Respect Life

A Simple Request

The Director of Health (director) for an upstate New York school district invited Planned Parenthood (PP) to make a presentation to a high school health class.

Parents received permission slips to allow their children to attend the presentation. The permission slip stated the presentation would cover services offered by PP but did not mention that abortion would be addressed. An alert parent noted this point and reached out to the director with a simple request to view the presentation (which was her right as a parent) before she signed the slip. She was denied access to the presentation by the director, the superintendent and the principal. Their rationale for the refusal was that they had given this presentation for years, and it was never deemed a problem. (Ed: An error repeated is still an error). Rebuffed, the parent sought the aid of the American Center for Law and Justice (ACLU). The ACLU provided the parent with a memorandum on parental rights including her right to be informed about her child's education and to inspect instructional material under federal statute (Protection of Pupil Rights Amendment). Armed with this knowledge, the parent was finally granted access to the presentation materials and the director agreed to include abortion as a topic on future permission slips. She also intends to bring this issue before the school board and insist on an alternative curriculum for students, like a crisis-pregnancy presentation, explaining other options available to young pregnant mothers. REMEMBER-it is your right to inspect and view all presentations and to know what your child is learning. (Source: Planned Parenthood is Indoctrinating..., Christian Stierhoff, lifenews.com, 4/22/21).

Please remember Still Point House of Prayer. Unopened, non-perishable canned or boxed items are needed. Please place your donations in the baskets at the Church entrances. Thank You!

VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITY

After 13 years, Mark and Diane Monaghan are stepping down as Head Ushers. Thank you for fulfilling this role for so many years.

If interested in volunteering for the position, please contact the Parish Office.

Also, we presently don't have enough ushers to cover all the Masses. If you would like more information, please contact the Parish Office at 941-383-1255

PRAYER FOR MOTHERS

*Heavenly Father,
from the beginning you have chosen to entrust
the human person to mothers in a special way.
We thank and praise you for the gift of mothers;
for their tenderness, care, and compassion,
for their intuition and encouragement,
for commitment and sacrifice.
Bless all mothers this day.
Keep, strengthen, and refresh them
in your loving care.
May they be blessed by our open-hearted
love and gratitude.
Amen.*

Poor Box

There are Poor Boxes at each entrance of the Church. Thank you for your kind donations to the poor in our area.

OFFICE OF THE BISHOP

May 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ,

The Catholic Communication Campaign (CCC) is an opportunity to bring truth and hope to people across the United States and around the world. The essential mission of the CCC is to contribute to the process of evangelization by fostering activities in relation to television, radio, internet, other media, and through special projects of the Catholic press.

Fifty percent of the funds raised by the CCC support projects across the US and in developing countries and the other fifty percent stays here in the Diocese of Venice. It is an opportunity to bring truth and hope to people across the United States, around the world and, in your own communities.

The Collection for the CCC allows us to tell both the world and our neighbors about our experience of faith, worship, and witness. Please support this important work in the upcoming Collection which will be May 15 and 16, 2021 in the Diocese of Venice. Thank you for your generosity!

I take this opportunity to extend to you my continued consideration and my prayers.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+ Frank J. Dewane
Bishop of the Diocese of Venice in Florida

Why do we celebrate Mother's Day?

Ah, another great question! To meet the "mother" of Mother's Day, you're going to have to travel all the way back in time to 1864—the year when Anna Jarvis was born. Anna was a determined activist, and to this day, she's credited with "inventing" Mother's Day in an attempt to honor her own mother, Ann Jarvis. Ann—that's Anna's mother—had spent much of her life raising awareness about the infant mortality rate. According to National Geographic, in the 1850s, she began hosting clubs for fellow mothers to teach them to better care for their children and curb those numbers.

When Ann passed away in 1905, Anna decided that a national "Mother's Day" would be a beautiful way to honor these noble efforts. The History Channel notes that she hosted the first-ever Mother's Day function on May 10, 1908 in her hometown of Grafton, West Virginia, and that it was followed by a similar event in Philadelphia attended by "thousands of people."

As the story goes, President Woodrow Wilson's cabinet eventually got wind of Anna's work, and it was under his guidance that Mother's Day officially became a national holiday in 1914. At that time, it was also decided that the celebration would take place on the second Sunday in May each year.

Of course, Mother's Day as we know it today has very little to do with Anna's initial efforts or her mother's meaningful charity work. Bouquets of flowers and greeting cards were never part of the plan; in fact, Anna called the manufacturers of such products "schemers" and "profiteers," says BuzzFeed, and allegedly told a Reader's Digest reporter in 1960 that she "was sorry she ever started Mother's Day."

Technically, though, it's still unclear if the idea of Mother's Day really belonged to the Jarvis women. Julia Ward Howe, the writer behind "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," had promoted a "Mothers' Peace Day" all the way back in 1872 as part of her antiwar efforts.

It's a toss-up, really.

But flowers, greeting cards, and competing historical narratives aside, there's something undeniably beautiful about the idea of setting aside an entire day to pay your respects to the woman who made you, well, you. The heart of the holiday remains special—no matter how much commercialization swirls around it. And that's a fact.

LIVE THE LITURGY

Inspiration for the week

God is love. These three simple words deserve a great deal of attention. They have the power to transform our relationship with God from something that is static and distant to one that is personal and real. We all know the power of love and how important it is to completing all of the human and divine circuits of our lives. But we do not often consider the awesome fact that it is given to us as a gift and is not simply part and parcel of the human package. God is the author of love and love itself. When we truly love another human being, it is really God being God in and through us. The love to which we are called and the love of which the Gospel speaks is a selfless love that seeks the wellbeing of not only our significant others but of all of our brothers and sisters. This love, which is of God, is a love that will endure all things and bring immeasurable joy when experienced. It is the most sincere form of friendship.

Love
one another

WORSHIP & MEDITATION

FIRST READING

"In truth, I see that God shows no partiality. Rather, in every nation whoever fears him and acts uprightly is acceptable to him." (Acts 10:34-35)

PSALM

The Lord has revealed to the nations his saving power. (Ps 98)
Or Alleluia.

SECOND READING

Beloved, let us love one another, because love is of God; everyone who loves is begotten by God and knows God. (1 Jn 4:7)

GOSPEL

"This is my commandment: love one another as I love you.
No one has greater love than this, to lay down one's life for one's friends."
(Jn 15:12-13)

GOSPEL MEDITATION

Encourage Deeper Understanding of Scripture

"Remain in my love," and, "I call you friends," are powerful words that are found in John's Gospel. Most of us probably have them committed to memory or have at least heard them proclaimed dozens of times. They are words that can easily become trite and quickly glossed over without fully pondering and digesting their profound beauty. When we take the time to immerse ourselves in them, they can radically change our lives and our relationships. They can open up new doors of adventure and hold countless possibilities for meaning. The essence of love and friendship are things that can easily be taken for granted. They have always been there and are a significant part of our lives. Many would say that they could not live without love and friendship, and they put a great deal of care into preserving, deepening and sustaining them. Love and friendship share a mutual relationship with each other that deserves more reflection.

Where does love come from? We can consider relationships that have not succeeded and conclude that they were somehow due to our "failures in love." In doing so, we assume that human beings are the ones responsible for love, its success and also its failure. While our weakness, emotional composition and sinfulness can easily impact our ability to love, its origin is not human. God is love. God is love's author and origin. When we love, it is God who loves in and through us. It is because of this divine closeness that Jesus is able to call us friends! It is not because of anything we have done but simply because of who we are. Realizing and contemplating this awesome reality becomes a game changer across the board. It gives us reason to clear the table of anything that can adversely affect the way we love so that we can open the door for its author to shine forth.

Coming upon this truth is what leads folks like St. Francis of Assisi to leave that which is comfortable and worldly and live a radical life. They relate with the love of God that radiates in and through all living things and appreciate their sacredness. It was having an intimate experience of God's love and friendship that propelled St. Francis and others to embrace simplicity, act nonviolently, pursue humility, love enemies, care for the earth and open up avenues for true justice. Understanding this profound truth will also help us find peaceful solutions to world's problems, restore relationships with our sisters and brothers, bring the grace of loving stewardship to creation and heal many wounds. Once we begin to see how wonderfully holy all of life really is, we discover joy. We lose our need for fear, develop a fierce fortitude, act prudently and seek justice. There is great power in love because it comes from God. It will never fail. It also enjoys the company of two other friends who are eager to become our friends as well: faith and hope. These are just as important to have and to share.

RESPONDING to the Call

EVERYDAY STEWARDSHIP

Recognize God In Your Ordinary Moments

Choosing to Love One Another

Love one another. The greatest commandment, the simplest commandment — and if you've ever loved anyone, you know it's also the hardest.

I'm man enough to admit it. I've seen one or two of those cheesy Hallmark movies that are especially popular around the holidays. Boy meets Girl. Boy and Girl encounter a catastrophic roadblock to their relationship — they're coaches of rival high school volleyball teams, or he runs a dog kennel and she works at a feline rescue, so it could never, ever work out, right? But sprinkle a little movie magic over the whole situation and Boy and Girl find what Hallmark tells us is true love.

I could make a list of all the things that are inaccurate about these movies, and something I would put right near the top — maybe even above the sometimes-unbelievable storylines — is the idea that love is a feeling.

See, I'm not sure if it's accurate to call these movies love stories. Attraction stories, sure. But if you've ever forgiven someone who's hurt you, nursed a dying parent, gotten up for an infant's night feeding or let your kid have the last piece of cake, you know that real love is a verb. It's something you do. And it is almost always a choice.

Love one another. How often do we hear this? How often do we think about what it really means? How often do we take a moment to consider the action Jesus is asking us to take and the choice he is asking us to make?

WHY DO WE DO THAT? Catholic Life Explained:

Question:

What is the difference between a "Saint" and a "Blessed"?

Answer:

The process of proclaiming someone as a saint in the Catholic Church has evolved over the course of many centuries. In the beginning, those honored as saints were almost exclusively biblical figures or martyrs. However, after the legalization of Christianity in the fourth century, new holy women and men came to be honored as saints, and this was often done by popular acclaim or by the local bishop or abbot.

It was Pope Gregory IX (who was pope from 1227 to 1241) who officially proclaimed that only the pope had the authority to add someone to the official list (the "canon") of saints. This is the meaning of the word "canonization."

Today, the saint-making process includes several steps, including detailed studies of the person's life and a recognition that they died as a martyr or lived a life of "heroic virtue." Once someone is recognized as a martyr or if a miracle is attributed to their intercession, they will be beatified and honored as "Blessed." This means that they can be celebrated by Catholics in a particular country or region or by the members of certain religious community. If another miracle occurs and is approved, then the "Blessed" is canonized and honored with the title "Saint," meaning that they are now officially recognized as a universal model of holiness and an intercessor.

QUESTIONS OF THE WEEK

Invite Parishioners to Reflect and Respond to Scripture

First Reading

In the home of the Gentile-believer, Cornelius, Peter revealed one of the most significant insights from the early Church: “In truth, I see that God shows no partiality.” Where do you see this message of unity needed today?

Second Reading

John saw love at the very core of God’s divine identity. In fact, for John, “God is love.” For this reason, believers are called to love one another. How do you keep this virtue paramount in your life?

Gospel Reading

During his farewell discourse, Jesus refers to his disciples as his “friends.” How often do you think of Jesus as your “friend?”

6th SUNDAY OF EASTER

ASCENSION of the Lord

GOSPEL MEDITATION - ENCOURAGE DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF SCRIPTURE

May 13, 2021

The Ascension of the Lord

There is always something very tender and heartwarming about a kiss. When someone who loves us offers us a kiss, it sends a clear message that we are valued and special. We occupy a unique place in their lives and have a distinct purpose. Kissing celebrates the wonder and beauty of human life. In a very powerful way, we are connected, through intimate touch, with another human being. With the incarnation of Christ, God kissed humanity. God, revealed so perfectly in Jesus Christ, showed us that we have value and are made in God's image and likeness. Mortal human beings radiate with the presence of God and are worthy enough to reveal the intimacy of the Divine Mystery. The human race is not simply something God created from a distance but something special within which God dwells.

It is no wonder then, why the poor hold such an honored place in Jesus' ministry. They speak of God's love and they cry out for the compassion that is due them as children of God. Justice is about setting relationships right because we are all filled with God's love and have dignity. The human story is understood as a partnership, a true and new covenant, celebrating a love relationship between all of creation and their Creator. It is a story that does not end with the Cross or even the Resurrection. The story finds its happy ending in the Ascension. Our human narrative is still evolving and moving ever more closely toward that day when all will be one in Christ.

Jesus now sits at the right hand of the Father as the Christ of God. In the ascended state, we see what we are all meant to become and have before us the transformed life that awaits all of creation. The disciples got a glimpse of what this transfiguration would be on the holy mountain and it is an essential part of the Good News we are called to proclaim! Christ, now ascended to the Father, sets our paths straight and gives us a look at what awaits us. The day-to-day challenges of life often find us struggling with our incompleteness. Today's celebration gives us the strength to persevere, knowing that we'll eventually be well. May our hearts be enlightened so that we can know this hope and the surpassing greatness of Christ's power!

Filled With God's

Love

READ THE GOSPEL AND COMPLETE A PUZZLE!

Find the heart that matches.

SHARING THE GOSPEL

I would be really happy, if only I was ? rich ? popular ? better looking ? the boss. Those selfish wishes sound great, but they cannot give you true happiness inside. In today's Gospel, Jesus shares the three secrets to his complete happiness: (1) Jesus obeyed God; (2) Jesus knew God loved him; (3) Jesus loved other people enough to die for them. Wow. Jesus was completely happy, but he was not selfish at all. In fact, Jesus told his friends if they followed his loving example, they could be completely happy too. Follow Jesus to be filled with happiness from the inside out.

PRAYER

God, on my own I am selfish. Thank you for loving me. Help me to obey you. Help me to love other people as much as Jesus does.

MISSION FOR THE WEEK

Read John 15:9-17 with your family. God loves you, and he wants you to be completely happy, but you need to let go of your selfishness. You can obey God and love others by sharing your time with them. You can show your love for God by sharing your money with others, too.
