“See, Then Show” 2nd Sunday of Lent

Jesus stands before them with glistening garments. Considered his closest companions, James, John, and Peter, attempt to take in what is happening before their eyes — bewildered and terrified. Their friend, Master, and Messiah, Jesus, transfigures and stands beside Moses and Elijah. Moses, one of the greatest of the lawgivers, alongside Elijah one of the greatest of the prophets. Together with Jesus, the greatest gift from God and the fulfillment of both the law and the prophets. The Apostles are stunned at what is happening before them. Their hearts perhaps still reeling from trying to fully grasp Jesus’s recent teaching, “that the Son of Man must suffer many things and be rejected by the elders and the chief priests and the scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise from the dead” (Mark 8:31).

How often have we been baffled, bewildered, or terrified by our current circumstances or the uncertainty of our future? To maintain peace, to stay the course of hope, we must see before us, just as these three Apostles — Jesus was still there with them. Jesus, named Emmanuel, “God is with us” (Matthew 1:23). We are not called to make sense but to pay attention, see with eyes of faith, and believe. He will never abandon nor forsake us.

Peter, James, and John were witnesses to God’s glory. A witness is one who first sees, then shows. Jesus had asked them to hold everything they had witnessed in their hearts until the appropriate time to show. However, even with this knowledge, James and Peter would falter in their strength of faith, it would be only John at the foot of the cross on that horrific (yet Good) Friday. Remarkably in this gospel passage, we also see the trinity in its glory together — Father, Son, and Holy Spirit — as at the time of the Lord’s baptism. Jesus in his glorified state, the Spirit in the cloud that overshadows them, and the voice of God coming from that cloud announcing, reaffirming, that this is His beloved Son, to whom we should listen.

Peter’s response at the Transfiguration illustrates he is not a man without failings, as he says to Jesus, “Rabbi, it is good that we are here; let’s make three tabernacles, one for You, one for Moses, and one for Elijah.” Yes, Peter is not perfect, and we should take great comfort in that. The beauty, glory, and majesty were revealed to him, this imperfect man. His first reaction to erect tents and freeze the moment clearly shows he is missing the entire point of what Jesus is trying to show him. Yet, we know that Jesus will come to forgive and use Peter to establish the Church. Through the grace of God and the power of the Resurrection, Peter will eventually see.

During our Lenten journey, we, too, are shown the glory of God and given an outpouring of grace. However confused we may be about our circumstances or whatever we lack in understanding our faith, we can also eventually see with eyes of faith and learn to listen to Jesus.

Peter, John, and James would eventually fulfill the plans God had for them in not only witnessing but showing and evangelizing the world. We, too, have a role to play in evangelization. No matter how beautiful our faith is, it is not given merely for us; once the Lord transforms our hearts, we must go forward and share that good news with others. Once we have witnessed God in our own lives, when we have seen what He can do and have grown to believe — we now must show others. Just as the three Apostles shared the same Good News in their unique way, we too must discern how to be a witness in our life and times.

This moment in today’s Gospel is not just a moment in their history but in every Christian’s. It reveals the glory of Jesus and what awaits all who persevere in faith — accepting the law and the prophecies. In believing Jesus is the beloved Son of God, in whom God is well pleased and opening our ears and hearts to listen to him.

Act of Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love you above all things and I desire to receive you in my soul.

Since I cannot at this moment receive you sacramentally,

Come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace you as if you were already there

And unite myself wholly to you.

Never permit me to be separated from you.

Amen.

Spring Marriage Prep Class

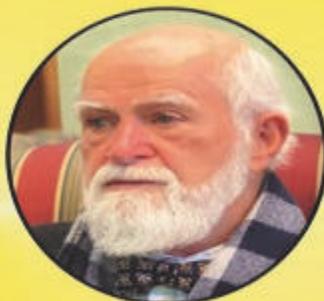

All engaged couples who plan to receive the sacrament of Matrimony in the coming months are required by the Diocese of Savannah to attend an approved Marriage Preparation Retreat. You will receive presentations by specially selected clergy. The presentations are intended to give your marriage a head-start on matters of scripture-based spirituality, communication, finances, commitment and family planning. The next retreat is scheduled in the St. Teresa Parish Life Center (4921 Columbia Rd, Grovetown), on the weekend of May 21-22. Lunch and snacks are provided. Please register as early as possible to facilitate planning for space, meals, and supplies. You can register online at st-teresa.com/matrimony or by calling the parish office 706-863-4956. For everyone's safety we ask you to please wear a mask and social distance.

Retirement Wishes

It is with heavy heart but warm wishes to announce the retirement of Mr. Bill Harper, effective March 6, 2021.

Mr. Bill Harper became a member of the staff of Most Holy Trinity in 1999.

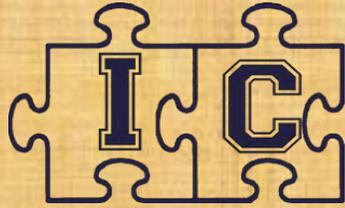

Mr. Bill was a member of the parish long before his employment. Along with their family, Mr. Bill and his late wife Teresa joined the parish in 1979.

We at Most Holy Trinity Catholic Church have been very blessed to have the privilege of sharing Mr. Bill's commitment and dedication to the parish and the school. Not only did Mr. Bill organize the Over 50s Luncheons, he trained altar servers at the parish and at the school. He has been dedicated to working with weddings, funerals, baptisms, RCIA, Faith Formation and served at many, many Masses over the years. Having Mr. Bill working here has made the parish and the school a much better place.

Even though Mr. Bill has decided to retire, he will remain active in the parish and the school as a volunteer.

Please keep Mr. Bill in your thoughts and prayers and wish him a very happy retirement.

Mr. Bill, you will be missed!

Immaculate Conception Catholic School is committed to developing Christ-like minds, hearts, and souls within the Catholic faith tradition by providing an individualized education for diverse learners through academic excellence and service.

Teaching Catholicism To non-Catholic Students

Teaching religion in Catholic schools sometimes poses a unique challenge, simply because not all students are Catholic. It is the job of teachers and catechists to teach Catholicism to all students, however, the challenge comes with trying to make the precepts of the Catholic faith relevant for all students, Catholic and non-Catholic alike.

When teaching non-Catholic students, it is important to understand the tenets of the other religions that represent your students. Even though the curriculum laid out by the Bishop of the Diocese of Savannah is the only one being taught, teachers need to know how that curriculum differs from the other faiths represented in the classroom. This helps them to know what knowledge each student may already possess, and what knowledge may be completely foreign to them.

There are some common differences between Catholics and Protestants in general. Protestants do not have communion at every service, whereas Catholics have communion at every Mass. Catholics have different beliefs about communion (Eucharist). Where Protestants believe that communion is a SYMBOL of the body and blood of Christ, Catholics believe the bread and wine become the ACTUAL body and blood of Christ when it is consecrated during the Mass. There are also some differences between Catholic and Protestant Bibles. The Catholic Bible has 46 books in the Old Testament, whereas the Protestant Bible has 39.

That being said, it's vastly MORE important for us teachers of Catholicism to know what we have IN COMMON with the religions represented in our classrooms. Yes, we are here to teach Catholicism, but our ultimate goal should be to bring these children closer to God. The catechists should always, in every single lesson, point out what is true across all Christianity, and what is strictly Catholic. They should also try to give all students ideas about how they can take what they've learned into their own churches.

There are so many beliefs that we have in common with our Protestants brothers and sisters! We all profess a belief in God as Trinity. We all accept Christ as our savior and redeemer. We all believe that the Bible is the inspired word of God. We have many common prayers that we share. The list of our commonalities is vast and gives us so much to work with in class!

It is always helpful to know the common misconceptions people have towards Catholicism, so that, as Catholics, we are ready to speak to those as they pop up in classrooms or in everyday conversations. Always emphasize that we hold Mary in very high esteem; we honor her as the sinless mother of our savior. But we do NOT worship her as we do Christ. Learning about saints has proven to be a favorite activity among many students, but the teacher must remind students that, like Mary, we honor saints as examples for us on how to live holy lives, but we do not worship them.

Keeping literature on "apologetics" handy is extremely helpful. Apologetics is the study of why Catholics believe as we do. This information is especially important when questions pop up for which a Catholic might not have an answer. This is especially relevant with older students, who may have more questions than younger students.

Above all, we teachers and catechists must be respectful of other beliefs and faiths. It is very important that we teach our students to have that same respect. There is so much we have in common, and so much we still have to learn about each other and our beliefs! I think it often surprises kids of other faiths to find out that Catholicism isn't so very different from their own beliefs.
