23rd Sunday in Ordinary Time

From the time we are born into this world until we die, our human radar picks up signals about how to respond to life. What we picked up on when we were very young carries an even greater power. The messages we receive and process tell us what we are "supposed" to do with our feelings, how to understand and cope with disappointment, anxiety, failure, death, illness, and what to expect out of life. As life unfolds for us, these radar messages kick in and resonate in us at very deep levels. Sometimes what we have learned is helpful and sometimes it is not. The stories we have been told, especially when we are young, about how life is best lived and how to negotiate its pain carry a heavy weight.

Life can be challenging and frightening. Sometimes, it really hurts to be a human being. It also can be quite unpredictable and, at times, unfair. We face our vulnerability and brokenness of all kinds: physical, emotional, and spiritual. It doesn't take much for life to quickly fall apart. What we knew to be familiar and true is gone and something we relied upon, physically, emotionally, or spiritually, can be taken away. It is hard to confront our limitations and sit with our incompleteness. Often, life hurts us so much that we find ourselves sitting in a pool of sadness, not sure what we are supposed to do. It is particularly hard when the signals we have inherited tell us that we need to be successful in what we do, and we have to avoid life's unfairness. We can feel like a failure, wondering what precisely we did to deserve this fate, or ruminate about what we did not do correctly. But it's really not about us. We are part of a bigger picture and a much more fascinating story!

If we cease doing battle with life's incompleteness and see ourselves, as God does, on a journey toward wholeness and completeness we can better accept our disappointments and stand firm. The prophets told us, and Jesus reassured us: Be strong! Fear not! Sometimes we have to update our stories and replace them with newer, more accurate ones. When we make God's story our own and tune our radar into His voice, what we hear is all about restoration, healing, and rejuvenation! This is true even when we think we have hit rock bottom and can go no further. There is always hope. Remember the words of Julian of Norwich: God made us, God loves us, and God keeps us. Now, listen to God when He says, "be opened!" Be healed and allow your stories to change.

Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time 05 September 2021

Isaiah 35:4-7a. Psalm 146:7, 8-9, 9-10. James 2:1-5. Mark 7:31-37.

Be Opened! Jesus heals a deaf and mute man today who immediately speaks plainly. Before the Baptism of adults and after that for babies and children, the Church imitates Jesus with the Ephphetha Rite [EF-fah-thah]. In opening the ears and mouth, we pray for the grace to hear the word of God and to profess it every day.

- To what right behavior do I turn a deaf ear, a closed mouth?
- What needs opening so I may hear the word of God?
- What needs opening so I may speak truth?

Choosing Deafness

If you're a parent, you know that hearing evaluations are usually done at a child's annual physical exam starting around age four. The little person gets hoisted up onto the exam table, fitted with a pair of special headphones, and then they need raise their hand when they hear a sound.

I bet all of us parents who have sat through one of these tests with a preschooler — especially a particularly strong-willed one — have experienced a moment where we ask ourselves: I wonder if there's something wrong with her hearing. Is that why she doesn't listen to me? 'Come here, put on your shoes, pick up your toys, finish your carrots, don't touch that' — she isn't being naughty, she just can't hear it!

And then that moment, for those of us whose kids passed the hearing test with flying colors, comes crashing down into a realization that, yep, they can hear just fine. They're just choosing deafness.

But how can we really get mad when we remember that we do the same thing to God day in and day out? I often wonder if God, sitting in His Heaven, tires of calling to us in the same way young parents tire of calling out unheeded directions to their small children. Help that person. Hear My voice. Open your heart. Give of yourself here. Talk to Me.

What is the call He wishes you to hear today? Can you hear it? Are you listening?

Prayer for Labor Day

On this weekend, when we rest from our usual labors, loving Father, we pray for all who shoulder the tasks of human labor—in the marketplace, in factories and offices, in the professions, and in family living.

We thank you, Lord, for the gift and opportunity of work; may our efforts always be pure of heart, for the good of others and the glory of your name.

We lift up to you all who long for just employment and those who work to defend the rights and needs of workers everywhere.

May those of us who are now retired always remember that we still make a valuable contribution to our Church and our world by our prayers and deeds of charity.

May our working and our resting all give praise to you until the day we share together in eternal rest with all our departed in your Kingdom as you live and reign Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, one God, forever and ever. Amen.

*“Come to me,
all you who labor
and are burdened,
and I will give you rest.”*

23rd SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

The stonecutter

Once there was a stonecutter who was very unhappy with his work and life.

One day he passed by a wealthy merchant's house. Through the open gateway, he could see the rich man's many beautiful possessions and important guests. "How powerful that merchant must be!" thought the stonecutter. "How I wish I could live such a life." Suddenly, the stonecutter became the merchant, enjoying the luxuries and more power than he had ever dreamed of possessing. But he soon found himself detested and envied by his poor friends.

Soon a high official of the king passed by, carried in a sedan chair, with a retinue of soldiers and attendants. Even the very wealthy had to bow before the official. "How powerful that official is! I wish I could be such a high official," he thought.

And suddenly, the erstwhile stonecutter became the high official, carried everywhere in a beautifully embroidered sedan chair, with all the people bowing before him. But it was a hot summer day, and he soon became very uncomfortable in the sticky sedan chair. He looked up at the sun, shining brilliantly in the sky, illuminating the entire earth. "How powerful the sun is!" he thought. "I wish I could be the sun."

And immediately, he became the sun, scorching the fields and cursed by farmers and laborers. But a huge black cloud soon moved between him and the earth so that his light could no longer shine. "How powerful that storm cloud is! I wish I could be a cloud."

And suddenly, he became the cloud, flooding fields and villages, despised by everyone. But soon he found himself pushed away by a strong wind. "How powerful a force is the wind! I wish I could be the wind."

And so he became the wind, uprooting trees, plants and homes; as the wind, he was hated and feared. But soon he came up against something he could not move no matter how forcefully he blew against it: a huge, towering stone wall. "How powerful that stone is! I wish I could be a stone."

And then he became the stone, more powerful and stronger than anything on earth. But as he stood there, he heard the sound of hammer and chisel pounding against him and he felt himself being changed. "What could be more powerful than I, the stone?"

He looked down and saw far below him the figure of a stonecutter.

[The Tao of Pooh.]

"Ephphatha" — "openness" of heart and mind and spirit — is the mark of the discipleship. "Ephphatha" is to understand who we are and to realize the good we can do, no matter the degree of "power" we possess. "Ephphatha" is to hear the voice of God in the midst of the noise and distractions that surround us, to sense God's presence when we are overwhelmed by anger, jealousy and disappointment, to see the possibilities we have for bringing God's peace and forgiveness into our lives and the lives of those we love.
