Good People of Holy Cross,

A fond childhood memory was walking to the river with my Dad and learning how to skip flat rocks over the surface of the water, both the mystery and delight of watching that chunk of stone defy gravity as it bounces playfully atop the waves like a butterfly was awesome. The trick is to find a smooth flat stone, and the perfect stone for skipping is found under the water, polished smooth by the waves that continually wash over them. I think God loves to skip rocks too. Elijah and Peter are at their lowest moments of failure, and like smooth stones scooped up from the muddy bottom of past mistakes, our loving God gives rocks polished by failure a chance to skip again. This is good news for those of us who are weighed down by our past mistakes, and who think that we will never feel light enough to skip carefree again. Think again. What can we learn of our lives from Elijah and Peter? On the heels of our greatest failures God comes with a moment of restoring grace. With a gentle stillness, as with Elijah, or with an outstretched hand, as with Peter, God comes to us in our sinking moments and offers to restore us to the surface, to hurl us again with abandon and joy across life's waves, defying the gravity of our doubts and fears and past mistakes. God knows that the best rocks for skipping are lying at the bottom of the water, polished by failure, and ready to fly again, if they will just trust themselves to the hand of God. Elijah trusted and started again. So did Peter. So can we. By God's sure hand, the best skipping we will ever do is yet to come!

Have a skipping stone week!

Fr. Jude Michael

Gente Buena de Holy Cross,

Un grato recuerdo de la infancia fue caminar hasta el río con mi papá y aprender cómo saltar rocas planas sobre la superficie del agua, tanto el misterio como el deleite de ver ese trozo de piedra desafiando la gravedad mientras rebota juguetonamente sobre las olas como una mariposa era impresionante. El truco consiste en encontrar una piedra lisa y plana, y la piedra perfecta para saltar se encuentra bajo el agua, pulida por las olas que continuamente las bañan. Creo que a Dios también le encanta saltar rocas en el agua. Elías y Peter están en sus momentos más bajos de fracaso, y como piedras lisas en el fondo lodoso por los errores del pasado, nuestro Dios amoroso da a las rocas pulidas por fracaso la oportunidad de saltar de nuevo. Esta es una buena noticia para los que nos sentimos pesados por nuestros errores del pasado, y pensamos que nunca nos sentiremos lo suficientemente ligeros para saltar despreocupados de nuevo. Piensa otra vez. ¿Qué podemos aprender en nuestra vida a través de Elías y Pedro? Inmediatamente después de nuestros mayores fracasos, Dios viene con un momento de restauración de la gracia. Con una quietud suave, como con Elías, o con un brazo extendido como con Pedro, Dios viene a nosotros en nuestros momentos de hundimiento y se ofrece a restaurarnos a la superficie, para lanzarnos de nuevo con abandono y alegría a través de las olas de la vida, desafiando la gravedad de nuestras dudas, miedos y errores del pasado. Dios sabe que las mejores rocas para saltar están en el fondo del agua, pulidas por fracaso, y listas para volar de nuevo, si simplemente se confiaran de la mano de Dios. Elías confió y comenzó de nuevo. Pedro también. Nosotros también podemos confiar de la mano segura de Dios. Por otro lado, ¡el mejor salto que jamás haremos está por venir!

¡Que tengan una semana de muchas rocas saltarinas!

Padre Jude Michael

Assisi by the Chesapeake: A Franciscan Youth Retreat July 21-23, 2023

The Christian retreat center, placed on Chesapeake Bay, was breathtaking in its beauty especially at sunset. It was in the chapel and the grass fields where we received our most moving talks. Not only during our stay at Sandy Cove did we listen to talks by the various Fryers, but we also enjoyed numerous activities like; tubing, pool time, and a bonfire with pizza & s'mores. Through it all, we collectively bonded over our mutual interests, beliefs, and faith. Those three days were a great time for learning, exploring, and reconciling as young people. This spiritual retreat was a truly moving and beautiful experience for me. -Evelyn Hawkins

El centro de retiro cristiano, ubicado en la bahía de Chesapeake, era impresionante por su belleza, especialmente al atardecer. Fue en la capilla y en los campos donde recibimos nuestras charlas más emotivas. No solo durante nuestra estadía en Sandy Cove escuchamos las charlas de los distintos Frailes, sino que también disfrutamos de numerosas actividades como; tubing, tiempo en la piscina y una fogata con pizza y s'mores. A través de todo, nos unimos colectivamente por nuestros intereses mutuos, creencias y fe. Esos tres días fueron un gran momento para aprender, explorar y reconciliarnos como jóvenes. Este retiro espiritual fue una experiencia verdaderamente conmovedora y hermosa para mí. -Evelyn Hawkins

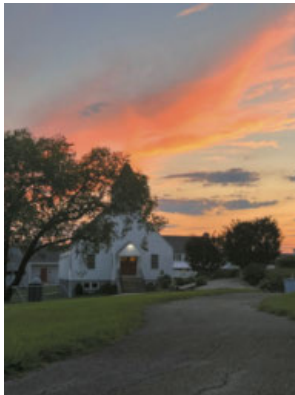

I absolutely loved the Franciscan Youth Retreat! The teens were nice and the friars were very welcoming and friendly. There were lots of fun activities and spiritual experiences.
