ZACCARIAN APOSTOLATE OF PRAYER

That the order of Clerics Regular of Saint Paul, following the path of holiness traced by St. Anthony Maria Zaccaria, may be fervently committed to listening to the Word of God and be dedicated to our apostolate with its gaze fixed on Jesus Crucified, risen and present in the Eucharist, let us pray We Pray

GOSPEL REFLECTION

“The Spirit drove Jesus out into the desert, and he remained in the desert for forty days, tempted by Satan. He was among wild beasts, and the angels ministered to him.”

Here Jesus is driven to engage in his first of many battles with Satan. Jesus, from the onset, confronts evil head on in his preparation to overcome it again and again in his ministry -- and ultimately at his resurrection from the dead. Satan can not be avoided, dismissed, or circumvented.

In the time of Jesus the desert was a dreadful place that was avoided at all costs. Accordingly, this is where Satan would be sought out -- in a bleak, dangerous, forsaken place deplete of anything pure and upright, full of wild beasts, poisonous snakes, fugitives and thieves. In this setting Jesus does not simply cross paths with Satan; where Jesus is tested by Satan in a lengthy and arduous battle.

Jesus confronts evil face to face at the very beginning of his ministry. We too should face our demons at the beginning of this season of Lent. Let us not circumvent them. Let us not deny them. Let us confront them with the driving force of the Spirit behind us and the Angels of God around us. No matter what wild beasts scare us in the process, let us remember that Jesus is not left to do battle alone -- and neither are we. Our heavenly Father who loves us will protect us in the midst of battle. What must we face this Lent? What successful show-downs will make us stronger and help us to confront future evils in our lives? Do we trust that the protective spirit of Jesus is with us just as God was with him in his desert experience?

THE HOLY FATHER'S INTENTION FOR FEBRUARY 2021
