Blessed Lucy of Narni

DATES: 1476-1544 FEAST DAY NOVEMBER 15

Lucia Brocadelli wanted to become a nun, but when she was 15, her family arranged her marriage to a count.

After three years the marriage was not consummated, and her husband freed her. As a Dominican tertiary, she joined communities in Rome and Viterbo, where she received the stigmata, which church investigations found genuine. Meanwhile, the Duke of Ferrara, who wanted a mystic for his town, built Lucy a convent in Ferrara. The move was ill-fated. Lucy endured resentment from other nuns, the death of her patron and loss of the stigmata; she was replaced as superior and spent her last 40 years in obscurity. She was beatified in 1710.

Weekly Message from Fr. Pecchie

My Dear Friends in Christ,

These words of our Lord were spoken at the very end of his earthly life, just a few days before his crucifixion. His main point is that with his death and resurrection the Old Covenant will end, and the New Covenant, the age of the Church, will begin. This will be the last period of salvation history.

In this period, God's saving grace will gradually spread throughout the world, and the powers of evil will desperately, and unsuccessfully, battle against it. At the end of the age of the Church, Christ will return to bring all human history to its culmination.

Exactly when that will happen is shrouded in mystery, no one but the Father knows. What Jesus wants to make sure his Apostles understand is that it will occur, and he wants them to be ready for it at all times. He actually finishes the discourse by saying: "Be watchful! Be alert! You do not know when the time will come."

We do not know, because we do not need to know.

God has seen fit to assure us that history has a purpose, and that it will come to an end, and that we should always keep this in mind. Through the ages, many Christians have become obsessed with the details of how and when this will occur, often neglecting the whole point of this datum of revelation. It is enough for us to know that we are part of a story that has meaning and that it will come to a definitive end, such that the sun and moon and stars will be darkened – the whole order of creation will be transformed. At that time, we will receive just recompense for how we carried out our role in the story. It's that simple, and it's that momentous.

The Vale of Rest by John Everett Millais (1829-1892) - Public Domain

A painting by the remarkable nineteenth century British artist Sir John Everett Millais captures the lesson our Lord is trying to teach us.

It is called The Vale of Rest and it is held by the Tate Gallery in London. It refers to an old Scottish superstition that when a coffin-shaped cloud is seen in the sky, it means an approaching death. The painting shows the cemetery of a convent, with a few crooked old headstones. In the background the sun is setting, and the tall trees growing near the convent wall are sharply, blackly silhouetted. One dark cloud blotches the brilliant sunset, and it is in the shape of a coffin.

In the foreground are two nuns. The younger nun is knee-deep in a grave, digging vigorously, her veil tucked back out of the way – she is working hard, serving her neighbor. Sitting on a headstone beside her is an older nun, holding a rosary – praying hard, serving the Lord. The sitting nun is staring right out of the canvas, directly at the onlooker. Her face is hard to read, but it seems to be anxious and intent.

She has seen the coffin-shaped cloud, and she seems to know who the grave is for: maybe for her, maybe for a dying sister in the convent, but also maybe for the intruder on the scene – us. We do not know the day or the hour, but we know the fact: Jesus will come again; history will end; the sun will set, and God wants us to stay ready, both by working and by praying.

Oremus pro Invicem

Elaine Dionne to Receive the St. Jude Medal

Bishop Lynch initiated the annual St. Jude the Apostle Medal in 1999 to honor individuals who have consistently given of themselves to live the Gospel of Jesus Christ by their generosity and service. Individuals are chosen, but those honored also represent numerous others who, like them, labor and serve generously in similar parish ministries.

This honor will be bestowed on Elaine Dionne this year. Elaine has been an active member of the parish community for over nineteen years; is a Reader for Masses; is an Extraordinary Minister of Holy Communion for Masses and for the homebound; has been a sponsor for RCIA; has offered her talent as a quilter, making beautiful quilts for church fundraisers; is an offertory counter; and volunteers in the parish office. Elaine is very faithful and always willing to help where needed.

Bishop Parkes will confer this award on recipients from every parish in the diocese at the Cathedral of St. Jude in St. Petersburg on Sunday, November 21, 2021 at 3:00 p.m.

Congratulations to Elaine Dionne and all the dedicated parishioners she represents!

Catholic Teaching Around Poverty

WORLD DAY OF POVERTY—NOVEMBER 14

Catholic Teachings Around Poverty

The Church's social teaching is a rich treasure of wisdom about building a just society and living lives of holiness amidst the challenges of modern society. Modern Catholic social teaching has been articulated through a tradition of papal, conciliar, and episcopal documents. The depth and richness of this tradition can be understood best through a direct reading of these documents. In these brief reflections, we highlight several of the key themes that are at the heart of our Catholic social tradition. For more information about Catholic Social Teaching, listen to our podcasts and also, read quotes from Pope Francis on poverty at www.povertyusa.org

Life and Dignity of the Human Person

The Catholic Church proclaims that human life is sacred and that the dignity of the human person is the foundation of a moral vision for society. This belief is the foundation of all the principles of our social teaching. In our society, human life is under direct attack from abortion and euthanasia. The value of human life is being threatened by cloning, embryonic stem cell research, and the use of the death penalty. The intentional targeting of civilians in war or terrorist attacks is always wrong. Catholic teaching also calls on us to work to avoid war. Nations must protect the right to life by finding increasingly effective ways to prevent conflicts and resolve them by peaceful means. We believe that every person is precious, that people are more important than things, and that the measure of every institution is whether it threatens or enhances the life and dignity of the human person.

Call to Family, Community, and Participation

The person is not only sacred but also social. How we organize our society — in economics and politics, in law and policy — directly affects human dignity and the capacity of individuals to grow in community. Marriage and the family are the central social institutions that must be supported and strengthened, not undermined. We believe people have a right and a duty to participate in society, seeking together the common good and well-being of all, especially the poor and vulnerable.

Rights and Responsibilities

The Catholic tradition teaches that human dignity can be protected and a healthy community can be achieved only if human rights are protected and responsibilities are met. Therefore, every person has a fundamental right to life and a right to those things required for human decency. Corresponding to these rights are duties and responsibilities—to one another, to our families, and to the larger society.

Option for the Poor and Vulnerable

A basic moral test is how our most vulnerable members are faring. In a society marred by deepening divisions between rich and poor, our tradition recalls the story of the Last Judgment (Mt 25:31-46) and instructs us to put the needs of the poor and vulnerable first.

The Dignity of Work and the Rights of Workers

The economy must serve people, not the other way around. Work is more than a way to make a living; it is a form of continuing participation in God's creation. If the dignity of work is to be protected, then the basic rights of workers must be respected—the right to productive work, to decent and fair wages, to the organization and joining of unions, to private property, and to economic initiative.

Solidarity

We are one human family whatever our national, racial, ethnic, economic, and ideological differences. We are our brothers and sisters keepers, wherever they may be. Loving our neighbor has global dimensions in a shrinking world. At the core of the virtue of solidarity is the pursuit of justice and peace. Pope Paul VI taught that if you want peace, work for justice.<sup>(1)</sup> The Gospel calls us to be peacemakers. Our love for all our sisters and brothers demands that we promote peace in a world surrounded by violence and conflict.

Care for God's Creation

We show our respect for the Creator by our stewardship of creation. Care for the earth is not just an Earth Day slogan, it is a requirement of our faith. We are called to protect people and the planet, living our faith in relationship with all of God's creations. This environmental challenge has fundamental moral and ethical dimensions that cannot be ignored.

Learn About U.S. Poverty

The PovertyUSA.org and PobrezaUSA.org websites sponsored by the Catholic Campaign for Human Development have facts and figures about poverty in the U.S. featured on an Interactive Poverty Map, a Poverty Tour video and Snapshots of Poverty to help us understand the challenges of trying to live at the Poverty Line, and Stories of Hope about how communities are addressing poverty's root causes. The Catholic Church is journeying together to grow in communion, participation and mission as we look towards the future. This process, called for by Pope Francis, is known as the Synod on Synodality. Synod is an ancient word in the Tradition of the Church, whose meaning draws on the deepest themes of Revelation. It indicates the path along which the People of God walk together. To learn more visit www.JourneyingTogether.org.
