Join the Pro-Life Committee of our parish to help us defend all the vulnerable people: the unborn, the disabled, the elderly. Contact: Joyce Day (740-584-3780)

For 48 years, abortion has been "legal" in the USA through all 9 months of pregnancy. Think of all the people you know who are 48 and younger... these people are survivors of the abortion culture. They could have easily joined the 61+ million unborn humans who were aborted. How is God calling me to use my talents to speak out for the most vulnerable among us, the voiceless unborn children made in His image?

SCRIPTURE READINGS FOR THE FIFTH SUNDAY OF EASTER

May 2, 2021

As disciples of Jesus we are called to bear much fruit for the sake of the kingdom. Sometimes the distractions of the world keep us from loving and serving our Lord. As we gather to celebrate the holy mysteries, let us seek pardon for the times we sinned against God and our neighbors.

The mission of the Church is to give witness to the Risen Lord through preaching and by the good works that we do.

The readings from Acts of the Apostles tell us that Saul, a former persecutor of the Church, has become a believer. United with Christ, he is able to preach with great power, and more and more people come to believe. The Gospel tells us that we can do this, but all good works can be accomplished only if we are united intimately with him. John uses the image of a vine and branches to show that our very lives as Christians are dependent on the life of Christ. Being united to him means living by his words and doing his work.

Acts of the Apostles 9:26-31: Barnabas reported to the Apostles how Saul has seen the Lord.

Describe a time when you experienced God's presence. What was the situation and how did it impact your life?

1 John 3:18-24: Those who keep His commandments remain in Him, and He in them.

How well do I love my neighbor? What must I do to be in keeping with the commandment?

John 15:1-8: Whoever remains in me and I in him will bear much fruit.

What must I do in order that I might remain in the Lord? Who is the neighbor I must love and how does the Lord help me to love that neighbor?

Next Sunday's readings for the 5th Sunday of Easter, in the midst of this joyful Easter season, have a significant depth to them.

On the one hand, our readings warn and exhort us: we are to walk in fear of the Lord, as the earliest Christian disciples were described as doing in Acts, chapter 9, in the First Reading; we also need to be aware that our hearts might "condemn" us, as St. John notes in his First Letter, chapter 3, in our Second Reading; and we are to accept words from Jesus that will help to prune us in order to glorify the Father through bearing fruit for Him.

These could seem to us to be themes more appropriate for the season of Lent. These readings, however, have much content that draw us into the joy, confidence and faithfulness of the Resurrection.

The early Church is described as being at peace throughout the Holy Land, that the disciples and apostles were boldly proclaiming the name of Jesus and that the Church as a whole was experiencing "the consolation of the Holy Spirit." The Holy Spirit also helps us to "remain in him, and he in [us]," as we read in St. John's First Letter. And, with confidence in Jesus, He is the one who enables us to bear fruit since He is the true vine, as St. John says in next week's Gospel, from John, chapter 15.

The warnings and exhortations within these readings ultimately point us to the wonderfully personal meaning of the Easter message. God is warning and exhorting us not to add a space of intimidation between God and us. Rather, these warnings and exhortations are calling us to open our eyes and hearts to something so wonderful that we might struggle to accept it. God wants to renew more tangibly or to begin for the first time a very real and personal relationship with us. The Lord wants to draw us more closely into a relationship of faithfulness and joy that both gives peace to us and to others around us and bears fruit in inner confidence and in boldly acknowledging God's just actions.

Jesus wants to help us to be dynamic disciples, not in a wild-eyed sense, but with a security and peace that come from being alive in Him who is the true vine. May He who feeds us with His very body and blood help us to abide in Him and He in us – both throughout our lives here on earth and in the eternal life with Him to which He is guiding us each day!

Pastor's Letter

Last Saturday's first gathering of the "Holy Hikers" was very enjoyable to me. We leisurely walked the trail to the Stone House at Salt Fork State Park. One of the hikers provided a map of the various kinds of wildflowers in bloom along that mostly wooded, hillside trail. I learned about Dutchman's Breeches, Virginia Bluebells, May apples and many more. I'm already looking forward to Sunday afternoon on May 23rd for our next opportunity. Since some families with younger children have expressed interest, we will plan for a trail that can be navigated by a full range of hikers.

This past Monday and Tuesday, we hosted a two-day diocesan retreat gathering at Sts. Peter & Paul in Lore City. This was for five pastors of our Diocese to learn about approaches to parish renewal. It was an encouraging gathering to consider ways for our parishes to gain a more dynamic focus, shifting our emphasis "from maintenance to mission." We spend a lot of time in our ministry as pastors on some of the "nickels and noses" aspects of parish life. The approaches we focused on during that gathering have an emphasis on the "mission" of being parishes alive in Jesus.

I am looking forward to sharing with our various parish groups, ranging from our choirs to advisory councils to outreach groups, the vision expressed in that gathering. This will be unfolding over several months. We would have support and interaction with other parishes, too, which is another component of enabling more dynamic renewal of our parishes to happen.

This past week's gathering also had an emphasis on renewal of my own relationship with the Lord to then help me as a pastor to remain better grounded in my prayer life. For me, it was an opportunity for a renewed personal connection with the Holy Spirit. I am definitely looking forward to seeing how the Holy Spirit will guide enlivening various aspects of ministry and parish life.

This time of year, as many of you are working on lawns and in gardens, please note that we will be reviewing our cemeteries and their needs. I am grateful for the many who have been keeping an eye on the many maintenance needs of our cemeteries. Our cemetery Regulations and Prices are due for review. You can see them at our parish website at this address:

<https://www.christourlightparish.com/Cemetery>.

Additionally, several parishioners have asked about the possibility of a mausoleum at one of our three cemeteries.

That is certainly worth weighing. There are some possible locations, such as near the Sacred Heart statue (currently under repair) at our St. Benedict Mt. Calvary Cemetery. New signage to our Sts. Peter & Paul Cemetery is being planned as is additional work on straightening many of the headstones at our Holy Trinity Mt. Calvary Cemetery in Byesville. Do we need a cemetery advisory council/committee?!

May the Lord help us to experience the transforming power of God's love and mercy. Happy Easter!
