Today we celebrate the kingship of Christ to remind us of the reverence owed to the Lord. He is merciful, but ever just; He is human, but divine; He is meek, but mighty in His judgments. Let us serve Him with all our hearts.

TODAY'S READINGS

1st Reading: Ezekiel 34: 11-12, 15-17 - Jesus proclaimed Himself the Good Shepherd. He borrowed this expression from today's first reading from Ezekiel. Ezekiel points out that the Lord will judge between sheep and sheep: He will heal the sick and injured, but He will destroy the sleek and strong. This means He will care mercifully for the humble, but will destroy the self-satisfied who are puffed with pride.

2nd Reading: 1 Corinthians 15: 20-26 - Through baptism and Eucharist, we become living members of the one glorious Body of Christ. Christ has risen from the dead. Because of our union with Him, we must rise also on the last day. Christ will triumph over all enemies, no matter how powerful, through His resurrection.

Gospel: Matthew 25: 31-45 - Today's gospel is the Last Judgment. The basis of judgment is whether we have daily practiced the spiritual and corporal works of mercy. Because of the union between Christ and His members, whatever we do -- or fail to do -- to them, that we do to Christ Himself.

Today's Reflection: Action Matter

Michelangelo's amazing painting, The Last Judgment, takes up the whole of one wall of the Sistine Chapel. It is a reminder of the dramatic moment of Christ's Second Coming, when he will judge the living and the dead. The Father has given all authority to the Son (John 5:22). Michelangelo places in the upper register the symbols of Christ's passion as a way to highlight the instruments of Christ's victory and ours, as well as to show that it was through his loving sacrifice that he has earned the authority to judge the living and the dead. Christ comes riding on the clouds with his Mother at his side, head turned and eyes cast down, as the days of her intercession have come to an end. Our chance to appeal to his mercy has passed. We will stand naked before him, and our actions will be the gown that dresses us for the feast of the Lamb (Matthew 22:11). Jesus, in his mercy, wants no surprises and personally reveals the material to be covered by this final exam. Today's passage highlights that our charity and kindness will go a long way toward him recognizing us at the last day. Scripture even goes so far as to say that this "love covers a multitude of sins" (1 Peter 4:8). Those who know his love and spread it with their actions will be preparing themselves for a blessed judgment. Jesus makes it clear that our faith will also be a theme upon which he will search our hearts. He desires not mere words, but loving listening and the heeding of his will. "Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of my Father in heaven" (Matthew 7:21). This is a great source of consolation for those who love him sincerely, even if imperfectly. + ~Fr. Mark Haydu, LC

A Word from Pope Francis

The kingdoms of this world at times are sustained by arrogance, rivalries, and oppression; the reign of Christ is a “kingdom of justice, love and peace.” For a Christian, speaking of power and strength means referring to the power of the cross, and the strength of Jesus’ love: a love which remains steadfast and complete.

Reflection Questions

- Am I ready for that final exam?
- What should I do today in order to be ready for the loving return of Jesus?
