“HERE I AM!”

We hear this phrase so often in the Scriptures. We also know that it has been the inspiration for a number of liturgical hymns throughout the ages. Yet, there is nothing to merely existing, existing has no merit, no cause, and no purpose. But, the “Here I Am!” reiterated in Sacred Scripture is about more than simply occupying space.

One annoyance of mine is a popular bumper sticker featuring the symbols of world religions configured to spell the word “Coexist”. My annoyance with this is not the message of love and harmony, but the underlying message that the best human beings can hope for is to occupy the same space without beating-up on one another. That is what the wisdom of the world? We are isolated individuals each fighting for our own existence? So the best we can do is just to “coexist” without harming one another?

“Here I am!” when spoken to our Lord declares that I am here to do more than simply “coexist” with my neighbor. I am called to make a difference in this life for the better. I am here to show the love and compassion of Jesus. I am here in this world, not just to survive, but to thrive: to show others that life is worth living, not just existing.

Our life in Jesus reminds us that we are connected to a higher calling, a way of living that gives us purpose and meaning. God has placed me here to know, love, and serve him in this life and to be forever happy with Him in heaven. The “Here I am!” we say to the Lord avails us to His will and to His service. It gives our life meaning and hope, and challenges us to show this hope to others. It is more than just showing up. It is more than just being in a Church building. “Here I am!” says I am a part of the Church, the Body of Christ, which cannot be confined to four walls.

“Here I Am!” causes me to leave myself and reach out to make a difference. It empowers me to do God’s will in this world. If you never have surrendered to His love, now is the time to stand, look to the Lord and say, Here I am Lord, I come to do your will!

MERCY & HEALING AFTER ABORTION

By Janine Marrone of Luncheons-4-Life & Support After Abortion

We have heard it often in the Mass and throughout the liturgical year: “protecting life from natural conception to natural death” is a stalwart of Catholic teaching. Despite that,

America now approaches 48 years of legalized abortion and over 60 million children have died from abortion in the US alone. Though Catholic teaching has not and will not bend on that fundamental right to life, we know that many of those getting abortions confess to be people of faith.

Because the anniversary of St. Pope John Paul II’s Evangelium vitae is approaching its 25th anniversary, it is appropriate to select one impactful paragraph from the 1995 Encyclical:

“Laws which legitimize the direct killing of innocent human beings through abortion or euthanasia are in complete opposition to the inviolable right to life proper to every individual; they thus deny equality of everyone before the law.” Evangelium vitae (the Gospel of Life) no.72

We know that laws don’t change hearts, but hearts change laws. We can be effective change agents by pursuing a heart change among women of child bearing age. We can also be effective change agents by pursuing those most impacted by abortion.

After almost 50 years of legalized abortion most people beyond the age of reason either know someone who has had or have been directly impacted by abortion. Studies show that 1 in 4 women will have an abortion by the age of 45 and 50% of all abortions are performed on someone who has already had one. Abortion does not discriminate by race, religion, or national origin or for that matter even the father of the child. Many are impacted by abortion decisions including parents, grandparents, siblings, extended families and even the ones who drove someone to the abortion facility.

Recent consumer research conducted by Shapard Research in Oklahoma City show that at least 33% of those surveyed had experienced an adverse change after abortion and of those Catholics surveyed; 44% agreed they had an adverse impact. And though these women confessed the faith, when asked how many went to religious services; 80% said

WHAT IS ORDINARY TIME?

Ordinary time is the longest season of the liturgical year. It begins after January 6, the Epiphany, and goes until Ash Wednesday, the beginning of Lent. That period can last anywhere from five to eight weeks, depending on when Easter is celebrated. Ordinary time picks up again after Pentecost Sunday and lasts from twenty-three to twenty-seven weeks, until the end of the liturgical year, the Saturday before Advent begins.

Why the name ordinary? "Ordinary" is not in contrast to "extraordinary" or "special" but rather stresses the Latin language notion of "ordinal" or numbered Sundays. The Latin title for the season, tempus ordinarium, conveys the sense that this time of the year is measured or numbered time. Measured time can allude simply to the numbered Sundays, or the notion that these Sundays are a "measured" time to deepen and immerse ourselves completely in the realities of Jesus' incarnation, ministry, passion, death, and resurrection. Ordinary time offers us the opportunity to connect the ordinary lived experiences of our lives with those of Jesus, who modeled for us how to live a truly human existence.

“¡AQUÍ ESTOY!”

Escuchamos esta frase con tanta frecuencia en las Escrituras. También sabemos que ha sido la inspiración de varios himnos litúrgicos a lo largo de los siglos. El “Aquí estoy”. Escuchamos a tantos reiterar en la Sagrada Escritura que se trata de más que simplemente ocupar espacio. No hay nada en simplemente existir, no tiene mérito, causa ni fin.

Una de mis molestias es una calcomanía popular para el parachoques con los símbolos de las religiones del mundo configurados para deletrear la palabra “Coexistir”. Mi molestia con esto no es por un mensaje de amor y armonía, si no el mensaje subyacente es que lo mejor que los seres humanos pueden esperar es ocupar el mismo espacio sin golpearse unos a otros. Eso es lo que nos dice la sabiduría del mundo. Somos individuos aislados, cada uno luchando por su propia existencia, así es que lo mejor que podemos hacer es simplemente “coexistir” sin lastimarnos unos a otros.

“¡Aquí estoy!”, Cuando le habla a nuestro Señor declara que estoy aquí para hacer más que simplemente “convivir” con mi vecino. He sido llamado para hacer una diferencia en su vida para mejor. Estoy aquí para mostrarle el amor y la compasión de Jesús. Estoy aquí en este mundo, no solo para sobrevivir, sino para prosperar; para mostrar a los demás que la vida vale la pena vivirla, no solo existiendo.

Nuestra vida en Jesús nos recuerda que estamos conectados a un llamado superior, una forma de vida que nos da propósitos y significado. Dios me ha puesto aquí para conocerlo, amarlo y servirlo en esta vida y ser feliz para siempre con Él en el cielo. En el “¡Aquí estoy!” Decimos que el Señor nos dota para su voluntad, para su servicio. Le da sentido y esperanza a nuestra vida y nos desafía a mostrar esta esperanza a los demás. Es más que solo aparecer. Es más que estar en un edificio de la Iglesia. “¡Aquí estoy!” dice que soy parte de la Iglesia, el Cuerpo de Cristo, que no puede limitarse a cuatro paredes. Me hace dejarme a mí mismo y extender la mano para marcar la diferencia. Me da poder para hacer la voluntad de Dios en este mundo.

Si nunca lo ha hecho, ahora es el momento de pararse, mirar al Señor, entregarse a su amor y decir: “¡Aquí estoy, Señor, vengo a hacer tu voluntad!”

rarely or never. We can ask ourselves Why? It could be personal condemnation and or the “feeling” of judgment and condemnation in the churches they attended. In the same study, respondents were asked if they knew where to go for help for their loss: 90% did not know. The following are some actual “verbatim” from those who experienced abortion (from the research) :

- “It brings a deep guilt, sadness and feeling of loss”
- “I’m haunted by it <the abortion>”
- “I deeply regretted doing this”
- “That person is me and it has been over 20 years since I had the abortion and it still hurts me a very great deal”

These statements reflect the guilt and self-judgement women are imposing on themselves. Many carry the burden of their abortion as a weight they believe can never be taken away. Any mortal sin separates (excommunicates) a person from God, but the sin of abortion is not unpardonable. We need to correct that myth. ALL Priests are able to absolve those sins!! Consider what Pope Francis wrote in an Apostolic Letter in 2016:

“I wish to restate as firmly as I can that abortion is a grave sin, since it puts an end to an innocent life. In the same way, however, I can and must state that there is no sin that God’s mercy cannot reach and wipe away when it finds a repentant heart seeking to be reconciled With the Father”.

What can you do (and just sending someone to the confessional may not always be the best first step). Be compassionate: circumstances before and around abortion are complicated. Listen. Listen and Listen some more. You may be the first to hear about the abortion.

Don’t judge the sin yourself (especially reactions of “aghast” and repulsion) instead educate yourself about abortion and its impact physically, and psychologically to open the door to more conversation that can bring healing.... we have been silent enough, indifferent enough even ignorant enough.....We need to shift the paradigm because unresolved loss is killing our families, our churches, and our community.

For more information on healing from abortion, talk to your Priest or Deacon, Respect Life Coordinator (in the bulletin) or contact www.supportafterabortion.com

Or contact the author of this article: janinemarrone@gmail.com

There are resources locally to help women and others that are affected post-abortion. For more information, please contact Fr. Casey, or any priest in the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Thank you to all that have supported this ministry! Thank you especially to the daily Mass attendees that graciously parked in the west parking lot and over by the Pastoral Center so we could begin the set-up for the distribution lines early.

THE PRAYER PARTNER GROUP

Please, we are in need of a prayer partners to say the rosary on Mondays so that those in need receive more than just food. Prayer Partners recite the rosary in their own homes, anytime during the food distribution window: 10:30am to 12:30pm. Since it is a Monday, it is the Joyous Mysteries! Please call the Parish Office to be added to the Prayer Partner group so that your name can be listed in a future bulletin as a thank you for this ministry of blessing.
