17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

To contact Fr. Stanbery, please use his cell phone (419-591-6550). The landlines are not consistently working at rectory and church. We are reaching out for alternative options for new phone system.

If you have a loved one who is a parishioner in a nursing home and who is in some danger of death, or having surgery, please contact Fr. Stanbery on his cell phone: (419-591-6550).

Father Stanbery will continue to stream the 10:30 Mass every Sunday until further notice.

Your spiritually adopted baby is developing quite beautiful now. Her weight is approaching 2 pounds. She sits up straight now to accommodate her internal organs which have moved into their final place in her little body. Babies born prematurely at the time have a very good chance of surviving. The medical advances in caring for extremely small newborn infants are extraordinary indeed. Don't forget to pray for your baby. Abortion is legal through all nine months and her mom might still feel pressure to abort.

The Faithful will continue to be dispensed from the Sunday Obligation of attending Mass, but we will be celebrating our normal Mass at the normal times.

Kyrie eleison, down the road that I must travel.

The Greek words Kyrie eleison are some of the most ancient – and powerful – words of the Christian liturgy: “Lord have mercy,” typically we find these words in the penitential rite where the church asks God’s mercy and forgiveness. But these words are not just for penance, they are words of life and encouragement to the weary soul. It’s as if we are saying, “Look kindly upon me.” This call for mercy is not just directed toward God: it is also part of the fabric of our relationships with ourselves and the world. We can look kindly upon ourselves, instead of berating ourselves for what we didn’t get done. We can look kindly upon those around us filled with fear and hatred. We can look kindly upon the fragile earth and God’s good creation. How is mercy calling you?
