Reflections for the 19th Sunday In Ordinary Time

First Reading: 1 Kings 19:4–8

Sometimes success is rewarded with difficulty. Here we find Elijah just after the peak of his renown. He has just defeated the prophets of Baal on Mt. Carmel, where the Lord sent down fire from heaven to consume his sacrifice. The people of Israel confessed triumphantly, “The Lord is God! The Lord is God!” (1 Kings 18:39), and Elijah executed all the prophets of Baal. It would seem that his struggles against pagan worship were at an end and he could continue his prophetic ministry in peace. Yet the Baal-worshipping queen, Jezebel, seeks revenge. She wants to kill Elijah for his actions on Mt. Carmel, so he must flee for his life. Despite his victory, Elijah finds himself exhausted in the desert without food or water, shading himself under the only tree he can find and praying for death. But the Lord is not yet done with him. Instead, he sends an angel with food and water to sustain the prophet. In fact, this heaven-sent meal is nothing short of miraculous food that sustains Elijah for forty days and forty nights on his journey to Mt. Horeb, the place where Moses received the Ten Commandments from the Lord. Our own lives have ups and downs. The key to riding them out is to depend on the Lord’s provision in our most despairing moments. Rather than praying for death like Elijah, we can pray for the Lord’s help. He knows our needs and longs to sustain us for the journey ahead.

Second Reading: Ephesians 4:30—5:2

It can be hard to see the connection between the spiritual realm and our everyday activities. God can seem distant; prayer can feel dry; and the invisible battle of angels and demons raging all around us can slip our minds like a distant memory. Yet Saint Paul clearly teaches that our sins “leave room for the devil” (Ephesians 4:26) and “grieve the holy Spirit of God” (v. 30). Jesus warns us against becoming outwardly pious while being inwardly corrupt (see Matthew 6:5). In fact, a great deal of our personal spiritual battle is not just about changing our external conduct, but getting our internal attitudes to line up with our upright behavior. In particular, Paul targets our speech—“fury, anger, shouting”—for change since “from the fullness of the heart the mouth speaks” (Luke 6:45; NAB). Our speaking to one another reveals our interior spiritual condition. Instead of shouting at each other, we should forgive each other like God forgives us and thus be “imitators of God” (Ephesians 5:1). By imitating his pattern of generous love and forgiveness, we slowly begin to become like him. The Holy Spirit gives us grace, not just to escape from Hell, but actually to become holy like God. Our everyday life, our habits, our relationships, and our work can be transformed from a merely human set of tasks into a Spirit-empowered, God-imitating reality. The invisible realm thus invades the visible. It is through our actions that the life of God becomes observable in the world.

Gospel: John 6:41–51

Even though the crowds had been seeking Jesus out and pleaded with him to give them the bread from heaven, now they question him. He claims to be the bread come down from Heaven, but they dismiss him as merely “the son of Joseph” (John 5:42). He is familiar to them, and so they reject his claims to divinity. But Jesus doesn’t back down. Instead, he reaffirms his claim by quoting Isaiah, saying that everyone will be “taught by God”—that is, by Jesus himself. He doubles down on his identity as the living bread come down from Heaven when he insists that we must both believe in him and eat the bread, which is his flesh, in order to gain eternal life. The crowd wanted to have something to eat, but they did not want to change their perspective. They wanted to receive the benefits of belief without actually believing. Jesus seemed like a normal person, a familiar face in the village, and when he claims to be something more, the crowd can’t comprehend how someone seemingly so normal could actually be the Son of God. It is easy for us to fall into the same trap and regard Jesus as the world does: just another religious teacher, an interesting historical person. Yet Jesus’s claims lay ahold of our very lives. If he is who he says he is, then our whole world is altered, turned upside down by the very fact that the Son of God has walked in our midst. And yet he has not only come to us, but he has offered us his eternal-life-giving flesh in the Eucharist.

Reflection: Have you ever heard someone say something completely outlandish? The Jews in today’s Gospel are not just shocked by Jesus’ teaching, they are also likely disgusted and offended. Is Jesus of Nazareth really telling them that He is the Bread of Life and the fulfillment of all the Scriptures? Is he truly the new Passover Lamb? These possibilities are scandalous to them. Oftentimes, living our faith can cause scandal, at least in the eyes of the world. It’s radical for us to cling to the truths of the faith and to Christ in today’s culture. Let’s take some time today to learn more about the Eucharist, the source and summit of our faith. Jesus knew we need physical signs, which is why he gave us his very self, hidden under the appearances of bread and wine, to nourish us on our journey in this life.

A Prayer for Spiritual Communion

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament.

I love You above all things and I desire to receive You into my soul.

Since I cannot, at this moment, receive You sacramentally,

Come at least spiritually into my heart.

I embrace You as if You were already there

And unite myself wholly to You.

Never permit me to be separated from You.

Amen.

We continue to livestream and to post the 4:00 PM Mass, featuring Fr. Carlos Bedoya as the presider, for our parishioners to be able to hear his inspiring homilies on YouTube or on our FaceBook page.

A COMMUNION PRAYER

Jesus, although You have existed with the Father and the Holy Spirit from the beginning, You came among us in Your human nature and showed us the depth of divine love. With amazement, I think about how You, Almighty God, became man. Even more, with astonishment I recall Your words to Your disciples that to have eternal life, we have to eat the bread that is You. Jesus, I have now received the miracle of Your flesh and blood in this Holy Communion. May I grow in the awareness that your divine life is now within me. Please let my attitude reflect Your presence in me.

Lord Jesus, I believe that You are truly present within the consecrated bread which has been blessed and broken. Through the eyes of faith, I affirm that what I have received is Your Body and Blood.

Lord Jesus, in this celebration of faith, I have received the cup of blessing. It is the new and eternal covenant of Your love. May I proclaim, once again, this day that you are the Christ, the anointed One of God, who has come to me. Amen.

As St. Mary of the Lakes Catholic Church approaches their 110th anniversary as a parish family, the glory goes first to God for His many blessings. In addition, we as a community, have reached this point through the hard work and dedication of many people including priests, church staff members, parishioners and the community in general. Another group of people who have been a blessing over the years are our bulletin supporters. Through their generosity, the cost to the church is defrayed for the production of our full color weekly communication tool. This allows St. Mary of the Lakes Catholic Church to continue the support of the many great works the church is doing on a daily basis.

If you are a business owner or professional, would you consider placing an ad in the St. Mary of the Lakes weekly bulletin? Another option of support is a personal item ad such as to celebrate an anniversary, birthday, First Communion, Confirmation or Wedding. Other options include a favorite Bible verse or an “In Memorial” item. All ads are in full color, can include photos and pictures, and may be altered throughout the run. There are many ad size options.

If you would like more information, please call the representative from our bulletin publisher, LPi. Rob Kennedy can be reached by email at rkennedy@4LPi.com. Or, feel free to call Rob any time at 804-366-4838. Thank you for your prayerful consideration of this opportunity.

REFLEXIONES PARA EL DOMINGO 19º EN TIEMPO ORDINARIO

El ser humano por naturaleza es terco y obstinado, de corazón duro y le resulta muy difícil creer en las realidades que vive. Por ejemplo: ya ha pasado más de un año de estar viviendo esta pandemia y aún existen personas que no creen en ella. Han perdido la vida miles de personas alrededor del mundo y muchos siguen obstinados en su propio círculo. “¡Mientras a mí no me toque, que importan los demás!”. La experiencia que hemos estado viviendo nos invita al cambio; es tiempo de darnos cuenta que somos frágiles y que la ciencia y la medicina, sin el poder Dios, no quedan en nada.

Hoy, en el Evangelio, Jesús insiste en dar a conocer a los de su tiempo, y a nosotros, que él es el Pan bajado del cielo para dar vida. Pero la gente seguía en su misma terquedad. No lo escucharon, mucho menos abrieron los ojos para ver.

“Conocemos a su padre y a su madre, ¿no es cierto? Él no es sino Jesús, el hijo de José. ¿Cómo puede decir que ha bajado del cielo?” (Juan 6:42). Que terrible confusión, para ellos era imposible darse cuenta de lo que Jesús seguía anunciando: “Yo soy el pan vivo bajado del cielo. El que coma de este pan vivirá para siempre. El pan que yo daré es mi carne, y lo daré para la vida del mundo” (Juan 6:51). Bien, y ahora, ¿qué sigue? Yo creo que debemos reflexionar en la siguiente pregunta: ¿Por qué mucha gente que asiste a Misa no comulga? Quizá porque no cree que Cristo es el verdadero pan del cielo. Recordemos que la Eucaristía es el alimento espiritual para la jornada. ¡Acerquémonos a este Pan! ©LPi

All parishes are asked to remember our deceased priests who were incarnated for the Orlando Diocese, or who are buried at the San Pedro Center. For August they are:

- August 08, 2008 Reverend Sean Shine
- August 26, 1993 Reverend Bronis Benesevich
- August 28, 2013 Reverend Michael Hannon

Eternal rest grant unto them, O Lord, and let Perpetual Light shine upon them. May the souls of the faithful departed, through the mercy of God, rest in peace. Amen.

We pray for the repose of the soul of Lenora Gibner and Madeleine Parent. May God welcome them home, fill them with peace, and bless those who will miss them.
