29th Sunday in Ordinary Time

October 20, 2024

For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.

Mk 10:45

Society, at any age, can never get away from the problem posed by status and rank. It was no different in the time of Jesus. The old controversy about who was the greatest surfaces once again amongst the apostles. This time James and John are requesting favored treatment from Jesus. It was no small honor they were demanding while ever looking the suffering involved in Christ's passion and death. With an eye to the future they were aiming at being part of Christ's inner circle, sitting beside him at his right and left hand in glory.

After calming the indignation of the other apostles created by James' and John's naked bid for promotion over their heads, Jesus clearly spells out a new standard of greatness and status, stating that success in his kingdom is not measured by worldly standards. There is no place in his community for ambitious power hungry men who are motivated solely by self interest. Jesus wants his followers to think in terms of service rather than of authority. In any community he wants those who have authority to be seen at the service of those under their guidance. Christ lived what he preached. His whole life, from working as a carpenter in Nazareth, to dying on the cross at Calvary set the example of such service. At the last supper, when he got up from the table, took a towel and basin and washed the feet of the apostles, he highlighted in dramatic form the importance of service. In so doing he was calling on his followers to share in spreading his gospel by giving themselves completely to his way of life.

We serve God best by helping one another. As adults we are all involved in the exercise of authority in some shape or form, whether at home or in our place of work. In leading the way we should be the first to obey the laws that we lay down. There is to be no lording it over those in our care because authority is not for the controlling of people but for the proper guidance of the community. To exercise it properly, a great help is never to lose sight of the importance of service and availability to those under our control for this is a reflection of the life of Jesus in our particular circumstances.

When Christ warned his disciples not to set up worldly power structures within the Christian community, he was very much aware of our human failings. We are all inclined to be selfish and to live for ourselves without showing much concern for others. The attitude of 'What's in it for me?' runs deep in all our hearts. The standard of greatness in his kingdom is the standard of the cross. That's why we never lose sight of the character of service.

Mindful of the words of Jesus, that the greatest is the one who serves, we pray to God our Father for a true spirit of service of service among all people.

God Bless,

John Ed

Mother Angelica's Private and Pithy Lessons from the Scriptures Introduced and Edited by: Raymond Arroyo

Angelica provides readers with guided meditations, probing personal questions, and reveals an often-overlooked practical spirituality. She doesn't just explain the stories, she relates them to our daily lives, helping even those who've never opened the Bible experience its power and life-altering lessons. The apostles Paul ("the little shrimp"), Peter ("that great bungler") and all the characters of the Scriptures are suddenly human again, complete with their foibles and triumphs. Here is the Greatest Story, newly told as only Mother Angelica can. Dewey number 248.48

Divine Will

Book of Heaven, Volume 5, June 16, 1903, Jesus to Luisa:” My daughter, when I give the soul bitterness and tribulations, and the soul conforms to My Will, is grateful to Me, thanks Me for it, and offers it to Me as a gift, for the soul it is bitterness and suffering, but for Me it changes into sweetness and refreshment. But what cheers Me the most and gives Me the most pleasure is to see that the soul - whether it operates or suffers - is all intent on pleasing Me alone, with no other end or motive for recompense. However, what renders the soul more dear, more beautiful, more lovable, and more intimate with the Divine Being is the perseverance in this way of behaving. This renders the soul immutable - like the immutable God.”

A vibrant illustration of a circus scene at night. In the center, a large yellow and red striped tent is illuminated. Above it, a string of colorful triangular bunting (red, orange, yellow, green, blue) hangs across the frame. The background is a dark purple night sky filled with numerous small, glowing yellow and white dots, suggesting stars or distant lights. The overall style is bright and festive.

During the month of October we are entering a special period of reflection and action for our Church's missionary efforts worldwide. World Mission Sunday, is celebrated this Sunday October 20th and is a vital time for all Catholics to support the spread of the Gospel in mission territories. This year's theme, chosen by Pope Francis, is "Go and invite everyone to the banquet," emphasizing our call to bring God's love and message to all corners of the world. The contributions collected on World Mission Sunday are crucial for sustaining the Church's mission in over 1,150 territories where the church is still young or struggling. Historically, the Church in the United States was once a beneficiary of these missionary efforts and now we have the opportunity to give back and support our brothers and sisters around the globe. Let us prepare our hearts and minds to engage fully in this mission throughout the month.

Word Of Life

"I would now like to say a special word to women who have had an abortion. The Church is aware of the many factors which may have influenced your decision, and she does not doubt that in many cases it was a painful and even shattering decision. The wound in your heart may not yet have healed. ...But do not give in to discouragement and do not lose hope. ...The Father of mercies is ready to give you his forgiveness and his peace in the Sacrament of Reconciliation." Calvary -The Focal Point of History

Imagine being God. You made a planet of humans with free will. You wanted fellowship but they exercised their free will and ignored you, did things you forbade. If you loved them, you would redeem them. What would that require? That depends on how heinous their rebellion was? God viewed it heinously! The penalty was death, then hell... unless God's judgment could be satisfied another way.

We learn about 'another way' after Adam and Eve left Eden. Cain brought a grain sacrifice, but God rejected it. There was no repentance. Abel, brought a lamb sacrifice, accompanied with repentance. God accepted it. From then, Adam's descendants understood that expiation involved sacrifice – the death of one for the life of another. A substitute. The nation of Israel gained freedom from 400 years bondage in Egypt by the sacrifice of the Passover Lamb.

At Solomon's temple dedication on Passover, 22,000 oxen and 120,000 sheep were sacrificed. Imagine that scene. Another sacrifice (to escape death and hell) is celebrated since the Last Supper. Jesus said 'this is my body which is given up for you.... This is the new covenant in my blood. All of you drink of it to remember me.' How many have taken communion since then? Just as we can't ignore 142,000 sacrificed animals? we can't ignore the sacrifice at Calvary. The Eucharist is central in Mass.

Communion is our invitation to forsake things He died to expiate. We receive it with repentance. To continue our sin, we dishonor His sacrifice. His cross is laying down His life. Our cross is laying down ours. We take on new life when we lay down our old one. Every sacrifice from Abel to the cross is about Jesus and us. What could be more personally relevant? Calvary is history's focal point.

La Iglesia sabe cuántos condicionamientos pueden haber influido en vuestra decisión, y no duda de que en muchos casos se ha tratado de una decisión dolorosa e incluso dramática. Several Embera children already died from severe malnutrition. We are trying to implement a food supply chain. Please open your heart and sponsor a child.

Also, we are in the process of registering our Non-Profit Organization. We need volunteers. Students will also be welcome & will earn credit hours. We are in need of a small facility to establish our office with free or very low rent. Email: jmb@savetheemberachildren.org
