GOSPEL REFLECTION

Suddenly Jesus himself appears in their midst! In spite of what they now know about the risen Lord, they are terrified and think they are seeing a ghost. “What are you afraid of?” Jesus asks them. He shows them his pierced hands and feet. He invites them to come and touch him. Ghosts do not have flesh and bones. Their fear turns to a mixture of joy and utter astonishment. They can't believe their eyes. Jesus has to ask them to give him something to eat. Ghosts don't eat and Jesus is no ghost, he is no disembodied soul. There is also an emphasis that death is not an escape from the body but that the whole person goes into the next life.

Jesus then goes on to explain, as he did with the Emmaus disciples, how all that had happened to him was fully in harmony with and the fulfilment of the Law, the prophets and psalms.

And out of Christ's suffering, death and resurrection comes the mission to proclaim reconciliation with God through Jesus to the whole word. “You are witnesses to this.” It is their mission to carry on the establishment of the Kingdom throughout the world.

Or, as it is put here, “that repentance, for the forgiveness of sin, would be preached in the [Messiah's] name to all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem”.

The Kingdom is being realized when people go through that process of radical conversion and change of life which brings about a deep reconciliation of each one with God, with all those around them and with themselves, when all divisions fall away, when fear and hostility are replaced with a caring love for each other. As forgiven sinners we carry on the tradition and preach the Kingdom of God, proclaiming freedom for the captives just as the very first apostles did 2,018 years ago!
