations, making tuition as affordable as affordable as possible to as many families as possible.

If you would like to help us reach our goal, contact Abby Lumbard at 269-963-4771 or via email at ALumbard@bcacs.org to discuss the various ways you can give.
