Table of Plenty

Suggested food donations for March are peanut butter, soups and ramen noodles. Please place your donations in the marked box in the Marian Room of St. Benedict Church.

As a strictly precautionary measure and out of an abundance of concern and caution, Bishop Jeffrey Monforton has decided that, effective immediately,

1. The shaking of hands during the exchange of the sign of peace will be suspended. It is suggested we say "peace be with you" to those around us.
2. Distribution of the Precious Blood via the chalice will be suspended.

Therefore, only the Eucharistic Minister helping to distribute the Host (B) will be scheduled in the bulletin. Altar Servers, Lectors, and Ushers will still be scheduled, and are asked to volunteer for Holy Week and Easter Masses.

Please pray for all God's children who are ill, home-bound or in nursing homes, and those who care for them.

Pro Life

We need to protect the weak and innocent from infanticide... The Born-Alive Abortion Survivors Protection Act failed in the Senate at the end of February. This act would require proper medical care for infants who survive abortion and set criminal consequences for health care providers who violate the law. Only three Democrats voted with Republicans to pass this protection. Senator Portman voted for the act and Senator Brown voted against protection for survivors. Some abortion supporters deny the existence of born-alive survivors but you can see for yourself through the internet that this is not true. Melissa Ohden, founder of the Abortion Survivors Network has been in contact with at least 202 survivors. You can see their stories on YouTube and healthimpactnews.com, as well as the dailysignal.com.

READINGS FOR THE FOURTH SUNDAY OF LENT

March 22, 2020

The scripture readings challenge us to confront our own blindness, our own failure to acknowledge Christ as the light of our world. As we prepare our hearts to celebrate the sacred mysteries, let us ask the Lord for mercy for the times we have been blinded by self-ambition and greed.

The readings focus on conversion from darkness to light. The New Testament reading focuses more directly to the gospel theme. In the reading from Ephesians, Paul reminds his community that before they knew Christ, they lived in the darkness of sin. But now that they are baptized, they must live as Children of the light, doing what is good and right and honest. Paul believes baptism should make a radical difference in our lives.

The gospel story begins with the healing of a blind man. But the dialogue which follows leads us to focus on spiritual sight. The blind man accepts the free gift of Jesus and receives both physical and spiritual sight. Those who reject the power of Jesus remain spiritually blind. In their blindness, they refuse to “see” who Jesus is (“We know he is not a man of God.”)

In contrast, the blind man, now healed by Jesus, insists simply, “I do know one thing; I was blind and now I can see.” The story’s climax comes with the statement of faith, “Yes, Lord, I do believe.”

1 Samuel 16:1, 6-7, 10-13

From that day on, the Spirit of the Lord rushed upon David.

Remember a time when you experienced the Holy Spirit directing you.

Ephesians 5:8-14

You were once darkness, but now you are light in the Lord.

What “darkness” do you need to be freed from?

John 9:1-41

One thing I do know is that I was blind and now I see.

Who in your experience has helped you break out of the “blindness” of sin?

In her autobiography, The Story of My Life

(published as a series in the 1902 Ladies' Home Journal), Helen Keller described her own experience of being set free from interior darkness. A childhood illness left her deaf and blind at 19 months, and her next few years were filled with angry outbursts and frustrated fits of violence against those who were at a loss as to how they could best help her. Said Keller, “I got used to the silence and the darkness that surrounded me and forgot that it had ever been different until she came – my teacher – who was to set my spirit free. Thus, I came up out of Egypt and stood before Sinai and a power divine touched my spirit and gave it life. From that sacred moment, I heard a voice which said, ‘Knowledge is love and light and vision!’” Although Keller never regained her sight or her hearing, she went on to experience the beauties and mysteries of life with such clarity that she was able to share what she called her “soul’s sudden awakening” with others. In her blindness, she has helped many to see; in her deafness, she has enabled many to hear.

Like the man born blind featured in today’s Gospel, Keller’s life experience continues to witness to the One by whose words and works every darkness can be illumined. The blind man, too, came out of “Egypt” or out from the exile in which his blindness had relegated him. At Jesus’ word, he began to know a dignity and a freedom that had previously eluded him. He saw, he believed and he emerged from his physical blindness as well as from his spiritual darkness. His experience, as well as that of Helen Keller, invites us to turn with renewed trust to the One whose life, whose dying and whose rising can illumine our darknesses.

Jesus’ healing of the blind man in the Gospel brought light and renewed hope into the man’s darkened life. Drawn out from his blindness, the man began to see and to believe in Jesus. His sight and his faith challenge us to leave behind our personal darkness and to live in the light of Christ. Such a decision is not without risk. When the man was blind, he was pitied and ignored by others; in his “helplessness,” he posed no threat. But the gift of sight and his willingness to use it made him both a target and a threat in the eyes of those who refused to see and believe in Jesus.

Are we willing to follow Jesus into the light?

Pastor's Letter

Obviously with things changing by the hour this week, this letter was composed with what information was available by Friday morning, March 13th. Please refer to our website, where I plan to keep more up-to-date messages: www.christourlightparish.com.

Welcome to Bishop Monforton and thank you for offering this week's 10:30 a.m. Mass. Thank you for enabling us to participate in a very personal way with the 75th Anniversary of our Diocese of Steubenville! This is still a lively weekend to be here. Liturgically, we have the Presentation of the Creed for participants in the steps of RCIA and the Lenten Vocations Crucifix at the end of Mass.

Please note that at this point we plan to continue with our 1) current Mass schedule at both St. Benedict Church and Sts. Peter & Paul Oratory. We will also continue with 2) Stations of the Cross on Wednesdays at Sts. Peter & Paul in Lore City at 6:30 p.m. and on Fridays at St. Benedict Church at both 2:00 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. We need this devotion especially at this time. And, we will plan to continue 3) Eucharistic Adoration on Wednesdays (though the location might move to St. Benedict Church rather than the Adoration Chapel to allow for truer “social distancing”). I will be contacting our Adoration participants to assure we have sufficient coverage at each hour and if not then we would cancel. Again, please refer to messages online for updates about Adoration as well.

What are ways to keep connected with the Mass and other key prayer events while at home?

For the Mass, some options for viewing at home either on TV or by internet include the Basilica of St. Mary's in Marietta, their Sunday 10:00 a.m. Mass as a “webcast.” You can find that at <http://stmarysmarietta.org/webcast/>. For the early birds, you can watch Fr. Paul Fagan, who conducted our parish mission last year in February, or other Passionist Fathers each Sunday at 7:30 a.m. on WWHO, Channel 53, the local CW affiliate. For daily Mass or more Sunday Mass options, you can go to either EWTN on the local cable systems or at their website [www.ewtn.com]. Their daily Masses, Monday through Friday, can be seen at Midnight, 8:00 a.m., Noon and 7:00 p.m. and their weekend/Sunday Mass at 8:00 a.m., Noon and 7:00 p.m. on Saturday and 8:00 a.m. and Noon on Sunday.

This is also the DPSC Drive weekend. Please stay posted to information about this year's DPSC especially at our website.

May the Lord help us all to journey together ever more filled with hope, open to the renewing presence of the Holy Spirit, and always ready for the gift of eternal life.
