REFLECTION

On July 16, we celebrate the Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel and reflect on the blessing of the Carmelite Order, their lives of simplicity and contemplation, as well as the gift of the devotion of the scapular.

According to tradition, the scapular of Carmel was presented to St. Simon Stock in the 13th century during a period of severe oppression of the Carmelite Order. The Blessed Mother appeared to him as an apparition and said to him:

“Receive, my beloved son, this scapular of thy Order; it is the special sign of my favor, which I have obtained for thee and for thy children of Mount Carmel. He who dies clothed with this habit shall be preserved from eternal fire. It is the badge of salvation, a shield in time of danger, and a pledge of special peace and protection.”

The scapular has become a widely used devotion, with special significance in its offering of protection, as well as in its purpose of becoming a “habit” of Christian conduct, as described by St. Pope John Paul II. By receiving the scapular, believers align themselves with the Order of Carmel, and “dedicate themselves to the service of Our Lady for the good of the whole Church.” This, in turn, enables them to “experience the loving and motherly presence of Mary in their daily commitment to be clothed in Jesus Christ and to manifest him in their life for the good of the Church and the whole of humanity.”

Lead me, Lord

My Lord, Jesus, when the rich man asked what it was you wanted of him, you asked him to sell all he had and come follow you.

Help me not to walk away as he did but to not let anything keep me from you.

Out of love for me, you have given me what I need.

Out of love for me, you have trusted me with all good gifts.

Help me to realize what I have and to always be aware and grateful.

Lord Jesus, you are the source of all and I am your steward.

You have called me, I will answer.

Lead me Lord, I will go.

WHY DO WE DO THAT?

WHAT KIND OF RELIGIOUS PRACTICES SHOULD WE BEGIN, ONCE WE MARRY, TO HELP US PRACTICE OUR FAITH EACH DAY?

Your spiritual life as a couple is important. The sacrament of Marriage is a gift and a grace, but living it well isn't always easy! It requires intentionality and perseverance. Growing your spiritual life as a couple also requires a plan. Life can be incredibly busy. There's never "enough time" for everything we want to do. But we can live by our priorities. If we don't prioritize prayer, we'll find it slowly disappear from our lives.

If you're not already praying individually, that's a good place to start. If your schedules are similar, take some quiet time at the same time to help hold each other accountable. Praying together is also important! You could start by looking at the religious practices of your family and of families around you that you respect. Talk with your spouse about the ones who make the deepest impression on you or were most meaningful when you were young. Think about what you want your future children to experience. Making faith a commitment now will mean it is engrained habit when you grow your family. Ultimately, these faith practices should help us grow in our love for God and for one another.

Ministry Updates

CAREER MINISTRY

The Career Ministry continues to grow steadily and already has helped a participant find a job for which we give our thanks and praise to God! We are excited to announce that the sole focus of our meetings on July 13th and 27th will be on interviewing skills. A candidate's confidence in their ability to be their best during an interview is an essential skill to ensure that they distinguish themselves from the competition. We want to help them prepare by conducting mock interviews. Our plan is to have operate multiple interviewing "stations" led by our volunteer coaches to expose our participants to a variety of questions and styles.

We anticipate that these sessions will be very popular and urge everyone who is interested to please confirm your attendance by contacting John Allen jlallen6580@msn.com / 617-921-3937 or Ted Brauch 904-534-9548 if you have any questions. This will allow us to plan accordingly by making sure we have enough coaches to help. Our thanks to our fellow parishioners who are praying (and cheering) for the success of the Career Ministry.

SPIRITUAL DIRECTION

Do you have an interior desire to grow closer to the Lord, be committed to increasing and/or developing a deeper prayer life through scripture and contemplation?

GUARDIAN AD LITEM

Hi Neighbors! June is National Reunification Month, a time to celebrate the good things our communities do to promote healthy child development, support families and help prevent child abuse and neglect.

We know children do best when they can safely remain with their parents or with other family members. That's why the Guardian ad Litem Program Volunteers commit to strengthening families in their ability to care for and protect their children. According to the National CASA/GAL Association for Children 2019 Annual Local Program Survey Report, 41 percent of the cases closed resulted in children returning to their parent(s) or primary caretakers, including 5,000 children reported as remaining with parents or caregivers throughout the case.

The Guardian ad Litem program, which is a volunteer-based state agency and non-profit program, is in need of great volunteers. Volunteers advocate for the Best Interests of children in court and provide a stable adult presence. A child with a volunteer has a better chance to have a successful outcome in the court system.

We need long-term committed volunteers able to advocate for a child, alleged to have been abused, abandoned or neglected for a period of 12 -18 months. The time commitment for a volunteer to advocate for a child can be two-three hours per week. To participate in an online Information Session and to learn more about this volunteer position, please contact Volunteer Recruiters, Sarah Carrigan at sarah.carrigan@gal.fl.gov or Beth McKiernan at beth.mckiernan@gal.fl.gov or visit <https://GuardianadLitem.org> to submit an application or call 386-239-7803.

Qualified Charitable Distributions

A CHOICE FOR I.R.A. OWNERS WHO WANT TO REDUCE TAXES LINKED TO I.R.A. DISTRIBUTIONS

Do you have an I.R.A.? As you enter your 70s, you may start to look at that I.R.A. not only as an asset, but also as a problem. By law, you must take required minimum distributions (R.M.D.s) from a Traditional I.R.A. once you reach age 72; there are very few exceptions to this. The downside of these R.M.D.s? The entire distribution is taxable. (You never have to take R.M.D.s from a Roth I.R.A., provided you are its original owner.)

While the income from the R.M.D. is nice, the linked taxes can be a headache. Relief for that headache might be available to you, though. Did you know that you can potentially satisfy some or all of your annual R.M.D. requirement in a way that can help you manage taxes and make a charitable impact?

Consider the Qualified Charitable Distribution, Q.C.D. This is a direct asset transfer from an I.R.A. to a charity or non-profit organization of your choice. The organization must be tax Exempt under Internal Revenue Section 501(c)(3).

A Q.C.D., sometimes called a charitable I.R.A. gift, is intended to accomplish two things.

One, it gives you a chance to contribute up to $100,000 in a single year to a cause or charity.

Two, you can count the entire amount of the Q.C.D. toward your R.M.D. for the year, and the Q.C.D. amount may not be included in your gross income. You must be at least 70½ years old to make a Q.C.D. You may want to coordinate a Q.C.D. with the help and guidance of a financial professional, because if you improperly manage the transfer of assets between your I.R.A. and the charity, the tax break you hope for could be lost.

You also need to allow enough time for the asset transfer to occur, meaning Q.C.D.s are best arranged before the very end of a calendar year.

In 2020, the age limit for putting money into a Traditional I.R.A. was lifted, and some older I.R.A. owners wondered if they could make a Q.C.D. to a charity and simultaneously characterize it as an I.R.A. contribution. The Internal Revenue Service said no to that.

That said, a Q.C.D. is a choice that you may want to look at, especially if you think of taxes when you think of your mandatory annual I.R.A. distributions. It should be noted that the tax treatment of I.R.A.s can change from year to year, and remember, this article is for informational purposes only and does not constitute real-life advice. If a Q.C.D. interests you, consider talking with a financial professional before making any move.
