Fourth Week of Ordinary Time

The readings this week seem to be about healing and call.

This could be the week when we discover what a handicap fear itself is in our life. It may be the reason we don't ask or even reach out to touch Jesus for healing. This may be the week we are being invited to no longer be afraid and to let our Lord love us and heal us. Touching his cloak, without words, may be enough for us.

This week, like so many, can be a time for us to be consciously aware of our being called - placed in a position of being his disciple. In that situation, whatever way the invitation comes to us, we are clearly facing an opportunity to be a source of good news, rather than bad news; to love tenderly, rather than selfishly; to be a gatherer of others, rather than a divider; and to be a source of compassion, rather than a heartless judge. And, when that happens, we can delight in spending a bit more time with Jesus, comforting us for being his disciple there. We can "come away with him" for even a brief moment and give thanks that we had that taste of his ministry, happening through us.

THE WORK OF CHRISTMAS

When the song of the angels is stilled,
when the star in the sky is gone,
when the kings and princes are home,
when the shepherds are back with their flocks.
the work of Christmas begins:
to find the lost,
to heal the broken,
to feed the hungry,
to release the prisoner,
to rebuild nations,
to bring peace among the people,
to make music in the heart.

Thank you to Sr. Pat Duffy for sharing this poem.

Clare House is a community space where we offer direct service to our neighbors facing difficulties of all kinds, and expand our understanding and application of Catholic Social Teaching through the use of Praxis. We employ the "See, Judge, Act" Method to examine pressing social problems.

We strive to build authentic relationships with every individual who walks through the door and commit to journey in solidarity with them. We offer assistance to alleviate immediate needs. Clients receive access to: food pantry, thrift shop, case management, advocacy, information and referral, and other resources.

By utilizing education, advocacy, and community organizing we put our faith in action to address structural issues and eliminate systemic injustice. We feed the hungry and ask why they are hungry.

No Stranger Among Us

By Lucas Sharma, S.J.

*"Today is holy to the Lord your God.
Do not be sad, and do not weep"*

Like the people gathered by Ezra in the first reading, there are many reasons we might weep when we hear the words of the law. Though we profess to be a nation of immigrants, our laws become increasingly more harsh, punitive, and exclusive toward immigrants. Our nation turns to its own security over the common humanity of the stranger among us. We excuse this behavior by calling attention to the need to care for our own, to protect ourselves from the unknown threat, and use the existence of these very laws as the reasons we ought to do nothing. We keep the stranger strange so that we may not know anything that could be called strange among us.

This is troubling to us because it is, in fact, the law that is strange. In the Gospel, in reading the Scriptures, Jesus proclaims that the law has been fulfilled. Yet it is a different law—one directed at liberating captives, bringing glad tidings to the oppressed, and setting captives free. It is a law that says the stranger is welcome—and that someday, we will no longer have a concept of stranger because we will all be one human family. It is our aspiration—the community we are called to build.

Ezra read from the authentic law—the law of God—the law that said that if we are together, we will not be sad but will rejoice. In our rejoicing, we will allot portions to those who had nothing prepared. We will give to the one called stranger so that we will no longer have any strangers. In the hearing of this law we will see that the law of God, these are spirit and life. And we will rejoice and build a more inclusive community.

We are invited to turn our hearts to those in our lives—the living Ezra or Jesus among us—so that we will be ready to rejoice, to sort out the broken law of humans from the living law of God, so that all might thrive and be fulfilled. And, in that day, not only will we rejoice, but we will be one. We won't need to keep the stranger strange because in fact no one will be ever considered strange again.

2019 Parish Social Ministry Survey

Social Ministry is about identifying the issues in front of us (the signs of the times), reflecting on those issues in the light of our faith (scripture, Catholic Social Teaching, social analysis), and making a determination about how God is calling us to act!

We want to know...

What are the most important issues for us to consider in 2019?

What local, national, and global problems are most relevant and feel most critical to you?

What problems do you face in your own life?

Submit Response Here:

<http://tiny.cc/2019PSMsurvey>

At it's best the Gospel is meant to challenge but also to empower! The good news is that God is on the side of justice, peace, and prosperity for all. We are called to be co-creators with God in building the Kingdom, the beloved community, here on earth.

No one can do this work alone but together we can accomplish all our most sacred dreams for a better future.

In solidarity,

Justin McMahon and the PSM Team

Reflection

In today's first reading, God calls Jeremiah to be His voice in the world. In today's society, it is not always easy to stand up for what is right – but fear not! God is with us as He was with Jeremiah.

Living Stewardship

We are grateful this week for all stewards in our parish who listen to the voice of God in their lives and answer His call by standing up for the poor and the marginalized. In doing so, they become the voice of God in the world.

FUNDRAISING COMMITTEE SEEKS HELPERS FOR PARISH/COMMUNITY EVENTS

Our Fundraising and Social Activities Committee is interested in developing more fun parish and community-centered events for our parishioners to enjoy, while also raising some money in the process. They have some good ideas, but would like extra sets of hands to help make them a reality.

Do you have a knack for organizing or decorating? Are you the family party planner? Do you enjoy meeting others while serving food or refreshments? Or, maybe you are the neighborhood helper, the one they call when they need assistance bringing tables up from the basement or the friend who helps with the set-up and clean-up for summer barbecues and graduation parties? Perhaps you are the mom or dad who helps out at the school plant sale, the holiday boutique or field day — if so, we welcome your gifts and your energy!

Please contact Lori Zito in the Parish Office at 631-475-4506, ext. 115 or email to lzito@stsylvesterli.org if you are able to lend us your hands and your fun-loving spirit for these events.
