FR. ROBERT ADDRESSES OUR STUDENTS FOR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Teaching and learning have been part of our world from the very first moment that humanity appeared on earth. When our ancestors were hunters and gatherers, sons learned how to hunt from their fathers and daughters learned how to care for their families from their moms. As humanity became more advanced, people began to learn skills and trades from people outside their families. Young men were apprenticed to tradesmen to learn how to be a blacksmith, or a carpenter or an accountant so that they could do their part and make their contribution to society.

The more complex our society became the more skills humanity needed to share and learn and so centers for learning gradually came into existence. Schools, colleges, universities are places where humanity thinks and humanity dreams. They are places where we learn the skills we need to make our contribution to society and be successful.

You see a school is a place where one generation shares the skills and the knowledge they have acquired during their lives with the next generation. And that's what happens here every day. Here at St. Anne-Pacelli we are so blessed to have teachers and administrators who sincerely care about you, and who are willing to share their skills and their knowledge with you. They do this because they believe in you and they want to give you a greater chance to be successful in life and leave the world a better place.

We all know that many people in the world are sick, but now we can see the light at the end of the tunnel because some people, actually many talented people, were able to come up with the vaccines we need to overcome Covid in record time. What was projected to take years took less than a year. How did they ever do it? They went to school. They studied and learned, and someone gave them the skills they needed to succeed, and they did. Yes, schools prepare students to take their place in the world. Schools give their students the skills they need to be successful, personally and professionally.

So, young adults, when school gets old, when you just don't feel like studying or doing your work, try and remember that everyday when you get up and come to school, every time when you open a book that you would rather keep closed, every time you read an article rather than surfing YouTube for hours, you are preparing yourself to make your contribution to our world and the generations that will follow you. They will need your knowledge and skills. If your generation forgets anything that was handed on to you it will be lost for future generations. Where would we ever be if the people tasked with developing the vaccines didn't do their work and rather watched Youtube for hours? Where would we be?

St. Anne-Pacelli is a school, a great school, an incredible school in every sense of the word. But this is not just Schools Week. This is Catholic Schools Week. And St. Anne-Pacelli is not only a school, it is a CATHOLIC school. You see, a simple school educates the mind and challenges its students to share their skills and knowledge with those who will follow. A Catholic school is supposed to do so much more than that. A Catholic school also educates your heart and introduces you to God who created humanity and loves humanity. A Catholic school teaches us that we are not just strangers on the road of life; rather, we are related, we are brothers and sisters who have a responsibility to each other. A Catholic school inspires its students not only to share their knowledge and skills with the next generation, but even more importantly, a Catholic school challenges its students to love and care for the world, each other and the next generation. Catholic schools teach us, engrain in us, that learning is not just about our personal success and fulfillment, and that our lives are not just about personal success and fulfillment.

Fr. Pedro Arupe, a leader of the Jesuits who are very involved in Catholic education all over the world, continually reminded those who attended Jesuit schools that they and we are called to be men and women for others. In other words, men and women willing to share their lives with others and for others over and over again. Just like Jesus gave His life for us.

If you leave here only concerned about yourself and your personal success and financial success then we have failed you; because we may have educated your mind, but we somehow missed the most important part of our mission, and we failed to educate your heart.

I want to thank Ronie Collins, Jocelyn Smith and all the administrators for sharing their skills and their knowledge to make our school a special place. I want to thank them especially for loving you and caring for you so much. You are, indeed, precious to them. I think you know that. I want to thank your teachers and our school staff who generously share their lives and their skills and their knowledge with you each and every day. These are people who never give up on you even when you are less than enthusiastic learners. You know that, too. I want to thank your families who believe in Catholic schools and are willing to make big sacrifices to send you here.

I can't wait to see the good you will do and the generous lives you will live because you walked these humble halls and graduated from our beautiful Catholic school. Rest assured that our St. Anne Church parish and all of the Catholic parishes of Columbus are so very proud of our school and pledge our support to you, your teachers and your administrators.

"Be it known to all who enter here that Jesus is the reason for our school. He is the unknown but ever present teacher in its classes. He is the model of its faculty and the inspiration of its students." May it always be so. Happy Catholic Schools Week!

The Audacity of Holiness

Do you know a holy person? I'm not talking about piety – that's important, too, in its own way. But right now, I'm speaking of holiness.

St. Therese of Lisieux called holiness "a disposition of the heart that makes us humble and little in the arms of God, aware of our weakness, and confident – in the most audacious way – in His Fatherly goodness."

The holy person sees a storm on the horizon of life, and rather than give themselves over to fear and despair (natural and understandable reactions), regards the gathering winds as an opportunity to rely more fully on God. The holy person takes a bad situation and sanctifies it with charity and understanding that defies our fallen human nature.

Peter's mother-in-law was still in the throes of a fever when Jesus grasped her hand. It wasn't until she took his hand and allowed him to help her up that "the fever left her and she waited on them." Before the fever could leave her, she had to commit to holiness – to put her trust in him in a most audacious way. She had to find it within herself to lift her weakened hand to grasp his – and as soon as she did, she was rewarded. Her bodily health restored, she gave thanks, and attended to his needs.

God's hand is always outstretched to us. Will we take it, even if the fever of sin and pride and worldly concerns rages in our souls? Will we muster the strength? Will we be audacious enough to have confidence in His Fatherly goodness?

– Tracy Earl Welliver, MTS ©LPi

GOSPEL MEDITATION

If I only knew then what I know now, how different life would be. This sentiment, expressed in myriad ways, is found on every human being's lips at one point or another. Life may have brought us to a vulnerable place where we see some of the poor choices we made and the effects they are having. Perhaps we fell into some destructive and dysfunctional relationships or behaviors and are finding how they held us captive. Our zeal and passion for life may have drifted away and we are waking up to the reasons apathy has taken hold. Life can be hard. In fact, some would describe their lives as a drudgery. They walk through each day with an anxious unsettledness, wondering when their restlessness will cease. There is a temptation to believe that what I see is all I will get. Mortality and hopelessness await the dawn. If I could only have known what would come in the future, I could have made better choices and avoided all of this misery!

Really? While we can certainly give into weakness, sin, impulsiveness, and idiosyncrasies that cause us to stumble over ourselves, life is really a journey. If we don't make the mistake of wallowing in the mire of self-pity and realize the new life God is calling us to, then there are thrills, adventures, surprises, and soul-searching graces we can surely miss. We are not tethered to our past nor are we bound to the ills life can bring upon us. We are never hopeless or helpless. The problem is that our myopic vision only allows us to see the misery and misfortune that is before us, not the potential that can come from choosing healthier and more life-giving options. Jesus came that we might have fullness of life. We need to learn how to reach for Jesus' hand and let him help us to our feet.

We need to allow God into our pain and heal our past. We have to wrestle with our histories, agonize and search and cry out for the Divine healing we need to restore our faith, hope, and love. Job could not see how his story would end or trust the guidance of the God who called him. We live in that same blindness and suffer from the same lack of confidence. Once we allow ourselves to be touched by God's healing power, we begin to see that all of the pieces of our lives are necessary parts of a greater whole. Along the way of our lives, God uses our omissions and failures to create new things and possibilities. When doors close, others open and we can be amazed by the joyful and unexpected surprises we receive. Once we know the power of God's creative, healing, life-giving, forgiving, and dynamic presence, it is no wonder we want to put ourselves at the service of others and show them what life can be. ©LPi

GLORIA

ALL: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you, we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

FIRST READING: Jb 7:1-4, 6-7

Job spoke, saying: Is not man's life on earth a drudgery? Are not his days those of hirelings? He is a slave who longs for the shade, a hireling who waits for his wages. So I have been assigned months of misery, and troubled nights have been allotted to me. If in bed I say, "When shall I arise?" then the night drags on; I am filled with restlessness until the dawn. My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle; they come to an end without hope. Remember that my life is like the wind; I shall not see happiness again. The Word of the Lord.

ALL: Thanks be to God.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM Ps 147:1-2, 3-4, 5-6

R. (cf. 3a) Praise the Lord, who heals the brokenhearted.

Praise the LORD, for he is good;
sing praise to our God, for he is gracious; it is fitting to praise him.
The LORD rebuilds Jerusalem; the dispersed of Israel he gathers.

R. Praise the Lord, who heals the brokenhearted.

He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds.
He tells the number of the stars; he calls each by name.

R. Praise the Lord, who heals the brokenhearted.

Great is our Lord and mighty in power; to his wisdom there is no limit.
The LORD sustains the lowly; the wicked he casts to the ground.

R. Praise the Lord, who heals the brokenhearted.

SECOND READING: 1 Cor 9:16-19, 22-23

Brothers and sisters: If I preach the gospel, this is no reason for me to boast, for an obligation has been imposed on me, and woe to me if I do not preach it! If I do so willingly, I have a recompense, but if unwillingly, then I have been entrusted with a stewardship. What then is my recompense? That, when I preach, I offer the gospel free of charge so as not to make full use of my right in the gospel. Although I am free in regard to all, I have made myself a slave to all so as to win over as many as possible. To the weak I became weak, to win over the weak. I have become all things to all, to save at least some. All this I do for the sake of the gospel, so that I too may have a share in it.

The Word of the Lord.

ALL: Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL: Mk 1:29-39

On leaving the synagogue Jesus entered the house of Simon and Andrew with James and John. Simon's mother-in-law lay sick with a fever. They immediately told him about her. He approached, grasped her hand, and helped her up. Then the fever left her and she waited on them. When it was evening, after sunset, they brought to him all who were ill or possessed by demons. The whole town was gathered at the door. He cured many who were sick with various diseases, and he drove out many demons, not permitting them to speak because they knew him. Rising very early before dawn, he left and went off to a deserted place, where he prayed. Simon and those who were with him pursued him and on finding him said, "Everyone is looking for you." He told them, "Let us go on to the nearby villages that I may preach there also. For this purpose have I come." So he went into their synagogues, preaching and driving out demons throughout the whole of Galilee. The Gospel of the Lord.

ALL: Praise to you Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God,
begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation he came down from heaven,

(At the words that follow, up to and including "and became man," all bow)

and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,
and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day
in accordance with the Scriptures.

He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son,
who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.

ACT OF SPIRITUAL COMMUNION (For those who cannot be present)

My Jesus, I believe that You are present in the Most Holy Sacrament. I love You above all things, and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot at this moment receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.
