GOSPEL REFLECTION

A careful reading of the text indicates that, while Jesus did recognize the possibility of divorce, he distinguished it from divorce and remarriage. He may have had to accept the hardness of people's hearts and concede that in cases of physical danger or emotional violence divorce might be the only answer.

However, if a man divorced and remarried, Jesus maintained that he would be committing adultery against the one to whom he had been joined in one flesh—his former wife.

His injunction ran totally against the culture of the day. In the 'honor' system of the society, the man would not have committed adultery against the woman but against her father or brothers. Women did not rate in the 'honor' hierarchy. It was the honor of the family, specifically the males, which was insulted. It was a radical thing to say that a divorced man who remarried sinned against his wife not her family!

Jesus challenged this cultural stereotype and the issue of the dignity of women and their place in society. He radically rejected both the 'honor' system as well as the view held that women were merely property with no rights.

At the same time he admonished women that if they divorced and remarried they would be held to the same standard as men.

Fr. Dan Young is Pastor of Good Shepherd Parish, Pendleton (Clarence Center), NY. Fr. Dan is also Spiritual Director for WLOF 101.7 FM Catholic radio, Amherst, NY. Fr. Dan is well known around Western New York for his love of ministry and devotion to the Blessed Mother. Fr. Dan first joined the Healing Mass ministry at Fatima Shrine in 1999. We are delighted to have him back again this year to minister to those in need of healing.

Jesus taught many things in the Bible that are hard to accept, things our society would rather not listen to. It takes courage to preach an unpopular message. If you feel the calling to a church listen to. It takes courage to preach an unpopular message. If you feel that calling;
