Sunday Readings – In Old Testament times and in the days of Jesus, a kingly figure or a military ruler would enter a town on a mighty steed, probably a white horse. He would also be arrayed in battle armor and surrounded by those under his command. That image would convey two things to the people: first, this person is rich because only a person of substantial means could afford such a magnificent animal and armor; and second, the people would know that this is a person who must be taken seriously. You'd be better off obeying or giving into this king or ruler's demands, even if they are unjust.

Compare that to the image of a king or ruler described in the first reading from the prophet Zechariah which we hear in today's first reading: See, your king shall come to you; a just savior is he, meek, and riding on an ass.... A king would never demean himself by riding a donkey. That would be beneath him and beneath the image which the people of the time would have of a powerful ruler. Jesus fulfills the prophecy of Zechariah, not once, but twice. Mary, pregnant with the Christ, rides a lowly donkey to Bethlehem. And Jesus rides a donkey to Jerusalem on the day we celebrate as Palm Sunday. A few days later this King of kings will be crucified.

Our Lord and Messiah is the humblest of servants. He never forces himself on us, although he longs for nothing more than for us to share in a deep and abiding relationship with him. By his actions, Jesus reminds us that his abundant life comes to us only when we humble ourselves before him and serve the needs of others. It is in such giving and by such living that he draws us to his abundant and everlasting life.

Thank You, Sue Phillips - At the end of June, Sue Phillips retired from our parish staff. Sue has been working with our staff for over 18 years. During those years, she served as an administrative assistant to the pastor as well as in accounting services. Those who have worked with her or have called her at the church office know that she is a dedicated and joy-filled minister. Our Lady of Lourdes Parish has been richly blessed by her dedicated service to our faith community. Sue, we wish you all the best in your retirement. We are grateful for your (almost) two decades of service to the parish and the Catholic Church. To quote our Lord from the gospel of St. Matthew, well done, good and faithful servant! May your retirement be a time of blessing, especially as you have the opportunity to spend more time with your family.

Welcome, Meghan Snyder – On June 27th, Meghan Snyder joined our parish staff. Meghan will serve as the receptionist in the DuBois Center office. We are happy to welcome her to our parish ministry team. Carmen ChooQuan, who served as our office receptionist for the past year, will be moving to a full-time position as financial assistant here at OLL. Please join me in warmly welcoming Meghan as well as wishing Carmen all the best as both begin their new ministries with our parish staff and community.

New legislation (HB 1) passed that will affect Florida's school choice programs. Signed by Governor DeSantis on March 27, these changes went into effect on July 1, 2023. House Bill 1 expands eligibility for all K-12 students, regardless of household income.

What does the new law change?

The law eliminates income restrictions on the Family Empowerment Scholarship for Educational Options (FES-EO) and Florida Tax Credit (FTC) scholarships, making all children of Florida residents who are eligible to attend public school in grades K-12 eligible for a scholarship.

When will applications open?

Applications for the 2023-24 school year are open now! Families interested in the Florida Tax Credit Scholarship (FTC) or the Family Empowerment Scholarship for Educational Options (FES-EO), can find out more about this legislation and apply at <https://www.stepupforstudents.org/legislative-updates> or scan the QR code above!

You may also call Dina at the school office for more information (727) 733-3776.

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

Side by Side

“Come to me, all you who labor” (Matthew 11:28). When we are overburdened, weary, confused, or sick, Jesus’ invitation sounds like music to our ears. Other people seem to be so much better at coping than we are, and we wonder what their secret is. The promise of rest in Jesus seems very sweet, except for a small complication. Jesus says, “Take my yoke upon you” (Matthew 11:29). How does this give rest to our souls? In another Gospel narrative, Jesus rebukes the Pharisees for laying burdensome religious regulations on people’s backs and not lifting a finger to help them carry the load. Jesus does not weigh his disciples down with teaching that they cannot follow. Jesus invites them to shoulder his yoke and learn from him, for he is gentle and humble of heart. For generations farmers have yoked a young and inexperienced plough animal alongside one that is well trained. The more experienced animal trains the other by example; the novice gradually learns how to work until it can manage alone. An older animal near the end of its working life may likewise be yoked to one in its prime, so that the strain of the hardest work is taken by the stronger partner. So too with us. Jesus invites us to take on his yoke so he can teach us, not by laying burdens upon us, but by walking alongside us and helping us to do things his way. He promised never to leave us to “pull” alone. When it all gets too much or we lose our way, he will be there alongside us again—gentle, humble, but infinitely powerful and wise. At times when we are strong we in turn can yoke ourselves to someone who needs that extra pull to get to firmer ground.

Living Stewardship Now

Each time you do something for someone else you are “pulling” with them. Offer each good deed you do this day, however small or great, to Jesus.

Living Eucharist: Gathered, Nourished, Sent

A Pastoral Letter from the Most Reverend Robert N. Lynch to the Church of the Diocese of St. Petersburg

Last week we brought you the first part of Bishop Lynch's Pastoral Letter on the Eucharist. Here is the continuation of that letter...

The Purpose of this Letter

Both practicing Catholics and those who have distanced themselves from the faith need to reflect on the great mystery of the Eucharist which the Church celebrates. Some may say: "I used to be a Catholic but I didn't get much out of the Mass so I don't go anymore." Or, "I left the Catholic Church and now attend another church where everyone seems more welcome and welcoming." I urge such people to think twice about what they have given up in separating themselves from the Eucharist. All people of the Diocese of St. Petersburg are invited and encouraged to reflect on this great gift and treasure. Even for those who believe, our study and reflection may revive a sense of wonder, awe and gratitude for the gift which is the Eucharist.

By reflecting on this pastoral letter and making a commitment to pray and study during the next three years, it is my hope that Catholics will achieve three things: first, a better understanding and experience of Eucharist as gift; second, a desire to participate more fully, actively and regularly in a liturgy that is better understood and appreciated; third, spiritual motivation and encouragement to carry Christ, whom we receive, into the world and spread his gospel there. Let us invite those who have left the Catholic Church to return and invite those with no religious affiliation to join us in our community of faith, prayer, and love.

Planned Parenthood: Not what it seems

Most of the public know very little about Planned Parenthood, an organization that has broadly affected society. For many, Planned Parenthood Federation of America enjoys a reputation of being a leader in women's health services and affordable reproductive care, but that reputation does not have a solid foundation. Planned Parenthood is driven to remain the largest abortion provider in the United States. To reach their goals, they distort the truth and provide misleading information to women who are experiencing an unexpected pregnancy. Despite a 63% decrease in cancer screening, a 79% decrease in prenatal care, a 30% decrease in conceptive services, and a 56% decrease in breast exams, Planned Parenthood still continues to display these services as a major part of their public advertising. What they call "unique services" are simply services that can be provided, without controversy, at any one of more than 13,540 federally qualified, low-cost, high quality health care clinics and rural health centers. Simply put, there are better options when it comes to women's healthcare than Planned Parenthood.
